Tanks near trains here—how safe?

The Illinois Commerce Commission has been asked by Granite City to order improvement of railroad tracks and the rail bed in the vicinity of the West Ponton Road rail crossing because of explosive and fire dangers posed by the location of five oil tanks near the road crossing.

Mayor Paul Schuler that a dangerous condition exists near the West Ponton Road crossing.

Flees with bike, child

A woman, about 28 to 30 years old with long brown hair, escaped on a bicycle with a small child riding in a back seat at 3:10 p.m. Tuesday, after being stopped for allegedly attempting to steal items from the Clothes to You store, 6 Crossroads Shopping Center.

An employee said the woman was asked to open her purse after she was observed putting clothing inside.

The woman dropped the purse and a grocery bag, climbed onto a bicycle and rode away, it was related by the employee, who attempted to chase the woman.

She was about five feet, five inches tall and was heavy set, police were told.

The small girl on the back of the bicycle had long blonde hair and was about four years old.

Inside the bag dropped by the woman were two blouses, jeans and a swim suit.

Board unwilling to call for probe

Madison County Board Member Daniel Partney of Granite City was unsuccessful at Wednesday's County Board meeting in having the board urge a county investigation of the Madison County Sheriff's Department personnel. But he did succeed in publicly airing several complaints against deputies, and pledged further action to initiate such an inquiry.

Partney yesterday morning in Edwardsville presented portions of federal transcripts naming a few deputies who allegedly accepted kickbacks and favors from prostitution operators and from businessmen.

He said he felt the transcripts and testimony presented at the June-July 1978 trial of three former Madison officials on racketeering charges should warrant action by both the state's attorney's office and the sheriff's department merit commission.

The documents are part of the court record from the trial of Madison Alderman Ronald Graywacz, suspended police sergeant Richard Krieschok and former policeman Edward Goclan, who face sentencing in federal court in Alton Aug. 25 after being found guilty by a jury of racketeering and perjury.

Partney read several allegations against deputies from trial exhibits, and presented a resolution that the County Board go on record as supporting an investigation by the state's attorney and the merit commission.

A similar proposal by Partney last month to refer the issue to the county

20-year sentence on rape conviction

Jerry L. McCabe, 24, of 3930 Central Lane, was sentenced Tuesday morning to serve 20 years in prison for the Feb. 27 rape of a Granite City girl, and five years for armed violence in connection with the rape.

The prison terms will run concurrently. McCabe was taken Wednesday morning from the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville to Menard State Penitentiary.

His attorneys have 30 days in which to file an appeal with the Fifth District Appellate Court at Mount Vernon.

Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr pronounced the sentence in the Third Circuit court at Edwardsville.

Assistant State's Attorney Stephanie Robbins had sought a 25-year sentence on the rape conviction and seven years on the armed violence conviction.

After the sentencing, Miss Robbins noted that no one has received more than a 20-year sentence on a rape conviction in a Madison County court.

Judge Barr stated his reasons for the sentence—the nature of the offense, injury to the victim, circumstances that she underwent, the serious harm caused, and the necessity to deter others from similar crimes.

His option on the sentencing was six to 30 years.

The judge noted that the sentence is reviewable, and asked the attorneys to advise the defendant that he has 30 days to appeal.

When asked twice by the judge if he had anything to say to the court before sentencing, McCabe replied, "I'll say one thing. I am innocent."

M McCabe was found guilty of rape and armed violence by a jury of eight women and four men on June 29 in a trial that lasted four days in the circuit court at Edwardsville.

The victim was a 20-year-old Granite City girl, attacked Feb. 27 in the front parking area at Granite City High School South as she was walking to college credit classes at the school.

Her assailant struck her on the head with a steel object and grabbed her by the throat, dragging her to the rear of the parking lot.

The girl was forced into the back seat of a vehicle before the rape took place.

After the attack, she ran into the school and called her parents, who took her to a hospital. There, she was examined and also treated for a 1½-inch laceration to the back of her head.

Judge Barr said in his summation that McCabe had been ably defended.

Despite an appeal by defense attorneys that there was no danger of McCabe fleeing, and adequate assurance of his appearance at the appeal hearing, Judge Barr denied bond pending the appeal process. He accepted the state's attorney's recommendation that any future release bond should be set at the Appellate Court hearing.

In arguing that McCabe should be released on bond pending an appeal, Defense Attorney William F. Kinder said McCabe had not been "in and out of jail" and is employed.

"I still believe a gross error has been

Envelopes received had no cash—Maeras

Interviewed by the Internal Revenue Service April 15, 1974, shortly before he won re-election, Madison County Sheriff John Maeras acknowledged possible receipt of envelopes from deputies. He said they contained memorandums but never any money.

The sheriff also told of going on free gambling junkets to Nevada. He said he was accompanied by the same two persons about whom federal authorities questioned Maeras, regarding whether the two had given him envelopes.

The two sides referred to were Captain

John Cooper, currently chief of field operations in the sheriff department, and Madison Alderman Ronald Graywacz, one of three former Madison policemen convicted July 5 of racketeering and perjury.

Both Maeras and Graywacz have told of the latter unofficially representing the former, but their versions differ on the kind of link between them.

The sheriff was asked by the IRS four years ago, "Have you ever had an occasion to take a trip with Ronald Graywacz?"

Maeras responded, "Yeah, yeah."

Q. "Where was that, and when?"

A. "We went to Las Vegas. Well, let's see, Cooper was on a junket and Ronny and I flew out."

"I thought, well, he done a pretty good job, so we just take just a weekend deal, and that was the only time I was out there with Ronny."

"But I was out there on a junket myself."

When, to be honest with you, I can't answer.

"The other time I was out there we went to pick up a prisoner in Frisco and we left a few days earlier to spend about, I think it was two or three days at the Four Queens."

Q. "Where?"

A. "At the Four Queens. This first trip was with me and Ronny. We went to pick up a prisoner in Frisco."

"So we went to Frisco, spent a couple of days in Vegas and then went out to Frisco. But

GC burglary series solved

The arrest of a Granite City man as a suspect in an auto break-in occurring early this month has led to the solving of three armed robberies and 19 burglary cases and thefts from vehicles.

The series of crimes spans the past five years, officials said Wednesday afternoon. A burglary charge has been filed.

Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer reviewed information received from the suspect, providing details of previously unsolved cases starting with the July 19, 1973, robbery of the Bellemeore Bakery, 1735 Ponton Road, in which two men came into the shop and held up the clerk, escaping with a total of $37.

Chief of Detectives Robert Astorian credited Detective Craig Nomm as the officer responsible for establishing a series of conversations with the suspect, after an initial breakthrough leading up to the man's disclosure of previous crimes still on the unsolved list.

The interrogation sessions between Det. Nomm and the man continued after the arrest, with approval of the police department's executive officers and the Madison County state's attorney's office.

The man is scheduled to appear at a preliminary hearing this week.

He is alleged to have committed an auto burglary Aug. 5 involving a vehicle owned by Ben Michel, 2500 Washington Ave., in which the volume and tuning knobs were removed from the car radio.

In recounting his activities to Det. Nomm, the suspect allegedly admitted responsibility for the following 1978 cases:

An auto burglary July 23 when an AM-FM eight-track stereo, a brown leather case and 10 tapes, valued at $168, were stolen from the auto of Ricky Pinkston of St. Louis, while the vehicle was parked in the 2100 block of Cleveland Boulevard.

The July 4 burglary of a 1972 Olds, belonging to Don Smith, 1936 Benton St., in Bar license suspended

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, acting as the city's liquor license commissioner, Tuesday suspended the liquor license of Stieb's Tavern, 2422 Nameoki Road, for seven days as the result of a shooting incident in the tavern Aug. 10.

Granite City police took the tavern's license Aug. 11 and it has been closed since that time, so the mayor's order will expire Thursday night, allowing the tavern to reopen Friday.

Schuler held a license hearing in the city hall Tuesday morning and concluded a seven-day closing would be in the interest of public safety. One week is the maximum time allowed for a license suspension under that section of the law.

After the seven-day period, Mayor Schuler has the option to call for a hearing on a permanent suspension or revocation of the liquor license, if he deems necessary.

City convention costs challenged

The expenditure of "about $15,000 a year" to permit Granite City officials and department heads to attend conventions and conferences throughout the country was challenged during the regular City Council meeting Tuesday night by Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer.

Whitmer told the council that he intends to "become highly selective" as to how he votes on some of the requests for expense money to make such trips, noting that some trips "are for the good of the city."

His statement followed a request by Victor Koenig, director of Granite City's Emergency Services and Disaster

Agency (Civil Defense) for expense funds to attend two conventions, and for additional money so that Mayor Paul Schuler also could attend one of those meetings.

Koenig requested an allocation of $136 to attend a three-day meeting of the Illinois Civil Defense Council Sept. 15, 16 and 17 at Mount Vernon, Ill., and asked for $445 expenses to attend a conference of the United States Civil Defense Council Oct. 8 through Oct. 13 at Mobile, Ala.

In addition, the request included an additional $445 expense funds so that Meet again today on construction stoppage

Contract talks between Southern Illinois building contractors and representatives of 10 laborers union locals resumed today at the Holiday Inn on Route 157 near Collinsville in a continuing effort to settle a strike that has shut down almost all construction projects in 12 Southern Illinois counties.

While Wayne Barber, executive manager of the Southern Illinois Builders Association which represents the contractors in the contract negotiations, has said some significant progress was made in talks earlier this week, some issues including wages and work rules still are in dispute.

The laborers' agreement is the only unsettled contract among crafts unions whose members work on highway and building projects in the 12-county district.

The contract expired at midnight July 31 and the laborers set up picket lines Aug. 1. Members of other unions have not crossed the lines, shutting down an estimated $50 million in construction projects.

Barber said the 10 laborers locals represent a large number of laborers in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe Counties.

Charge two in stabbing here

John Derr, 19, of 2037 Illinois Ave., and Tommy Hughes, 21, of 2717 Roosevelt Ave., were charged with aggravated battery in informational documents issued by the Madison County state's attorney's office Tuesday.

The two are accused of stabbing Gary Lewis, 23, of 2026 Bryan Ave., in Derr's apartment early Monday. Lewis is recuperating from multiple stab wounds and cuts to his chest, back and both arms.

A third man who had been taken into custody after the stabbing has been released after testimony indicated he was only a witness to the incident, police said.

Derr and Hughes first were seen in the 2700 block of Roosevelt Avenue after the stabbing and when police attempted to arrest them it was alleged Derr fired on foot.

Patrolman James Reader fired one warning shot from his service revolver, but Derr continued to flee, he reported.

Reader then twisted a knee chasing the man and had to stop. Derr was found a short time later by another officer hiding under a bush in the 2600 block of West 22nd Street.

Officers secured Derr's apartment which was described as having an extensive amount of blood in it. A bent steak knife also was found on the kitchen floor.

At 8:40 p.m. Monday, Derr's landlord notified police that someone had broken into the apartment and searched it.

The landlord said a man was seen outside the apartment and when asked why he was there, he cursed and threatened the landlord, then went up the stairs to Derr's door and kicked it open.

After searching the apartment, the man left in a large maroon four-door car which had the rear license plate bent down so the numbers could not be seen. Derr was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a stab wound to a hand and was released to police.

Records indicated Derr is on parole from Menard State Penitentiary. Hughes is on probation in another stabbing incident last year.

Per diem pay challenged

Two Township supervisors serving on the Madison County Board's special sewer committee will not be compensated for their efforts in providing sanitary sewers from Nameoki, Chouteau and Venice townships, at least for the time being, the Madison County Board decided yesterday morning.

"Dick" Sparks of Chouteau Township, chairman of the county's special sewer committee, presented bills totaling $492,790 on the sewer project for payment, but separated $240 in per diem payments to committee members from the regular bills.

After the board approved the bulk of the bills, Madison County Board Member Louis Whitsett of Nameoki Township, a member of the special sewer committee, objected to the $40 per diem for Nameoki Township Supervisor Harold Davis and Venice Township Supervisor Chris Paschoff, saying they are not County Board members and should not be paid a per diem for County Board committee meetings.

In question was $40 each for one meeting in July. The other four members of the sewer committee also are County Board members and were assured payment of the per diem from the sewer funds.

Whitsett noted only three members of the six-member sewer committee signed the request for payment of the per diem payments, because of the question whether paying supervisors not on the County Board is legal.

He said he requested an opinion from the Madison County state's attorney's office, but had not received a reply.

Assistant State's Attorney Don Smith assured Whitsett at the board meeting that the question was being researched, but said it appears the supervisors cannot be paid, without special permission of the board.

"There is no problem here, but it would take a specific resolution by the board to pay these people."

"This (board minutes from when the sewer committee was created) says board members shall serve on the committee. It would be improper to pay non-board members per diem without board authorization," Smith concluded.

Whitsett recalled that when the committee was created, the supervisors who were not board members were to serve in an advisory capacity.

Sparks said that during a two-year period when he was a supervisor but not a board member, "I was doing the work as a supervisor to keep this sewer program alive."

He noted the per diem is paid from bond funds the sewer committee has sold and the county is not paying the money from tax funds.

Whitsett noted that only recently did the sewer committee have a ruling entitling its board members to per diem pay, and noted he "served a long time without per diem."

Sparks added he is studying the minutes of past committee meetings and preparing a list of which members attended which meetings, with the intent of paying them for all meetings attended. If there are sufficient funds available in the sewer account after the sewers are completed.

"I am very concerned whether the $5 million we have for the local share of the construction will cover our cost of this program," he concluded.

Board chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City said he feels there has been good cooperation between the committee, contractors, supervisors and board members, which has enabled the sewer construction to begin.

"The job's too big and important to squabble about paying a non-board member who has been working for it," Hagnauer stated.

He suggested Sparks bring an ordinance to the September board meeting authorizing the county to pay non-board members who are on the sewer committee $40 per diem.

A motion to pay only the committee members who are County Board members then was approved, with Sparks abstaining from voting.

Sewer claims approved by the first vote included $469,800 to the S. M. Wilson and G. H. Sternberg construction firm, joint contractors on the project, $15,285 to the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab engineering firm of Granite City, and several smaller claims for lift station site purchases, legal publications and other work.

patrick Homes, suffered a gunshot wound to his right thigh and another man who was believed shot in the right hand is being sought in connection with the incident.

Witnesses alleged the two men got into an argument, produced weapons and began shooting at each other while customers dove to the floor.

Earlier this month, seven-day license suspension notices were served on Rico's 11 and the Upper Level lounges after Mayor Schuler found the suspensions in the public safety.

Schuler also may attend the U.S. Civil Defense Council meeting in Mobile.

Whitmer said: "I think this is a good time for me to explain what my stand is going to be. We've been sending a lot of people to a lot of meetings. Not long ago we sent two people to Washington. And not long ago, Mayor Schuler made a trip to Washington."

"That is good, because we get federal grants and other funds through such trips. I think that the Civil Defense meetings are good, because through these contacts we obtain equipment and government help."

"But we're beginning to get way out. We send everybody everywhere. The police chief goes, the fire chief goes, the aldermen go and the department heads and employees go."

"I would guess the expenses are running us about $15,000 a year. I want everyone to know I'm going to be highly selective about what I vote for. I'm telling you this now so that when I vote you'll know why."

In a roll call vote, Whitmer voted in favor of the requests for funds to attend the Civil Defense meetings.

But when two subsequent expense fund requests were presented later in the meeting, Whitmer was the only alderman to vote "no" on the proposals. All other aldermen present voted in favor of those requests, however, with the expense funds approved in both cases.

These included a request by Fire Chief Don Parente for expenses of $650 to attend the International Conference of Fire Chiefs at Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 9 to 14, and a request for $375 expenses for Street Superintendent Lionel Portelli to attend a management seminar to be given this fall, by Granite City Steel.

the only time that I was out to Vegas with Ronny was the one time."

Q. "Was that in the summer, or the fall, or the winter, or what particular time of the year you went, if you can recall the year?"

A. "I'll tell you, Jim, I can't really recall. I know it was..."

Q. "You and Ronny flew out separately, is that right? You didn't go with Cooper?"

A. "Cooper flew out with us, right."

Q. "Oh, he flew out. This was on a junket?"

A. "On the junket. He was on a junket, but we weren't."

Q. "But he got tied up by, I don't know, a day or two, so he flew out with us."

A. "And we just stayed in his room which, I am sure you are well aware of how these junkets operate, it don't cost you nothing once you are on the junket."

Q. "So the three of you stayed in a room with John Cooper?"

A. "Right, two of us. Three of us all together."

MR. WEHRHEIM: "Two of you; three all together."

Q. "Would that have been in the — during the period 1970, 1971 and 1972?"

A. "To be honest with you, I couldn't tell you."

Q. "Well, it was after you became sheriff, is that right?"

A. "Yeah, yeah, yeah."

Q. "Was it last year? This is '74; '73 is last year."

A. "No, that was the only three times I was out there."

Q. "Three times? You went out with a Rizzi, was it?"

A. "Yeah, we went to pick up a prisoner and we stayed at..."

Q. "You were sheriff then?"

A. "Right, right. It was in February..."

Q. "Was it after..."

A. "No, this was either January, February of '71."

Q. "This would have been right after you became..."

A. "Right after I became sheriff, right."

Q. "This was with Rizzi?"

A. "Right."

Q. "Now was it before or after that you went out there with Cooper and Grzywacz?"

A. "Well, it was after that, after that."

Q. "Would it have been as much as a year after that? Was it after this investigation?"

A. "Yeah, yeah, yeah. And the other time, well, it could have been in '72, the last time."

Q. "I don't really know, but I was out there three times, that's all that I know."

A. "Ronald Grzywacz went out there with you, he was out there with you one time or two times?"

A. "One time, one time."

Q. "Did he gamble when he was there?"

A. "I never seen the boy play, may play a little slot machines. I'm not that type of gambler, either."

Q. "In other words, he didn't go in for the roulette, craps and blackjack?"

A. "I think that he probably all went out there for the same reason, as excuse to..."

Q. "Where did you stay out there?"

A. "We stayed at the International."

Q. "This is the time with Cooper and Grzywacz?"

A. "Right."

Q. "And this will be the Las Vegas..."

A. "I'm sure it was the International because I've only been at the International and the Dunes. I'm sure it was the International."

Q. "Now, you were out there three times?"

A. "Un huh."

Q. "And you stayed at the International and the Dunes, what did you stay..."

A. "Well, I got an invite to go over to the Dunes on the junket, so I took it and went."

Q. "And the other time you were out there?"

A. "The other time we flew out by ourselves."

Q. "And you stayed where?"

A. "At the International."

Q. "So you have had two times at the International?"

A. "No, no, no. The first time we went out there was to pick up a prisoner, and Bob Rizzi and I, and we stayed at the Four Queens."

MR. WEHRHEIM: "Oh, oh."

A. "Four Queens, the time that Cooper and I went out there and Cooper was at the International. Well, then I went on another junket, not with these people, at the Dunes. So I've been out there three times."

Q. "And Cooper wasn't along any of the other — other than that one time either then, right?"

A. "Oh, I think John was — John goes — he goes regular — John was at the last one, too, at the Dunes."

Q. "You recall the order these took place as far as — you went out and picked up the prisoner. As I understand, it was the first time you were at the Four Queens?"

A. "Four Queens, right."

Q. "Second time you went out there was where?"

A. "I wouldn't swear, but I believe it was the International."

Q. "And then the last time you was —"

A. "Was at the Dunes. Now I — it could be vice versa, but I'm reasonably sure it was the International. I couldn't swear to which one."

Q. "Has Ronald Grzywacz ever helped you in any of your political campaigns?"

A. "I hope he has voted for me."

Q. "As far as soliciting funds or anything of this nature?"

A. "Not that I know of, no."

Q. "Has he ever — well take 1970, when you ran for sheriff, did he do any work, as far as you know, in an official capacity with respect to your campaign? Did he have anything to do with that?"

A. "None whatsoever. I think he may have had a sign in his yard, but that's about the extent of it."

Q. "I mean as far as actively participating?"

A. "Participating, no."

Q. "How about the upcoming campaign?"

A. "No."

Q. "You running again this year?"

A. "You guys got me scared to death, Jesus."

MR. WEHRHEIM: "Well, we're investigating Ron Grzywacz, but..."

A. "No, as far as him helping me, no. You're probably talking financially, no."

Q. "Yeah, I mean either giving money himself or else out soliciting the funds from anyone else?"

A. "No, none whatsoever that I know of."

Q. "Have you had any — financial transactions with Ronald Grzywacz?"

A. "None whatsoever."

Q. "You never made him any loans or he loaned you any money?"

A. "None whatsoever."

Q. "How you live, or at least your voting residence, I assume — you live in the county-furnished home at the present time?"

A. "Yeah."

Q. "Prior to becoming sheriff, though, you lived in Madison?"

A. "Yeah, all my life."

Q. "And you live within what, about a block of Ronald Grzywacz?"

A. "About a block, right."

Q. "Do you know Edward Goclan?"

A. "Ed, yeah, yeah. Ed lives across the street from me, well, from where my house is at now."

Q. "We are — of course, I'm bringing this up at this point, we also have an investigation on Edward Goclan for the same years as we have for Ronald Grzywacz. Has Edward Goclan ever been worked for by you or done anything?"

A. "No."

Q. "Has he ever been actively engaged in your campaign in any way?"

A. "Other than I hope voting for me, that's about it."

Q. "Have you had any financial transactions with Edward or Catherine Goclan?"

A. "None whatsoever."

Q. "When I'm talking about financial transactions with Ronald Grzywacz, I'm also including his wife, Valerie."

A. "No, no, either one."

Q. "The investigation that they conducted, Myrene's Okay Cafe, so forth, as I understand it then that Demos Nicholas was the head man on this particular thing and he directed..."

A. "He was my acting chief (deputy); I didn't have a chief when I went in. And, well, I — I was trying to get two people and I'll be glad to tell you them if — if you could shut this off and just make the information."

Q. "If you can shut that off, I'll tell you what their names are that I tried to get to be my chief and I couldn't."

MR. WEHRHEIM: "OK, we'll complete the interview on the tape here. After we turn the tape off at the completion of this interview."

A. "Make a note of that and I'll be glad to tell you OK, so I didn't have any — so I asked Demos."

I asked Demos how about helping me until I get a chief, you know."

Q. "Well, he worked in the other office there for several years and I know him from the City of Madison that he was our city clerk, and by virtue, you know, on the police department."

I don't say I can in contact with him a lot, but I do know that he did take our mug shots for us also and he'd been up there. I understood he done a fairly good job.

"And I said, well, will you help me out until I get a chief. And he agreed and — I relied on him — I really did. I'll be honest with you."

"Working on the police department, it's different than what you got in the county, and I relied solely on him running the department for me."

"Because, like I say, I'm an administrator — I — public relations, I got to get out and try to sell myself, election after election."

A. "Demos Nicholas — well, of course, you're Democrat as far as politics goes?"

A. "Uh huh, uh huh."

Q. "And I understand Demos Nicholas was treasurer of the City of Madison and I understand he was also a Democrat, is that correct?"

A. "Correct."

Q. "This organization, the Democratic organization in Madison County, are they all one big happy family or there certain factions involved? I mean were you and Demos close because?"

A. "Well, we had our differences, but not to the extent that, you know, that it would be any big problem, you know."

MR. WEHRHEIM: "Well, I'm from St. Clair County myself, so I do read in the paper about various factions we have, as the Fieles and Touchette and that kind of thing."

A. "Well, we're talking politics and this is what I can say. I mean —"

"I mean I'm in the middle of a campaign, got two murders I'm trying to solve, I've got a school deal that's they're on my back about this and this kind of."

Q. "But Grzywacz coming into the picture here with John Cooper was to conduct an investigation, gambling, what else?"

A. "Whatever is supposedly illegal in the county."

Q. "Does any of this have to do with any alleged payoffs to any deputies?"

A. "We have never, never come up with anything like that."

Q. "Grzywacz did not become involved with this in any way then at your direction, and of course I'm going to ask a pretty blunt question."

A. "You can either answer it or you know rights as far as possible self-incrimination and so forth."

Q. "Did you ever have Cooper or Mr. Grzywacz solicit funds from any of these places that operated prostitution, gambling or late hours or — in return to maybe, towing in Madison County; solicit funds from any of these operators for your benefit or their benefit and your benefit?"

A. "Now repeat that again, Jim. You're talking about financial help."

MR. WEHRHEIM: "I'm talking about did you ever have them go to anyone and say, if you want to stay in business you will have to come across with some money?"

A. "Never, never."

Q. "Did they ever bring you any money?"

A. "No sir."

Q. "Any envelopes containing any money?"

A. "No, no. Now you say envelopes, now you're saying envelopes with money in it."

MR. WEHRHEIM: "Right."

A. "No, no, no. None."

Q. "Well, what other kind of envelopes?"

A. "Well, I mean you're going to get memorandum."

I get a lot of memorandums from shift commander or something like that, you know."

"Or maybe from another police agency to draw a note or something like that, but that's the extent of it."

Q. "So if Mr. Grzywacz or Mr. Cooper or both of them ever solicited and received any funds from the operators, of say, these houses of prostitution, limited to that, they did so without your (knowledge)."

DR. JAMES HARRISON

Dr. Harrison to head dental school group

An associate dean for education at the School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been named president-elect of the American Association of Dental Schools. Dr. James D. Harrison, professor of restorative dentistry, will complete the term of Dr. Dale F. Redig of the University of the Pacific begun in March 1978. The position includes a subsequent year as president of the association and an additional year as past president.

Harrison is a three-year member of the AADS executive committee, serving as vice president for sections, and is a former officer in the Fixed Prosthodontics Section and administrative board member of the Council of Sections.

As president-elect, he will serve with the finance committee and work with planners of the organization's annual session, held in Washington, D.C. each spring. He will also be a member of the grants review committee for research. At SIUE, Dr. Harrison was director of Dental Auxiliary Education and Utilization and Advanced Educational Programs before being appointed associate dean for education in 1972. He has served as acting chairman of the department of restorative dentistry.

The American Association of Dental Schools is a professional organization of 183 institutions and 3,000 individual dental educators working to improve the quality of dental education. It includes dental schools in the U.S. and Canada plus advanced educational institutions, hospitals, auxiliary programs and federal services.

Miss Fay M. Patrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Patrich of Granite City, has enrolled in the Gradwohl School of Laboratory Technique in St. Louis for a year's course in medical laboratory technology. After graduation she will be a qualified medical laboratory technician.

The school, a private not-for-profit co-educational institution, is approved by the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association. Gradwohl School has trained more than 6,000 persons for positions in hospitals, clinics, private laboratories and physicians' offices in its 58 years of operation.

U.S. to pay more on milk food, day care

School lunch, breakfast, milk and child care food programs began receiving increased federal payments effective July 1. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman noted today.

The increased payments reflect a five percent increase in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) series for food away from home for the period of November 1977 to May 1978. The payments are made to schools and institutions to help defray meal costs in the school lunch, school breakfast, special milk, and child care food programs. The national minimum average value of commodities donated for the school lunch program and child care food program was also increased.

The national average payment for the school lunch program will be increased from 14.5 cents to 15.25 cents for each lunch served. Within that average, states are authorized by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to vary the rate of reimbursement up to a maximum of 21.15 cents per lunch.

The additional average payment for lunches served to needy children will be increased from 55 cents to 58.25 cents for a reduced-price lunch and from 65 cents to 68.25 cents for a free lunch.

Maximum total reimbursement states may pay schools and institutions has been increased from 84.5 cents to 88.5 cents for a reduced-price lunch and from 94.5 cents to 98.5 cents for a free lunch.

Under the school breakfast program, the national average payment will be increased from 11.50 cents to 12 cents for each breakfast served. The additional average payment for each reduced-price breakfast will be increased from 21.75 cents to 22.75 cents, and for a free breakfast will be increased from 28.75 cents to 30.25 cents.

The maximum rate of reimbursement for breakfasts which states may pay especially needy schools and institutions is now set at 12 cents for paid breakfasts, 47.25 cents for reduced-price breakfasts and 52.25 cents for free breakfasts.

Under the child care food program, the national average payments for breakfasts will be increased from 33.25 cents to 36.75 cents for each reduced-price breakfast, from 40.25 cents to 42.25 cents for each free breakfast, and from 11.50 cents to 12 cents for all other breakfasts served under the program.

National average payments for lunches and supper served in the child care food program will be increased from 69.50 cents to 73.50 cents for each reduced-price lunch or supper, from 79.50 cents to 83.50 cents for each free lunch or supper, and from 14.5 cents to 15.25 cents for all other lunches and suppers served under the program.

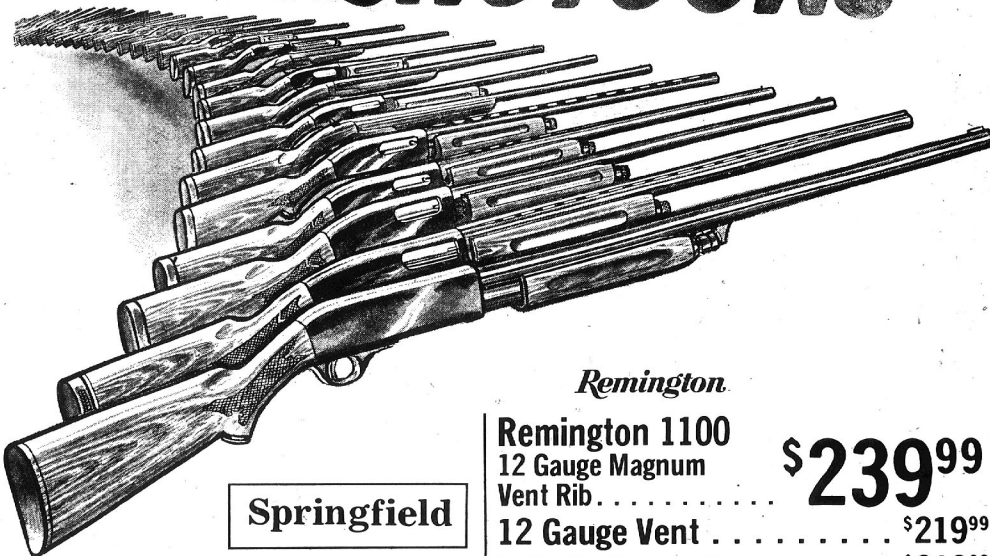

Payments for mid-morning and mid-afternoon snacks allowed under the child care food program will be increased from 18 cents to 18.75 cents for each reduced-price snack, from 23.75 cents to 25 cents for each free snack, and from 6 cents to 6.25 cents for all other snacks served under the program.

In lieu of maintaining records on the actual cost of food used, sponsors of family and group day care homes in the child care food program may use food cost factors established by the USDA.

These factors have been increased from 45.50 cents to 47.75 cents for each lunch or supper, from 25.50 cents to 26.75 cents for each breakfast, and from 15.50 cents to 16.25 cents for each supplement served. These factors are also adjusted semi-annually to reflect changes in the CPI.

The adjusted rate of reimbursement per half pint of milk served under the special milk program will be 6.75 cents for the period July 1, 1978, through June 30, 1979. Previously, the rate had been 6.25 cents.

James Thompson, 59, dies

James Thompson, 59, of 2014 Madison Ave., was found lying on the floor of his apartment Monday evening and was pronounced dead at the scene at 7:30 by William Sternberg, Madison County deputy coroner.

Police were called by the landlord who said he had not seen Mr. Thompson for a day. According to an autopsy report, Mr. Thompson died of a head injury received when he apparently fell to the floor. There were no signs of foul play and an inquest will be held.

Born in Flat River, Mo., Mr. Thompson also resided in Springfield, Mo., before moving to Madison six months ago.

He was of the Baptist faith. Mr. Thompson served with the U.S. Air Force during World War II.

Survivors include two sons, James Thompson Jr. and three sisters, Miss Loretta Thompson, New Baden, Mo., Mrs. Elfreda Gunn of St. Louis, and Mrs. Lillie Mae Stewart of Madison.

Funeral services were held Wednesday. Details are given in the obituary column.

$100 million bond sale planned by Ill. Power

Illinois Power Company on Tuesday filed a registration statement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission covering the proposed public offering of $100,000,000 first mortgage bonds, series due in the year 2008.

The offering is expected to be made later this month.

Net proceeds from sale of the bonds offered will be added to the company's general funds, through reimbursement of its treasury for capital expenditures heretofore made.

The funds will be used to repay outstanding short-term borrowings, with the remainder applied to new construction.

The First Boston Corporation and Merrill Lynch, Pierce,

Fenner & Smith, Inc., were named managers of the underwritten syndicate.

Illinois Power is engaged in the generation, transmission, distribution and sale of electric energy, and the distribution and sale of natural gas, in 15,000 square miles of Illinois, including the local area.

THEFT FROM PURSE
Two women's rings valued at $821, personal papers and $21 in cash were taken from a handbag on the back porch of 4101 Kirkpatrick Homes it was reported at 10:41 p.m. Friday by Barbara Downs, of that address. She said the theft occurred between 9:15 and 10:40 p.m., according to the report.

$561 additional loot in burglary

Mrs. Ruth Bichof, 3204 Erin Drive, reported to police last week that additional items valued at more than $561 were taken from her home in a burglary first reported on Thursday.

According to the report, $153 in cash was taken as well as a set of stereo ear phones, $55; silver pen and pencil set, $35; silver electric cigarette lighter, $26; a gold cigarette lighter, $135; rhinestone silver bracelet, $35; string of pearls, $100; Zenith TV remote control tuner, $75; and a mothers ring with various stones worth $80 to $100.

No coat was set on a ladies wristwatch, an eight-strand silver and turquoise necklace and a diamond ring.

Three arrested

Two men and a 16-year-old girl were arrested in a car, parked in the 2100 block of Edison Avenue last week.

Officers alleged one man was drinking rum from a bottle found on the front console. Two cans of beer were in the rear seats, police said.

One of the men made remarks to the officer and all three were taken into custody.

Terry L. Young, 23, of St. Louis, was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol.

Jesse L. Macklin, 31, of Berkeley, Mo., was charged with illegal possession of alcohol.

The girl, 16, also of St. Louis, was charged with illegal possession of alcohol. Her mother was notified of the incident and told officers to take her daughter to a detention home, police said.

College grads' job hunt easier in '78

More job offers at higher pay was the welcome word this summer for the 1978 college graduates armed with a bachelor's degree, especially in engineering.

Offers for the bachelor's degree were up 35 percent over last year, according to David R. Van Horn, director of University Placement Services at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Petroleum engineering was the undisputed leader for the second consecutive year, at salary offers of $1,653 a month compared with $871 for humanities graduates, the lowest. General business graduates received offers of $993 up to $1,244 for the accounting specialty.

The final seasonal survey of the College Placement Council showed offers for doctoral degrees were also up 20 percent, at salaries of $2,074 for chemical engineers.

Offers rose three percent for master's degrees, at salaries of $1,629 for technical and engineering fields.

Women reversed last year's recruiting pattern by attracting 30 percent more job offers at the bachelor's level than men — although women accounted for only 21 percent of the total bachelor's volume.

Dollar averages were higher for women in eight engineering disciplines, but generally fell below the male graduate in all other fields except one.

All employer groups contributed to the increased activity at the bachelor's degree level.

In the private sector, gains of 40 percent or more were reported by aerospace-electronics-instruments, electrical machinery and equipment, glass paper packaging, petroleum and products, research and consulting, and public utilities and transportation categories.

Hagnauer, Konzen, Bieniecki on metropolitan air quality committee

Nelson Hagnauer, Leo Konzen and Henry Bieniecki, all of Granite City, were named this week by Gov. McNary, chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, to Gateway's new Air Quality Advisory Committee.

The committee will consist of members of the Gateway Council's board of directors, citizen representatives, business and industrial organizations, environmental groups, university officials and governmental agencies.

St. Louis Mayor James Conway will serve as chairman. Conway has stressed the importance of improving air quality in the St. Louis area. In accepting the chairmanship, Conway said:

"I have agreed to become chairman of the Air Quality Advisory Committee of East-West Gateway because air pollution continues to be one of the leading obstacles to quality living for City of St. Louis residents, and threatens the long-term renaissance of the city itself.

"Pollution control, of course, has several aspects. We cannot focus exclusively on present sources of pollution. We must concern ourselves also about industrial and economic growth, and about attracting new industries to our metropolitan area.

"In all our approaches, I hope to move with dispatch, with concern, and with sound judgment in dealing with a problem that has been with us for too long."

The establishment of the committee is the initial step in the Council's air quality planning program.

The program is being undertaken in response to National Clean Air Act Amendments of 1977 which mandate a reassessment of air quality in metropolitan areas across the nation.

"More importantly, this high-level committee will be a joint effort of business, government and local leaders to deal with the critical air quality problems confronting the St. Louis area," McNary commented.

In announcing the committee appointments, he stressed that failure to meet federal planning requirements could result in sanctions against developments, and the loss of federal funds for highways and sewage treatment facilities throughout the bi-state area.

"The potential effects of these sanctions are staggering," said McNary.

"We have no way of estimating right now what this could cost the area, but I feel safe in saying that it would be in the billions of dollars.

"The negative impacts could be devastating.

"That is why it is imperative that the broad spectrum of interests represented on this committee come to speedy agreement on strategies that will work in the entire area."

"I am confident that by working together under Mayor Conway's leadership, we will be able to avert the imposition of sanctions."

The Air Quality Advisory Committee will be charged with making recommendations in the development of a plan for the area to attain national air quality standards. This plan will then be presented for adoption by East-West Gateway's board of directors.

First meeting of the committee has been set for 1:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 24, in the Gateway offices at 112 N. 4th St., St. Louis. The committee membership includes the following:

James Conway, chairman; mayor, City of St. Louis.

Leo Konzen, attorney, Granite City; Regional Forum member; regional citizen, East-West Gateway.

Lois Bliss, chairman, Regional Forum; regional citizen, East-West Gateway.

Hugh McCane, president, Judge, Franklin County.

Nelson Hagnauer, chairman, Madison County Board.

Richard Underkofler, city manager, City of Wood River.

Robert Hunter, chief engineer, Missouri State Highway Department.

Gateway.

David Wilson, president, Coalition for the Environment.

Betty Wilson, Metropolitan St. Louis League of Women Voters.

James O'Flynn, executive director, Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

Phillip Redick, executive director, Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association.

Norval Wallace, Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

eastern Illinois Building and Construction Trades Council.

Harry Button, executive director, Alton Chamber of Commerce.

McNary, as Gateway board chairman, will also serve on the committee.

Ex-officio members will represent the following: Missouri Department of Natural Resources; Illinois Environmental Protection Agency; St. Louis County Air Pollution Control Board; St. Louis City Pollution Control Board; Granite City Air Pollution Control Board; and the Bi-State Development Agency.

July marriages, births, deaths drop in county

Births, deaths and marriages in Madison County during July declined below those of the same month a year ago, according to a vital statistics report released by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

A total of 300 births during the month — 151 boys and 149 girls — was four below the total of 304 births reported in July 1977 — 161 boys and 143 girls, the report said.

Deaths last month totaled 147, down from 172 during the same month a year ago.

There were 350 marriages during the month, down from 278 a year ago, Miss Bowles reported.

made in convicting him in the first place," Kinder added.

Miss Robbins said, "Any mitigating factors are absolutely absent in this case to allow the defendant's release on bond."

"If the victim had not been wearing a heavy stocking cap, this attack could have resulted in death," she argued.

A defense objection to a statement made by Miss Robbins — concerning alleged harassment of the victim, her family and others connected with the case since the conviction — was sustained by the judge.

In rebuttal, the prosecutor said she had witnesses available at the sentencing hearing to tell of harassment.

The defense initially asked for a continuance in the case. This was denied by Judge Barr, who said the defense had been granted a continuance from Aug. 8, the original sentencing date.

Prior to Tuesday, McCabe had been free on a $2,000 cash bond.

An armed violence charge is pending against McCabe, who was arrested March 9 in Pontoon Beach for allegedly approaching a woman with a tire tool in his hand in the 3900 block of Gaslight Walk.

Answering a report of a woman screaming, Pontoon Beach officers passed a vehicle leaving the area and noted the license number. They continued on to the area where the woman had been heard screaming, and received a description of a man.

Cooperation between the Pontoon Beach officers and the Granite City Police Department resulted in McCabe's arrest. He was freed on a $5,000 bond in the Pontoon Beach case.

There was no repeat Tuesday of the scene inside and outside the courthouse which developed after McCabe's conviction on June 29, in which a group of men yelled obscenities at the departing jurors. Detective Sergeant Don Knight and others involved in the trial.

Five sheriff's deputies were assigned to the courtroom Tuesday to forestall any possible disturbance.

Purses and other items carried into the court were thoroughly searched.

Mrs. Bieniecki, 82, dies today

Mrs. Stella Bieniecki, 82, of 2931 E. 25th St., died at 1 a.m. today at the Colonnades Nursing Home.

Born in Poland, Mrs. Bieniecki was a Granite City resident for 53 years, and formerly lived in Litchfield, Ill.

She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church and belonged to a local senior citizen club.

Her husband, Stanley Bieniecki, died in 1961.

Survivors include three sons, Joseph and Henry Bieniecki both of Granite City, and Edward Bieniecki of Lawrenceville, Ill.; two daughters, Mrs. James Claude (Cecelia) Cochrane and Mrs. Regina Hillmer, both of Granite City; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

HARBOR FLEETING SERVICE at the Tri-City Regional Port District has been expanded to include this towboat, which is now in service. It moves barges in and out of Art's Fleeting to link them with varied loading and unloading facilities and rail-river-highway shipping. The facilities are at the major local Mississippi River (Chain of Rocks Canal) terminal, operated by the Port District in cooperation with companies that lease part of the harbor area. In the above photograph, the newest addition, the "Senator Sam" is in the right background, connected with an Army Engineer Corps inspection barge (foreground).

News notes

U. S. senators approved 62-38 Wednesday a federal college tuition tax credit for families with $25,000 or less yearly income.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency this week accused the state's biggest manufacturer, Caterpillar Tractor Co. of Peoria, of illegally dumping cyanide, oil and grease into the Illinois River several times this year.

SENATOR SAM

LEGISLATIVE ACCOMPLISHMENTS of State Senator Sam Vadalabene on behalf of the 56th Illinois Legislative District in general and the Tri-City Regional Port District in particular were cited in naming a port which an eight-track AM-FM tape deck was taken.

An FM cassette player, an FM power booster and a black leather wallet, with a total value of $265, stolen from a vehicle parked in the 2500 block of Grand Avenue and owned by Terry Couch, 2906 Kirkpatrick Homes, on June 22.

A truck burglary on June 18 when rods, reels, a camera, a radio, fishing tackle and other items with a total value of $301 were taken from the pickup of Lance Farmley, 2151 Benton St.

The burglary of a padlocked pickup truck owned by Gale Anderson of Tulsa, Okla., and parked at the Travelodge, 1200 Niedringhaus Ave., on June 18. Two briefcases with assorted technical manuals and tools, with a total value of $1,500, were stolen from the truck.

The looting of a van belonging to Robbie Grider, 2012 Grand Ave., on June 9, in which an AM-FM radio cassette player, valued at $179, Triax speakers, worth $40, and a power booster, $20, were taken.

A 23 channel CB radio, tapes and a power microphone, valued at $345, stolen May 12 from the auto of Alvin Edwards, 2258 Benton St.

Eight-track tapes and a 23 channel CB radio, valued at $200, stolen April 11 from the auto of William Harris, 2501a Iowa St.

An AM-FM stereo taken from the auto of Denise Broyles, 1516 Garfield Ave., while the disabled vehicle was parked in the 1900 block of Adams Street on March 20.

Auto batteries from vehicles owned by Sonya Olanes, 2315 Benton St., and Bill Heath, 2249 Adams St., both reported stolen Jan. 12.

The man implicated himself in the March 17, 1978, armed robbery of the Taco Hut, 2968 Madison Ave., when a man with a shirt pulled halfway over his face forced an employee to give him $148 from the cash register.

In the armed robbery of the Pontoon Shell Station, 2701 Pontoon Road, on March 22, 1978, three men drove up in a car and one man wearing a ski mask displayed a small handgun, asked for money and, when told there was none in the station, forced the attendant to give him $75 from his shirt pocket.

A burglary at the home of Lawrence Sullivan, 1940 Adams St., on April 18, 1976, with two portable televisions, valued at $158, a .25 caliber Browning semi-automatic pistol, worth $80, a guitar and case, valued at $200, and a pair of binoculars, $50, were reported.

A second burglary occurring at the Sullivan home also was mentioned by the suspect.

Cleared by the investigation was a burglary at the Olympic Service Station, 30th and Adams streets, on May 15, 1976. On that occasion, a wall safe set into concrete and weighing 1,500 pounds was dragged across the floor and taken out through the front door. Entry was gained through a hole made in the rear wall.

Police are continuing to investigate three recent auto thefts.

Several incidents which happened in Madison County are being investigated by detectives from the Madison County sheriff's office, it was learned.

The man currently is on probation for the second time, authorities said.

He was charged with burglary by Madison police Aug. 21, 1976, in connection with the theft of two half-barrels of beer from a truck at the rear of Kacera Distributing Co.

Pontoon. At 10:20 a.m. a Missouri-Pacific train passed through and I observed the tracks adjacent to five oil storage tanks between Braden Avenue and the tracks. The tracks and railroad ties appeared to be very loose. This is a very serious situation that could result in a major catastrophe if a derailment occurs.

"The railroad responsible should be notified to correct this condition as soon as possible."

Slate, in his letter to the ICC, said:

"I attach hereto a copy of Fire Chief Don Parente's letter of June 28, 1978, noting his observation of that date."

"The oil storage tanks referred to therein are quite large and are close to the railroad tracks, slightly northwest of the intersection with West Pontoon Road."

"I am sure you are aware of the recent tragedies resulting from derailments. I request that you use your supervisory authority immediately to require the railroads to improve conditions of their roadbeds and tracks."

"I am sending a copy of this letter to the railroads in order that they may have notice of the existence of the hazardous condition."

"If you wish to come to the area to view the site, please let us know in advance so that the city officials may be of assistance to you. If you wish to have testimony, please notify me."

"In any case, we consider the matter to be quite urgent. The risks involved are substantial as the oil tanks are in regular use. We hope there will be no delay in correcting the hazardous condition."

The oil tanks are located within about 20 feet of the tracks. Parents told the Press-Record. He said they formerly were used by the Melvin Allman Oil Co., but the property has been acquired by Edwardsville interests who now operate the service.

Pay boost for state workers

About 55,000 unionized Illinois state employees will receive a retroactive $40 monthly wage increase, an independent arbitrator ruled Tuesday.

American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees members totaling 20,000 and 35,000 others will get a $480 check in September, Gov.

James R. Thompson announced. They also will receive a $40 monthly pay boost for the July 1978-June 1979 fiscal year, Robert Madeville, Thompson's budget chief, said.

Another 60,000 state workers, most of them university employees, state police and employees of statewide offices, are not covered by the new contract, which took into account how much money the state's treasury received during the year that ended June 30.

Girl Scout cookie sale set Sept. 28

Sept. 13 has been established by the River Bluffs Fire Scout Council as the kickoff meeting for neighborhood and district cookie sales chairman.

This is to be followed on Sept. 14-20 with Neighborhood cookie chairmen to train troop cookie chairmen and on Sept. 21-27, the troop cookie chairmen will train the girls.

From Sept. 28 to Oct. 8, orders will be taken by Quad-City Brownies and Girl Scouts in conjunction with the annual cookie sale project.

Fire guts home

Fire of undetermined origin gutted a one-and-a-half story frame home at Center Street and Alton Avenue in the Cloverleaf addition early Wednesday morning.

Madison firemen reported they were called at 1:40 a.m. and were on the scene three hours. The property is owned by Sue Harris, firemen said. No estimate of damage was immediately available.

Driver injured

Howard B. Keene, 36, of Alton, sustained injuries at 7:50 p.m. Tuesday, when the vehicle he was driving north on Route 151 at Rock Road was struck by another car, according to police.

The impact caused Keene to lose control of his auto, strike the median strip and flip over on its top, according to a report to police.

Another northbound vehicle, operated by Billie C. McGuinnis, 29, of St. Louis, swerved into the median to avoid hitting Keene's auto and a third vehicle driven by Carl M. O'Guin, 82, of 2003 Sixth St., Madison, who was traveling east on Rock Road, authorities reported.

Armed men enter store, then flee

Three men wearing ski masks and all armed with pistols made an unsuccessful attempt to rob Baucum's Grocery, 1001 Logan St., Venice, at 9:30 a.m. Monday.

The trio, which had entered the store, apparently became alarmed when a customer started to enter the store, saw the men and fled, Mrs. Henry Baucum told Venice police.

The men had entered the store and were gathered at the cash register when they saw the customer at the door. They also ran out the front door and disappeared.

Truck highway use tax return forms due soon

Aug. 31 is the date by which most owners of large trucks, truck tractors, or buses in Central and Southern Illinois must file a federal highway use tax return, Form 2290.

District Director Ira S. Loeb of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service notes that the tax year for the highway use tax begins July 1 and runs through the following June 30.

Vehicles placed in service after July must have Form 2290 filed with the Kansas City

Service Center by the last day of the month following the month a vehicle is used on a public highway for the first time.

According to the IRS, the tax generally applies to single-unit trucks weighing 13,000 pounds or more, two-axle truck tractors weighing 5,500 pounds or more, three or more axle truck tractors regardless of weight, tractors of 9,000 or more pounds equipped for use in combinations, and buses with a gross weight of more than 26,000 pounds.

Revenue from the highway use tax program assists states in financing the interstate highway system, but the tax is imposed on vehicles using any public highways, city streets, state roads and interstate roadways.

Form 2290 and the free IRS Publication 349, "Federal Highway Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors and Buses," are available at the Springfield IRS district office.

Barn opera will feature guest artist

Opera in the Barn under the direction of Kay Shanahan will present Jacques Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" on Friday and Saturday nights at 8:15.

Tenor, John Walker, who will portray Hoffman, has sung throughout Europe, Canada and the United States with such companies as Houston Grand Opera, the San Francisco Opera, the Canadian and Edmonton Opera Companies, City Opera in Bern, Switzerland, and the Cologne Opera in Germany.

He will be supported by Mary Ann Brickey as Nicklaus, his boon companion; his three loves, Olympia (Violet Kimball), Giulietta (Sani Varble and Lulu Simms) and Antonia (Sani Varble and Etolia Long); Dorothy Messick, the mother's voice; and Karen Tappy Martin, Stella the diva.

The multiple roles of Lindorf, Coppellus, Dappertutto and Dr. Miracle will be sung by Michael Christy; Luther, Cochenille, and Frantz by Randy Hempel; Hermann, Schlemiel and Craspe by George Shanahan; and Nathanael and Spalazani by Robert Rigoni, understudied by Robert Ayvalide.

Dancers are from the Mary Ann Brickey School of Dance. The audience is to bring lawn chairs and sweaters and to proceed north on Route 67 to Greenfield, turning west on Sycamore Street (two blocks north of the village square), and following an all-weather road which after four miles makes a sweeping curve north. After another mile to the Wrights-Berdan signs, opera-goers turn east for a half-mile to arrive at a rustic, 100-year-old barn.

Tickets are $3.50, and a child will be admitted at the gate for $1 when accompanied by an adult ticket. Senior citizens may request a $1 seating area.

ASTRONAUT BORN
American astronaut John Glenn was born July 18, 1921.

District Eight, Illinois Department of Transportation; Mayor Schuler; Hagnauer; Norman Walters and Morris Hoeft, general contractors for the project; William Webb, County Board district 19 and chairman of the right-of-way committee; Sam Wolf, former state representative seeking election to that office; and Joe Knebel, junior engineer for the county highway department. The improvement connects Maryville Road at Pontoon Road to Highway 162 near East 23rd Street.

Hearing today on contempt citation plea

A hearing on a motion to hold in contempt of court the former members of the board of Holy Trinity Bulgarian Orthodox Church at Madison was to be held today before Associate Judge John Day at Alton.

The hearing was scheduled after members of the old board obtained a change of venue on the contempt hearing originally set before Associate Judge P. J. O'Neill on grounds of prejudice.

A motion seeking the contempt citation was filed by Attorney Nick Vassileff who represents a new commission appointed by the church's bishop after he ousted the former church board two months ago.

Judge O'Neill last month ordered former board members to turn over to the new board the records and assets of the church, but Vassileff alleges they have failed to do so.

Juveniles face curfew charge

A patrolling officer saw three youths sitting on a concrete wall at West 22nd Street and Dewey Avenue at 12:15 a.m. Wednesday, with a large planter tipped over on the sidewalk nearby.

As he approached the trio, the officer saw a 16-year-old youth stand up and push a plastic bag beneath him. All three appeared to have been drinking or were "high," the officer said. The 16-year-old was charged with possession of cannabis and a curfew violation. A 15-year-old youth was charged with violating the curfew law and released to a parent.

The third youth, 18, reportedly home on leave, was sent home without a charge being made.

Broyles cited for burglary

Harvey Eugene Broyles, 24, of 1942 Adams St., was charged this week with burglary in connection with an auto burglary occurring at 2 a.m. Aug. 5.

He is scheduled to appear at a preliminary hearing Friday morning at the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville.

Broyles was apprehended by a resident in the 2400 block of Iowa Street while allegedly inside the man's car.

The resident reported being awakened by a car horn sounding and saw someone sitting in his 1975 auto.

The car owner got a .22 caliber weapon, went to the side of the vehicle and told the man inside to get out and lie face down on the ground until police arrived.

Officers said they found a

Italian Club sponsors its first picnic

The first family picnic sponsored by the newly organized Italian-American Club was held this week at Highland Park, and was attended by 85 members and their families.

Gino Whaley served as chairman of the event and directed traditional Italian bowling games known as Bocce ball, with several of the "omo vecchio" (older men) winning.

Food was served in pollock style with everyone bringing several different dishes of Italian foods.

During the afternoon a monthly business meeting was conducted with the main topic of discussion on the club participating in the Madison Ethnic Festival Aug. 25, 26 and 27th. Members agreed to serve homemade Italian sausage sandwiches at a cost of $1 during the three-day festival.

The next business session will be held Sept. 10 at the Venice Social Club.

BATTERY ALLEGED
Clara Turner, 1303 Twenty-First St., signed a complaint at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, against Robert F. Abney, 31, of Granite City, alleging the man struck her on the head with a can of beer. The incident occurred at her address, Mrs. Turner said.

Road blocks to aid muscular dystrophy drive

Two road block programs to aid the Jerry Lewis campaign against muscular dystrophy were authorized by the Granite City Council Tuesday night.

The alderman granted a request of the Granite City Firefighters Local 253 to conduct road blocks at three locations Friday between 7 a.m. and 9 a.m. and between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Firemen will set up road blocks at Niedringhaus and Edison avenues, Johnson and Nameoki roads and Pontoon and Nameoki roads.

Granite City Jaycees will conduct the other road blocks, also at three locations, from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

The Jaycee road blocks will be conducted at Madison Avenue and 23rd Street, Nameoki and Pehling roads and Pontoon and Nameoki roads.

Look, thump, hope when picking melons in region

Area Garden Adviser

It's the time for harvesting and eating home-grown melons. For some gardeners, the harvesting presents the season's biggest problem — how to tell a ripe melon.

Cantaloupes or muskmelons are fairly easy to pick. Most varieties turn yellow or golden, followed by a separation of the stem from the melon. This is the time to pick.

Green-skinned varieties should also be picked when they slip easily from the stem. If you follow these guidelines, it isn't necessary to shake the melon to rattle the seeds.

Watermelon picking isn't as easy as muskmelon. There are several time-honored methods that some folks use; sometimes these work and sometimes they don't.

The most reliable method is the color test, which requires some experience and careful observation.

Usually, a ripening melon will change from dark green to a lighter shade. The underside of the melon should change from pale green to creamy yellow. At this time, the skin surface will lose its slick look and become somewhat dull.

The "dried curl" method depends on the curl or tendril closest to the stem of the melon. When the tendril is brown or dry, the melon is supposed to be ripe. Sometimes the curl turns brown before the melon ripens, in which case you chalk it up to experience.

The "thumping technique" is the most common on large melons but doesn't work with all varieties.

Snap your finger against the melon and listen. If you hear a metallic or high-pitched sound, the melon is green. Try again at three-day intervals until the sound is muffled or dead (like the toe of your shoe).

This usually indicates that it is ripe. However, this test may indicate an over-ripe melon.

When the curl is dry, the ground color is yellow and the thump is dull, the melon should be ripe. If not, try a different variety next year.

Rules for free school milk and meals, price reduction

St. Mary's Parochial School in Madison today announced its policy for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals and milk served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast and Special Milk programs.

Sister Barbara Honerkamp, principal, St. Mary-St. Mark, said local school officials have adopted the following family size and income criteria for determining eligibility in 1978-79:

Family size, family income for free meals and free milk, in that order.

One in family, $4,190 and $6,330.

Two, $5,500 and $8,580.

Three, $6,810 and $10,630.

Four, $8,110 and $12,680.

Five, $9,310 and $14,530.

Six, $10,510 and $16,400.

Seven, $11,600 and $18,100.

Eight, $12,680 and $19,790.

Nine, $13,680 and $21,330.

Ten, $14,600 and $22,870.

Eleven, $15,640 and $24,390.

Twelve, $16,610 and $25,910.

Each additional family member, $970 and $1,520.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals.

In addition, families are urged to apply who do not meet these criteria but have expenses such as unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, or disaster or casualty loss.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in St. Mary's School.

The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

To discourage the possibility of misrepresentation, the application forms contain a statement above the space for signature, certifying that all information furnished in the application is true and correct.

An additional statement is added to warn that the application is being made in connection with the receipt of federal funds, and that school officials may, for cause, verify the information in the application. Deliberate misrepresentation, or information may subject the applicant to prosecution under applicable state and criminal statutes.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for free milk and free or reduced price meals for them, the family should contact the school.

If a family member becomes unemployed or if family size changes, the family may contact the school to file a new application.

Such changes may affect the children of the family eligible for reduced price meals, or for additional benefits such as free meals and milk if the family income falls at or below the levels shown above.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child nutrition programs, no child can be discriminated against because of his or her race, sex, color or national origin, Sister Honerkamp said.

Pet adoption Saturday at GC shopping center

The Association for Protection of Animals, Inc. will hold its monthly adoption clinic from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday at the temporary shelter site in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

The adoption hours have been shortened due to the hot summer weather. Sally J. Gellman, supervisor, said, noting the small shelter is located between Grand Drugs and The Fabric Store.

Among the dogs to be offered for adoption are a 1-year-old spayed female German Shepherd, small sized, a 1-year-old male, part terrier.

Cats available include a 6-month-old black female cat, spayed, with a good disposition; a 9-month-old white male cat; a grey and white spayed female, 12 months old; and an orange and white male cat, which has been neutered and declawed, to help boost the fund to construct a new permanent shelter, the APA volunteers will offer bumper stickers for sale at Saturday's adoption clinic, Mrs. Gellman said.

Donations still are being sought to help the non-profit humane organization construct the building, and contributions will be sent to: APA, Post Office Box 1311, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Meat Loaf on stage at River Fest

Fans of the cult film, the Rocky Horror Picture Show, could tell you in a minute who he is. Now, rock fans join in hailing Meat Loaf, a performer breaking onto the scene like a "Bat Out of Hell" (also the title of his debut Cleveland International-Epic album).

Meat Loaf will present a performance at 8 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 20 at the Mississippi River Festival on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Born in Dallas into a family of Southern gospel singers, he built a reputation with a West Coast band. He was a lead singer with Ted Nugent on the LP "Free for All." He also portrayed the singing, crazy Eddie, a Fifties greaser with half a brain, in "Rocky Horror."

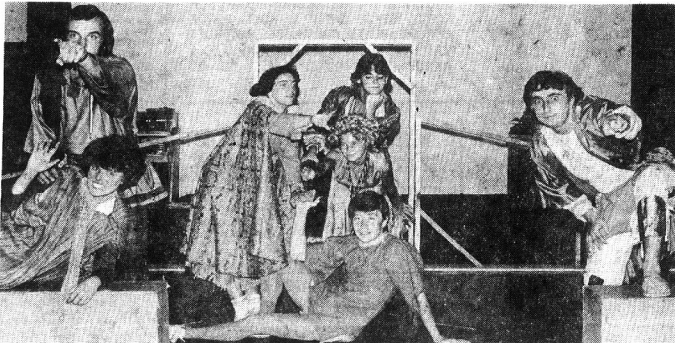

Jim Steinman, composer, arranger and pianist, joined forces with Meat Loaf in the National Lampoon Show. Within a year, they were billed at Carnegie Hall. Then, with producer Todd Rundgren, the album was recorded.

Steinman filled the album with teenage anthems like "Paradise by the Dashboard Light" and ballads like "Two Out of Three Ain't Bad," as well as the title number.

SHA NA NA. The Mississippi River Festival is getting ready for this group of ten rock 'n' rollers who "got lost in the 1950s and never found their way out." They will perform on Friday, Aug. 18, at 8 p.m. on the campus of Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville.

Their special guest will be Dr. Hook. Employees of MRF will put on the hair grease, white socks and letter sweaters of the Nifty Fifties to salute Sha Na Na's tenth year. The group was founded on the campus of Columbia University in New York City.

TWO BY TWO. Richard Rodgers' musical story of Noah will be performed at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows at 8 o'clock tonight, Friday and Sunday. Two By Two originally played on Broadway, with Danny Kaye playing Noah. John Myler, business manager for the theater arts department at St. Louis University, is directing the play. This is the tenth summer that the Shrine has presented a musical under the promotion of Fr. Allen Maes. Past endeavors have been The Fantasticks, Man of La Mancha, Celebration, The Wizard of Oz, Leonard Bernstein's Mass, El Capitan, Gospel and last year's summer play, Francis. Two By Two will be performed at the Shrine's outdoor amphitheater, 9500 W. III. Rt. 15. Each evening's performance is open to the public free of charge.

Four hurt in Venice crash

Four persons were injured, two of them children, when two cars collided at 12:55 p.m. Monday on Route 3 at Broadway in Venice.

Police reported the accident occurred when a car driven by Edith Hampton, 20, of Wood River, and one driven by Sandra Weiser, 36, of 2580 Revere's Route, collided at the intersection.

Both drivers were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Granite City Ambulances, along with Ann Weiser, 15, and John Weiser, 5, of the Revere's Route address.

Mrs. Hampton was admitted to the hospital for observation, suffering a cut to the forehead, bloody nose and pain to the left shoulder. Mrs. Weiser suffered pains to the left side of her neck and the left arm and abrasions to the left ankle. She was released after treatment.

Both children sustained minor injuries, it was reported.

Board unwilling

board's legislative committee for an investigation was approved unanimously by the board, but was thwarted when Board Member James Heil, the committee's chairman, said he felt a trial transcript could cost the county about $2,000 and there were not sufficient funds for such a committee investigation.

For a time, it appeared Partney's new resolution might have a chance of passage, as the board voted 13-12 to suspend the rules and allow the resolution to be considered, although it was not on the agenda. But only nine board members voted in favor of the resolution.

During a discussion which preceded the vote, Partney said he wanted to "simply look into it and make a recommendation to the merit commission."

He read a portion of a statement Capt. John Cooper, chief of field operations for the sheriff's department, gave to a federal grand jury in 1974 where Cooper alleged deputies Roy Walker and Delbert Clemons asked the owner of a tavern which housed prostitution what he would do for them at Christmas. "The boys would like to have a bottle," Partney read from the transcript of Cooper's testimony.

He read another statement alleging that the late Dilly Connors and current sheriff's garage employee Harold Bradshaw had harassed one woman and implied they sought some kind of gifts.

Another statement alleged deputies went through the desk of the late Capt. Demos Nicholas after Capt. Nicholas' death and took "just a lot of things that were not theirs."

It was alleged during the trial and the grand jury study that items taken from Capt. Nicholas' desk included documents related to payoffs.

The presentation by Partney was interrupted by Heil, who introduced a point of order, saying Partney's resolution had not yet been submitted and could not properly be discussed until it was on the floor.

The 13-12 vote on a motion to suspend the rules for consideration of the resolution then passed, after County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer of Granite City broke a 12-12 tie with a yes vote.

Partney then made his resolution for the board to urge probes of the sheriff's department.

Board Member Wayne Bridgewater of Roxana said he did not feel the County Board had jurisdiction in the matter, noting that he feels the state's attorney, county grand jury and federal authorities should study the allegations.

"Isn't there an investigation of this going on?" he asked.

Board Member Louis Whitsell of Nokesville Township said, "We are going on record only as asking them (the state's attorney and merit commission) to conduct an investigation, which is well within our powers."

Bridgewater said the merit commission has "very limited funds" and added that the county has had to provide additional funds to keep it operating this fiscal year.

Partney then amended his motion to add that the county would provide necessary funds for the investigation.

Board Member James E. Greene of East Alton said, "The state's attorney should have been doing something a long time ago. Let them use their own funds."

Heil, who is an attorney, said he feels it is "a bad idea to give directives to other officers."

He said other officers might become "aggravated and angry at you, and it's going to come back to haunt you. You shouldn't be telling other people how to do their jobs," Heil asserted.

Partney responded, "It's about time somebody told somebody to get off their rear and do it when you read these pages," and he held up copies of the federal record from the trial.

A vote then was taken on the resolution to urge the inquiries, but lost 9-14.

Voting in favor of the resolution were H. Jack Frandsen of Alhambra, Donald McLean of Edwardsville, Herbert "Junior" Milton of Granite City, Partney, Walter "Dick" Sparks of Chouteau Township, Lawrence Spelman of Troy, William "Bub" Weick of Granite City, Whitsell and R. H. Worthen of Alton.

Voting against the probe were Roderick Baader of Venice, Charles Bode of Edwardsville, Homer Boothman of State Park Place, Anthony Bosich of Wood River, Bridgewater, Fred Dalton of Collinsville, Heil, Homer Honke of Moro, William Little of Alton, Margaret May of Alton, Verle Miller of Cottage Hills, Frances Roberts of Alton, Michael Semanist of Maryville and Elvera Wyatt of Alton.

After the meeting, Partney pledged that "if someone does not begin an investigation, he will investigate the question of whether he can, legally, file charges himself to assure that allegations against deputies are not covered."

He said he intends to meet personally with State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron to determine if Byron's office intends to conduct an investigation into the federal allegations.

Asked if he had discussed the issue with Sheriff John Maes, Partney said, "No. He's named in quite a few of these things, too."

Partney indicated the sheriff's merit commission could deal with the deputies, since it has subpoena powers, but requested that the state's attorney's office also enter the probe, because he feels that is the only county office which can investigate alleged activities of the sheriff.

These documents (the trial exhibits) name names, some of whom are still on the sheriff's staff."

Partney said the state's attorney's office could take the allegations to a county grand jury, if it finds sufficient evidence of the allegations against any members of the sheriff's department.

Partney concluded, "State statutes on the duties of the state's attorney indicate that — were the people of the county are concerned — it is his job. I think the people are concerned."

Is ozone making it hot for us?

(American Chemical Society) Why is it so hot? Well, it's August. And the industrial era appears to have created a trend to increased ozone in the troposphere of the Northern Hemisphere, causing a climatic warming effect.

The subject was reviewed at the American Chemical Society's fourth biennial Rocky Mountain regional meeting. Measurements show ozone in the troposphere (atmosphere below the stratosphere) of the Northern Hemisphere is considerably larger than that in the Southern Hemisphere, with no acceptable meteorological explanation.

Dr. Jack Fishman of the National Center for Atmospheric Research (NCAR) in Boulder, and the co-author of the report, Dr. Paul J. Crutzen of NCAR, say that since ozone absorbs infrared (heat) radiation, the effect of increasing ozone in the troposphere probably would be a warming trend.

Challenging existing theories that ozone is transported downward to the troposphere from the stratosphere, the authors make a case for the evolution of ozone from carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons generated from fossil fuel use. Fossil use has been greater in the Northern Hemisphere than in the Southern Hemisphere since the beginning of the industrial era.

It is commonly assumed that tropospheric ozone is derived from the stratosphere, is inert, and is destroyed by contact with the earth. This theory makes it difficult to account for the excess ozone in the Northern Hemisphere, the authors suggest in their paper.

Because of the considerably larger land mass of the Northern Hemisphere, ozone destruction there should be three times larger than that in the Southern Hemisphere, which is not the case. Alternatively, the ozone influx from the stratosphere via meteorological phenomena in the Northern Hemisphere would have to be three times as great as that in the Southern Hemisphere.

However, comparisons between the hemispheres in seasonal variabilities, photochemistry of the lower stratosphere, cyclonic activity, and cyclonic intensity yield no significant differences. Nor are tropical wind motions responsible, the authors point out.

Since there is no meteorological evidence to support the concept of a drastic difference between the two hemispheres in ozone influx from the stratosphere, a contribution to the tropospheric ozone from relatively slower but steady photochemical processes must be taking place throughout the entire troposphere, they reason.

The possibility that oxidation of carbon monoxide is a major pathway to ozone formation in the troposphere is argued by the authors. It is likely that oxidation of methane contributes significantly also, they say.

Other anthropogenic hydrocarbons emitted in fossil fuel use have a higher reactivity, and oxidation of these nonmethane hydrocarbons may contribute 50 percent as much ozone as produced by direct carbon monoxide oxidation.

Lacking information that the injection of ozone is at least three times stronger in the Northern Hemisphere as in the Southern Hemisphere, the authors suggest that their theory is correct.

It implies that concentrations of ozone in the lower troposphere of the Northern Hemisphere have increased substantially since the industrial era began, with a warming trend also implied in the Northern Hemisphere as compared to the Southern Hemisphere.

BURGLAR TAKES SODA

Four 16-ounce bottles of soft drinks, valued at $1.60, were taken from the refrigerator in a burglary at 2832 Grand Ave., reported at 10:40 a.m. Tuesday, by John Bridick, 419a Madison Ave., Madison. A rear door was pried to gain entry.

ATTEND VICTIM. A Granite City Ambulance Service EMT and two passersby aid Miss Edith Hampton, of Wood River, Monday afternoon, after her auto and an auto driven by Mrs. Sandra Weiser, 2580 Revere's Route, collided at Route 3 and Broadway in Venice. Miss Hampton suffered a cut to the left forehead and a bloody nose when she bumped her head on the windshield. She was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation. A traffic signal standard was knocked down by the crash. At left is Venice Patrolman Mark Koelker.

Trash-to-energy study

A total of $120,000 has been appropriated by the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County — $60,000 each — to fund a feasibility study of a proposed regional trash-to-energy program.

Bi-State Development Agency Executive Director Barry M. Locke said this week the proposed trash-to-energy plant is the largest of its kind in the world, and could be a model for similar systems seeking to resolve energy problems and provide more efficient use of energy resources.

Bi-State's potential trash-to-energy program, estimated to ultimately total between $80 million and $100 million, would consist of trash transfer terminals located at strategic points throughout the metropolitan area. Up to 4,000 tons of solid waste would be transferred daily via rail to Union Electric's coal firing plant in Labadie, Mo.

A receiving and processing plant would be built at Labadie. "The wastes are to be burned with coal for conversion into electricity," said Dr. Joseph Eigner, Bi-State's director of solid waste project management, "resulting in an energy resource for the St. Louis metropolitan area and an improved method of disposing of area waste."

Granite City Steel and Union Electric previously studied a cooperative trash-to-energy project.

DSI Resource Systems Group of Boston, Mass., has been selected by the Bi-State board of commissioners to prepare the engineering feasibility portion of the new study.

Smith Barney, Harris Upham & Co., Inc., of New York has been contracted to examine the project's financial feasibility. Both firms will be reimbursed for their services from the $120,000 being provided by the City of St. Louis and St. Louis County.

The agency's board at its mid-August meeting also authorized application for a planning grant from the U.S. Department of Energy.

This grant would enable Bi-State to carry the project beyond the feasibility stage.

Assistance on federal tax matters

It may be the "off season," but personal assistance with tax matters is still being offered by the Internal Revenue Service on Monday and Tuesday of each week.

Kenneth L. McKean, office manager, said this week that a tax assistant will be available at the IRS office at 501 Belle St., Alton, from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and from 12 noon to 4:15 p.m. each Monday and Tuesday to help persons who need assistance with inquiries tax returns, accounts or other federal tax matters.

McKean advised that taxpayers who need answers to tax questions at other times during the week may call the IRS toll-free number, 800-252-2921, any weekday Monday through Friday, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

He reminded taxpayers that regardless of where they live, this telephone service is theirs for the dialing, without any long-distance charges. The IRS provides this service year-round.

Late college registration
Aug. 21-24

BelleVue Area College late registration is scheduled for next Monday through Thursday, Aug. 21-24, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Students with class cancellations and changes caused by college error or requirements will be given priority in registering on Aug. 21 and 22. However, other changes may be accepted if there is sufficient room in the classes requested.

Students who wish to change class because of their own error — or to provide for changed circumstances in their personal schedule — may make their changes on either Aug. 22 or 24. A $5 fee will be charged for late registration and for schedule changes.

Both the registration and schedule changes may be accomplished in Room 2303 of the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Bellevue.

'Year of the insects' due to pesticide bans

Wall Street Journal — This summer of 1978 may well mark the first major success of the radical fringe of the environmental movement in giving the country back to the bugs.

Fire ants, which destroy cropland with their nests and attack livestock and even people, are rampant in Mississippi.

EPA rules and a lawsuit by the Environmental Defense Fund have blocked the state from controlling the ants with a chemical containing Mirex, which was an effective fire ant destroyer before an EPA ban.

The worst infestation of grasshopper in 20 years is chewing up crops, forests and property in Western and Central states.

"Persistent" or long-lasting pesticides such as dieldrin, aldrin and chlordane, which keep their potency long enough to break the breeding cycle, also are banned by the EPA.

Another crop predator, chinch bugs, have joined the grasshoppers in their assault. The gypsy moth is attacking forests in the Northeast. The USDA estimates that two million acres of hardwood forests will be defoliated this year. The most effective control agent, DDT, was one of the first victims of the anti-insecticide movement.

This is only a partial list. The Japanese beetle, once controllable with dieldrin, is back in Ohio.

An increase in Rocky Mountain spotted fever, spread by the common tick, worries health authorities in the East. Beetle infestation is on the upswing in Maine.

All that is the bad news, and it will no doubt be bad news indeed when all the damage—measured in felled trees, damaged property and higher food costs—is finally assessed.

The good news is that the assault of the bugs has finally stirred a response from Congress in the form of amendments to the 1972 Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA), which has made possible most of the federal restriction on use of effective pesticides.

The amendments, which have now cleared a conference committee and seem likely to become law soon, would sharply reduce the EPA's power over pesticides by transferring primary authority to the states.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, one of the main lobbies on behalf of the amendments, feels that this will go a long way toward restoring some balance to the struggle the

It has been a long struggle, and the most ardent environmentalists still are insisting that the real problem is that insects are becoming more resistant to insecticides.

We seem to remember this as a major argument, with its visions of uncontrollable monster insects, when the whole anti-pesticide movement was getting up its head of steam more than a decade ago.

The other part of DDT and other chemicals did enormous damage to bird and animal life. These issues have not yet been fully resolved in the minds of careful scientists and environmental moderates.

But the record, whether circumstantial or not, would suggest that the damage to be suffered through inadequate control of insects will be far greater than the damage from pesticides.

And there is nothing to say that use of the more effective and longer-lasting chemicals can't be under more judicious control than it was in the early sixties, and still be effective.

It was hardly necessary for Congress to fall prey to one of the favorite tactics of radical groups, which is the devising of laws that tie up the productive work of the world building in sheer proceduralism and litigation.

The old FIFRA law required EPA clearance for each of 4,000 potential pesticides for some 1,500 chemicals, which meant interminable debate.

Now the amendments force it simply unbecomingly to seek clearance for chemicals with limited application, even though specific chemicals might be far more desirable than broad-spectrum pesticides both in terms of environmental side effects and effectiveness.

The FIFRA amendments may well mark a turning of the tide against environmental radicals.

But it may take a while longer before the amendments will permit a turning of the tide against the bugs. It has been an expensive lesson about the costs of over-reaction.

Textbooks are being returned

Students who attended classes at SIUE during the summer quarter are being reminded to return their textbooks.

An extended-hour schedule for book returns will be: Aug. 28, 29, 30 and 31 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Sept. 1 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Sept. 5 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m.; and Sept. 6 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Deadline for returning books is at 5 p.m. on Sept. 6, and students returning books late will be charged a penalty fee.

Textbook Services is located in the basement of Loyjoy Library.

Dates for fall quarter textbook issues will be announced later. The fall quarter will officially begin Sept. 25 at 7:30 a.m.

Individuals who wish to enroll in classes at SIUE this fall, but who have not yet done so, may pick up applications for admissions in the Office of Admissions and Records in the John S. Rendleman building.

THOMAS C. O'BRIEN of St. Louis, professor in the SIUE School of Education.

He completed work last week at North Atlantic Treaty Organization senior research fellow. The fellowship, one of 34 NATO awards nationwide, involved research collaboration in mathematics and psychology at the universities of Utrecht, London and Nottingham. O'Brien is director of the Teachers' Center Project at SIUE.

He was invited to appear and offer any information he considered pertinent. Hileman attended with his lawyer, William S. Beatty Jr., and the issue was reset for Aug. 24, by the board.

Convicted of felony theft counts, he said the section cited does not apply to him because he became a probationary fireman June 23, 1950.

Section 4-138 is quoted as saying, "None of the benefits provided for in this article shall be paid to any person who is convicted of any felony relating to or arising out of or in connection with his service as a fireman."

"This section shall not operate to impair any contract or vested right heretofore acquired under any law or laws continued in this article, nor to preclude the right to a refund. "All future contracts entered into subsequent to July 11, 1955, shall be deemed to have consented to the provisions of this section as a condition of coverage."

Board members named as defendants are Mayor Paul Schuler, City Clerk Robert Stevens, City Treasurer Nick Petrillo, Fire Chief Don Parente, Druhe, George Smolich, William Hebert and Robert Harris.

The request for a preliminary injunction was set Tuesday for a hearing Aug. 22 before Associate Judge George Moran.

Hileman trying to keep pension

An injunction was sought Tuesday by Charles Hileman Sr. against the Granite City Firemen's Pension Fund board, seeking to prevent it from taking a vote on whether to discontinue his pension.

Assistant fire chief until retiring Sept. 5, 1977, Hileman said he has been receiving a pension since then of $1,020 per month.

A July 25 letter from Kenny Druhe, secretary of the fund, informed him of a special pension board meeting planned for Aug. 11 on discontinuance of his benefits under Section 4-138 of Illinois Pension Code Chapter 100.

He was invited to appear and offer any information he considered pertinent. Hileman attended with his lawyer, William S. Beatty Jr., and the issue was reset for Aug. 24, by the board.

Uniform holiday on next Memorial Day—May 28

In line with Senate Bill 1455 requiring that Memorial Day be observed by federal law, the Granite City Board of Education on Tuesday night voted to set the next observance for May 28, 1979.

An Illinois Association of School Boards report noted that "at the same time Governor Thompson signed into law the school aid package for 1978-79, he also approved Senate Bill 1455. This bill, as amended, accomplishes a long time goal of IASB's Delegate Assembly."

"Since 1974, IASB has sought legislation that would end the confusion surrounding the observance of Memorial Day."

SB 1455 amends Section 24-2 of the School Code, dealing with legal school holidays, by deleting May 30 and substituting the day designated as Memorial Day by federal law.

"That day, next year, will be May 28. Section 10-19 is also amended to authorize school boards to make the necessary changes in their school calendar."

"SB 1455 also extends to the 1978-79 fiscal year the provision that money appropriated for summer school is limited to grants for approved summer school programs for those handicapped children served pursuant to Sections 14-02 and 14-02a of the School Code."

Two women injured at 27th-Madison

A collision on Madison Avenue at 27th Street at 3:50 p.m. Tuesday, involved vehicles operated by Donna D. Tanner, 2624 Pontoon Road, and Adele C. Wasylak, 1018 Greenwood St., Madison.

Mrs. Tanner, 31, was examined at St. Elizabeth Hospital and released. A passenger in her car, Mrs. Leona Tanner, 37, of 1218 Granite Ave., was treated at the hospital for a laceration to the right knee before being released.

A recent inquiry to the State Department as to why PAUL NEWMAN was appointed as a delegate to the United Nations special session on disarmament brought the response that Paul was selected because of his high level of recognition throughout the world and his well-known long-standing commitment to humanitarian goals.

We also learned Paul had originally turned down the State Department's request because he was concerned the five-week schedule would conflict with previous commitments he made to race cars in competitions. However, Paul was assured that the disarmament conference would not require his attention 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and he like any good American, accepted.

FISHING MOTORS

Generally speaking, outboards under 25 horsepower are classified in the fishing motor category and have convenience and compactness built right in. They're lightweight, easily controlled with a tiller handle, and include features like swept-back driveshaft angle and propeller hub clutch to avoid damage on rocky or weedy bottoms.

Chouteau okays payments for Hartford radios

The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees Monday night approved the payment of bills totaling $2,499 to the Hartford Fire Department for new radios the department has received.

The allocation was made from federal revenue sharing funds under the 1978-79 fiscal year budget which provides up to $2,500 aid for the Hartford Fire Department, since it did not have radio-equipped trucks.

Other appropriations were made for the other fire departments in the township when the budget was prepared, but requests for payment have not yet been received.

Motor fuel tax distributions

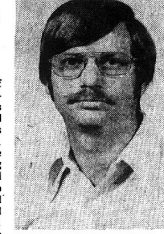

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $11,166,157 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during July, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

Allotments to Quad-City area municipalities included $47,290 to Granite City, $7,975 to Madison and $3,300 to Venice.

Counties in Illinois were allotted a total of $4,155,904 of which $10,588 was allocated to Madison County.

Townships and road districts throughout the state received $3,815,945. Of that, $4,772 was allotted to townships and road districts in Madison County.

Skids into parked cars

Two passengers were injured when the car of Darrell Hasty, 2917 Indiana Ave., struck two parked cars on East 27th Street at Ralph Street last week.

Hasty was charged with a stop sign violation. It is alleged his southbound auto skidded through the stop sign before hitting the parked cars of Jerry Williamson, 2520 E. 27th St., and Philip McGovern, 2518 E. 27th St. Hasty's car left about 112 feet of skid marks, officers related.

The impact pushed Williamson's auto into his lawn and Hasty's auto went onto the lawn and struck the front porch of Williamson's home, it was reported.

Ronald Cline, 17, of 3128 Jill Ave., suffered an injury to his right thumb and Frank Reid, 18, of 3341 Johnson Road, had a fractured nose. Both men, who were passengers in Hasty's auto, were released after treatment at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Pudgy's flairs mean good humor

I'm 100 pounds overweight. I like people and want to be a part of life, so I'm not a hermit. I can't stand to diet, so, as long as I'm in good health, I've decided to go ahead and be the fattest lady in town. What do you think? — T.W.

that's your decision, keep both chins up.

Also, keep your sense of humor in gear and your disposition sunny, seen in the combination of the beginning flair on m and n, and the slant of your t crossing; and, of course, your health in good repair.

Being alert to embarrassments is your biggest problem, seen in the high hump on the m and n. You'll have to come to steady grips with this.

Once a fat girl learns to laugh at herself instead of being apologetic about her excess cushioning, she often becomes a "huge" success. Seriously, though, with practice, you should be able

Q. Is the tightening of mortgage loan funds holding down the sale of homes?

A. There's no sign of a problem in selling homes in most areas, despite high prices and tightening mortgage funds. In fact, this will probably be another record year in home sales. Records are also being broken in the rate of home price increases. During the past year, the median price of homes increased 14.8 percent (nationally).

Rev. Mark Alterman, will be presenting two programs at First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, Sunday, Aug. 20, according to the Rev. Dale Edwards, host pastor.

In the morning service at 10:30, Rev. Alterman will present the Feast of Yom Kippor: The Day of Atonement. This program concerns itself with the "High Holy Days" of the Jewish people which have been observed since Biblical times. Yom Kippor is the "Day of Destiny" in which the Jew believes his destiny is decided for the coming year. Rev. Alterman will also relate this message to the Christian Gospel.

In the 6:30 p.m. service, the guest speaker will present the audio-visual program Jacob's Trouble. This program concerns the role of the Jewish people in the plan of God. The Jews are God's prophetic timepiece and an indicator of the last days. A rare film from Jewish history will be shown to illustrate the spoken message.

Garden Club studies herbs

A continuing study of "Herbs" provided the program of the Garden Study Club meeting held last week in the home of Mrs. Margaret Huseman of Collinsville.

Mrs. Genevieve McComis presented a story of a Texas couple who raise herbs and explained the many varieties and their uses.

Mrs. C. E. Eads also read an article which discussed herbs that exist.

To open the meeting all members repeated the club collect in unison and answered roll call by naming a successful garden venture.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller gave the secretary report and Mrs. McComis reviewed the treasurer compilation. Mrs. Eads also read correspondence relating to the Wood River Garden Club show set for Sept. 16.

A discussion was held on delivering recycling items to a container at Niedringhaus and Adams, sponsored by the Coordinated Youth Services.

A review of activities of the Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club was presented by Mrs. Judy Donley. She said the youth club's next event will be a swim party and barbecue at Tower Lake, and they visited Shaw's Garden this summer.

Others present were Mesdames Dan Seymour, Vera Frieden, Clara Winter, Dorothy Winter, Norma Crenshaw.

Navy Mothers plan projects

The Quad-City Navy Mothers, Chapter 850, discussed tentative plans for various projects to take place during the fall and winter months, at a monthly meeting held at the VFW Hall, last week.

Commander Stella Miller presided at the session, which was attended by 17 members and a guest, Jennifer Manning, a granddaughter of one of the members.

The "mystery" package was won by Alberta Bingham and the evening prize by Margaret Minzes.

The next meeting is scheduled for Aug. 24 at the VFW.

Paddlers add adult party planned

Paddlers Swim Club will host an adult swim party on Saturday, Aug. 26, from 6:30 to 11 p.m., for members and guests at the pool site, 2121 Johnson Road, according to Lee Suarez, chairman.

Tickets costing $5 per couple must be purchased no later than Monday, Aug. 21, she added.

Chicken will be served and those attending are requested to bring a side dish or dessert and their own beverage.

Tickets are available from Glen Cornelson, Jeanne Bridick or Mrs. Suarez, at Paddlers, it was noted.

GC meet on electors for national Demo delegates

Christ Costoff, Democratic Party chairman of Madison County, announced this week that a meeting will be held on Monday, Sept. 11, at 8 p.m. at the Granite City High School South auditorium, 3100 Madison Ave., to choose ten delegate electors.

The delegate electors will represent Madison County at a meeting to be held Sept. 25 at 8 p.m. of all such electors from all of the counties making up the 23rd Congressional District. Place of the Sept. 25 meeting to pick national convention delegates for the mid-term party gathering will be announced later.

Any person who is a Democrat, a qualified voter, and a resident of Madison County may participate at the Sept. 11 session here.

Any person who is a Democrat, a qualified voter and a resident of Madison County may be a candidate for delegate elector by filing with Costoff, Democratic county chairman, 1227 Madison Ave., Madison, and sending a copy of the filing to John P. Touhy, state chairman, 534 S. 2nd Street, Springfield, Ill. 62701, by Aug. 28.

Delegate electors elected on Sept. 11 will name two delegates, one man and one woman, on Sept. 25 to represent the 23rd District at the Democratic national conference to be held on Dec. 8-10, 1978, in Memphis, Tenn.

Mixed reaction to president's farming talk

President Jimmy Carter's appearance before a Columbia, Mo. convention on Monday drew a mixture of praise and questions from Illinois Farm Bureau President Harold B. Steele.

In a statement following Mr. Carter's address, Steele praised the president for his promises to stop beef imports, embargoes, and inflation. But he urged the Carter Administration to take immediate action to announce corn and soybean set-aside programs for the 1979 crop year. In view of reports that the 1978 crop may well set new record highs.

The Steele statement said: "Free, Carter's message to farmers Monday comes as welcome news in what he said, but raises serious questions about what he didn't say."

"His statements — that he would stop beef imports this year, that he opposes price controls on farm products, that government embargoes on grain shipments abroad are over, that he wants to expand farm exports, and that he wants to stop inflation — show that he has gotten the Farm Bureau message that we have worked so hard over the past year to have him hear and heed."

"But the fact that he overlooked last week's reports of record grain production raises serious questions in grain farmers' minds.

"He painted a rosy picture of farm income both this year and next, but his statement fails to mention that the corn farmer is probably facing another harvest with grain prices below the cost of production."

"Even if total farm income is up, that is a statistical fact which doesn't recognize that some farm income is drastically down."

"The Administration must announce effective set-aside programs for next year's corn and soybean crops early enough to make those set-asides really effective. He delayed his announcement this year much too long. He must not make the same mistake again."

"I hope his sensitivity to some of the major farm problems facing farmers in Illinois and across the nation will continue and that he will take prompt action."

"It appears Pres. Carter has finally put his concern about agriculture on the front burner. I hope he'll keep it there and turn up the heat."

any person who is a Democrat, a qualified voter, and a resident of Madison County may participate at the Sept. 11 session here.

Interim president

The executive committee of the Board of Trustees of McKendree College (Lebanon) has announced the selection of an interim president to replace Dr. Julian H. Murphy, who resigned the presidency July 12 for personal reasons.

Dr. Adolph Unruh, professor of education at St. Louis University since 1968, was appointed after consultation with the entire college board to serve as interim president of McKendree College effective Sept. 1.

A member of the McKendree Board of Trustees from 1960 to 1977, Dr. Unruh will continue to serve as advisor to his doctoral students at St. Louis University who have completed their research and are now writing their dissertations.

McKendree College also announced that the provost of the college, Dr. Leo H. Downey, has been appointed president of Medaille College at Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Downey, a nationally known educator and academic administrator, is a native of Newfoundland. Trained in the Jesuit tradition, he will be the second year president of the 105-year-old Medaille College.

LOOT AUTO TRUNK.
Six fishing rods and reels worth a total of about $100, a spare tire and wheel valued at $70 and two laundry baskets of clothing were stolen from the trunk of the car of Robert Cox, 1209 Rhodes St., parked at his home between 12:30 a.m. and 7:35 a.m. Saturday. The trunk lock was punched in to gain entry.

"I Trust, 4-9... But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you; for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another."

Of all the instructions given to us through the scriptures for correct Christian living, "love one for another" tops the list.

It is certainly true that we must teach and be taught in our daily service for God. If not, many of us would never progress much farther than silent prayer. In fact, the office of teacher, is equal in importance to apostles and prophets, evangelists and pastors!

Let us be quick to note that being instructed in brotherly love is totally in God's hands. Teaching is best illustrated by example, and God's example was Christ, who loved us and gave himself for us.

As He has loved us, even so we should love one another. Try it today.

Full house at SIUC

It looks like a full house again this year as Southern Illinois University at Carbondale gets ready for the opening of the fall semester Monday, Aug. 21. Officials in SIUC's Office of Admissions and Records and the University Housing Office say students are signing up for classes at about the same rate as last year, and all spaces in on-campus university housing have been filled for nearly a month. Jerre C. Pfaff, SIUC director of admissions, said this week that early figures show fall semester enrollment running "just about the same as last year at this point." Last fall's enrollment totaled more than 22,500 students. "We might be down 100 or so, but it's really hard to tell right now," Pfaff said. He said SIUC stopped accepting applications for admission from new freshmen on July 18. After that date, all new freshman applicants were advised their applications would be considered for the spring semester of 1979. Joseph Gasser, assistant director of university housing, said all 4,700 spaces in single student on-campus residence halls were filled by July 1. "We still have occasional cancellations that we'll sell to the next person who walks in the door, but for all practical purposes, we're full," Gasser said. He said the university's Southern Hills and Evergreen Terrace family housing areas are fully booked, and waiting lists are "as long as they've ever been." The outlook for off-campus housing in Carbondale isn't much rozier. Gasser said most apartments and rooms in town are spoken for. Accommodations in nearby towns are "beginning to fill," Gasser added. "They're going fast." Last-minute registration for fall semester classes will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. this week through Friday, Aug. 18, in the registration center in SIUC's Woody Hall. Roland Keim, associate director of admissions and records, said any student who hasn't paid tuition and fees by tomorrow or had them deferred will face cancellation of registration. Keim said late registration will be held Aug. 21-25, but any student who wishes to register late must first get permission from his or her academic dean. Pre-semester orientation activities for new students include:

—New Student information booths in the Student Center, Grinnell, Trueblood and Lentz Halls today, Friday and Saturday (Aug. 17-19). Activities planned to help new students get acquainted with the SIUC campus include: —Parents' Resource Center. Open from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. today and Friday (Aug. 17 and 18) in the Student Recreation Center. Orientation meetings with Student Life advisers 3-4:30 p.m. Friday in residence hall areas and the Student Center.

—Beach party from 1 to 4 p.m. at Campus Beach. SIUC's traditional Watermelon Fest from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Friday on the Old Main Mall in front of Shryock Auditorium. In addition, films, concerts — and an Inter-Greek Council-sponsored "casino night" in the Student Center — have been scheduled.

Medicare card vital

All people who are protected under Medicare hospital insurance or Medical Insurance, or both, should always show their Medicare cards whenever they receive care or services covered under this health insurance program, John Nathan, Social Security district manager in East St. Louis, says.

"It is important that the card be shown and the information taken from it and recorded properly."

"This way, chances of error are reduced so that the claims may be paid promptly. Errors made in recording the name or Medicare number can result in payment delays," Nathan commented.

"People should carry their Medicare card with them because a person can never tell when he or she will need a service covered by Medicare. Anyone who has lost or misplaced his or her Medicare card can get a replacement by contacting any social security office."

"Plastic or metal Medicare cards are sold by some companies. But these are not recognized replacements for the official card issued by Social Security."

"Detailed information about the care and services covered by Medicare can be found in the booklet, 'Your Medicare Handbook,' which is mailed to people who have this protection. People who have lost or misplaced their copy of the booklet can get a replacement copy at the East St. Louis office, located at 650 Missouri Ave., telephone 274-4100."

THE AMITYVILLE HORROR By Jay Anson Reviewed by David Butler, SIUC Department of English

In 1974 in Amityville, N.Y., a young man — influenced perhaps by supernatural powers — murdered his father, mother, two sisters and two brothers in their luxurious, suburban home.

The home stands on ground the Shinnecock Indians believed was inhabited by evil spirits. On Jan. 14, 1976, a young family of five fled the house in terror for their lives after living there 28 days.

"The Amityville Horror" records their day-by-day encounters with unexplained sounds, odors, illnesses, appearances, personality changes, and mechanical failures. When their priest tries to help, he is also plagued by mysterious mishaps. Even though the market is flooded with creepy-crawly tales these days, "The Amityville Horror" is effective journalism. Its cover boasts that it "will scare the heck out of you." It probably will.

Man arrested on weapon charge

Roger C. Pyles, 28, Washington Park, was arrested at the Clark Service station, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, at 7:15 p.m. Monday and was charged with unlawful use of a weapon, defacing the serial number on a gun and not having a valid firearm owner's identification card in his possession.

A policeman on patrol was stopped by a man who alleged Pyles had displayed a pistol and tried to get him to accompany Pyles to Madison.

Officers aimed a shotgun at Pyles and ordered him out of his pickup truck. A .38-caliber gun with the serial numbers removed allegedly was found behind the driver's seat.

By questioning Pyles and the man who had first stopped police, it was learned the incident was the result of a misunderstanding after the victim, a television repairman, was seen removing a television set from a Madison home for repairs.

Pyles said he believed the man had stolen the television and was attempting to force him to return it. He said he never aimed the gun at the victim, but displayed it in an effort to force the man to take the television back to the Madison home, police reported.

Women of Moose hosts Star Recorder night

Senior Regent Sara Gueswelle, of the Granite City Chapter of the Women of the Moose, was in charge of the Star Recorder Chapter Night, held last week at the Moose Home, 19th and Adams streets.

She introduced the eldest member of the Star Recorder, Mrs. Ella McKittick and presented her with a corsage as a token of appreciation on behalf of the chapter.

Mrs. Helen Davis was then escorted to the senior regents station and presented the award to conduct the special event.

Other star recorders who served as special officers for the evening included Mildred Votoupal, chaplain and Marion Lipscomb, guide.

Thirty-six members and the guests of honor attended a lunch of "more" and salads donated by the members of Granite City, and gifts were presented to each honoree from the senior regent.

Candidates for membership enrolled were Millie Mees, sponsored by Maxine Barnstable; Cora Besserman, sponsored by Rosella Mead; Mary Adams, sponsored by her mother Clara Johnson, and Sue Sturgeon, sponsored by Alice Skaggs.

Visitors included Nellie Schaefer, Lorraine Treter and Eunice Fore all from the Edwardsville Chapter and Bertha Dudley, past deputy grand regent from Illinois and a member of the Wood River Chapter.

Both Mrs. Dudley and Mrs. McKittick spoke on the star recorder. Several prizes were also awarded during the meeting and social hour.

GOSPEL FELLOWSHIP TO MEET SATURDAY

The Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship will meet at the Steelworkers Hall, 2821 East Broadway in Alton at 7 p.m. Saturday. There will be an hour of fellowship and refreshments before the meeting from 5:45 p.m. to 6:45 p.m.

Speaker will be Don Kelley of Sullivan, Mo., who has been in the retail business for 20 years. Kelley and his family will be ministering this summer throughout the United States and Canada.

Registrations are required no later than Monday, Sept. 11, with forms available from Mrs. Belleville, at 797-0685, or Wilma Large, 797-6665, both after 5 p.m.; or from public libraries in Granite City, Madison and Venice, at offices of local high schools when classes commence, or from individual club members.

The schedule calls for a registration period and coffee hour from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Sept. 16, with the assertiveness training from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

The luncheon and style show, presented by Boutique II, will take place between 11:45 a.m. to 1:15 p.m.

Two workshops may be attended during the afternoon, with workshop sessions arranged from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. and from 2:45 p.m. to 3:45 p.m.

Workshops will be offered on:

"Everything About Social Security"; "Rape Prevention"; "Interview Techniques and Resumes"; "Legal Rights for Women"; "Being an Effective Parent"; "Career Development"; "Self Management"; (time, talent, money); and "Managerial

Registration for 'Women Involved'

Advance registration starts this week for the "Women Involved" program, scheduled to take place Saturday, Sept. 16, at Granite City High School South cafeteria.

Ruth Belleville, general chairman of the extensive program focusing on topical subjects, said participation is open to all area women, regardless of employment status.

The workshop training program, sponsored by Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club, is being planned for women working at home, retired women, senior high and college students and women in business and the professions.

All day sessions will feature assertiveness training in the morning hours, a luncheon and style show, "Dressing for Success," at noon and workshops taught by qualified leaders in the afternoon.

A registration fee of $5 per person includes the luncheon and style show, Mrs. Belleville said.

"Women Involved" is believed the first program of its scope to be offered in the Quad-Cities.

Registrations are required no later than Monday, Sept. 11, with forms available from Mrs. Belleville, at 797-0685, or Wilma Large, 797-6665, both after 5 p.m.; or from public libraries in Granite City, Madison and Venice, at offices of local high schools when classes commence, or from individual club members.

'WOMEN INVOLVED' planners review details for the comprehensive program of topical subjects to be offered all area women Saturday, Sept. 16, at Granite City High School South, sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club. From left to right are Wilma Large, reservations chairman, Ruth Belleville, general chairman, and Ollie Derr, BPW second vice-president.

"Everything About Social Security"; "Rape Prevention"; "Interview Techniques and Resumes"; "Legal Rights for Women"; "Being an Effective Parent"; "Career Development"; "Self Management"; (time, talent, money); and "Managerial Women" (or those aspiring to be). Informational booths sponsored by area agencies which offer services to women will be open during registration, break periods and the luncheon segment, Mrs. Belleville said.

Dr. Jack Fritts, pastor, said the special meeting will be under the direction of the Aetna's, a girls' missionary group.

Church members and friends will bring small gifts to the service, such as paper, clips, glue and sundry supplies, to be sent in a total package to missionaries in need.

Following the spirit of Christmas, the adult choir will present the Christmas cantata, "Down From His Glory," and a fellowship hour will follow the service.

The public is invited to join in the program, Dr. Fritts said.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brase and family, Stephanie Brase, Rocky Brase, Cheryl Pacynski, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Ciprino and son Joseph of Florissant, Mo., Mrs. Helen McMath and family, Keith Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cooper and children John and Dennis of Millstadt, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Albert, Eldorado, Ill., Vernice Collins and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Orlan, Cahokia, Ill.

Other Granite Cityans attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Glasgow, George Foley, Bonnie McGowan and Chris Rose.

Police questioned one woman later, but did not arrest her because there was no evidence.

10th anniversary of Soviets' Czech invasion to be noted

A documentary on the tenth anniversary of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia will be aired Monday, Aug. 21, at 7 p.m. on WISD-FM (88.7), the radio station of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The 30-minute program will consist of two parts. The first will give a historical background of events leading to the Russian invasion, and the second part will consist of a round-table discussion between faculty members of SIUE.

Arthur A. Stahne, professor in the department of government and public affairs, Stanley B. Kimball, professor in the department of historical studies and Kamil Winter, professor in the department of mass communications, will participate in the discussion. Winter, who has researched and written the script, said the invasion will be discussed from today's viewpoint as well as lessons on international relations for America today.

He hopes that area people of Czechoslovak ethnic origin will learn more about their mother country from the program.

Volunteers are still being sought to help the Kidney Foundation with its candy sale, which is in progress.

The annual drive has produced more than $200,000 for research in patient services, public education and research over the past four years. The Foundation hopes to exceed the $60,000 mark for 1978.

The candy sale is coordinated in Missouri by the Kidney Foundation of Eastern Missouri and in Illinois by the Moose lodges of District 10.

Two products are being offered at each year. Party Nuts in resealable 7-oz. cans and the traditional Tootsie Roll candy banks. Individuals wishing to help sell either product are contacting (314) 863-5858.

"Gifts of life" provide artificial kidney machines for patients, continue current research, enlarge the donor program for transplantation, and provide patient drug banks and counseling.

The six warning signs of kidney disease are burning or difficulty during urination; puffiness around the eyes and swelling of hands and feet, especially in children; passage of blood; more frequent urination, particularly at night; hypertension; and pain in the small of the back just below the ribs (not aggravated by movement).

The musical portion of the evening includes with B. B. King and Bobby Blue Bland Together in the Blues at 10:30. The two create an hour of classic soul blues, some boogie and jazz, and earthy stylized vocals, interrupted only by the response of the audience.

King sings and plays many of his hits, including "Let the Good Times Roll" and "Live a Little." Bland's set includes a medley featuring "Stormy Monday" and "Lord Have Mercy." Together, they do "The Thrill is Gone" and "It's My Own Fault Darling."

Police questioned one woman later, but did not arrest her because there was no evidence.

Republicans entertaining at Crossroads

The Madison County Republican Men's Club is sponsoring a tent and variety of entertainment on the parking lot of Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center on Namoki Road which will continue through the weekend.

This evening, the Dan Stack for Congress 10-Piece Band will entertain at the tent and tomorrow the Jerry Kohn for Judge hot-air balloon will be inflated and lift off, weather permitting.

The Stack band also will play Friday and Saturday evenings at the tent. Most Madison County GOP candidates will appear at the event sometime between now and Saturday evening.

Among those who will greet visitors today through Saturday will be Kohn, Robert Billy, candidate for sheriff, Everett Steele and Janet Wilson, state representative candidates; Gladys Lewis, state senator candidate; Stack and others.

In the tent, volunteers are serving sandwiches and plates of barbecued pork steaks and chicken. Lemonade and iced tea also are being offered. Free balloons for the children and nicker moons are prime attractions.

The event is the major fundraising drive for Republican candidates from this area for the Nov. 7 general election. "We hope everyone can come and enjoy this event while helping us strengthen the two-party system in Madison County," commented in announcing the event.

Student retention, Cardinal-Cub ball game Sept. 23 promotion outlined will benefit area Shriners' hospital

Rules for promotion and retention of students were updated Tuesday night by the Granite City School Board, spelling out the specific factors that are considered.

Supt. Bob J. Davis said the policy seeks to "preserve students' self-image, initiative and desire to continue learning."

For children in elementary schools — kindergarten through the first six yearly grades — the new policy asserts that "retention should occur at the lowest grade level possible, preferably at kindergarten, first or second grade. This does not imply that pupils cannot be retained at a higher grade level if deemed necessary."

"Except in cases of extreme immaturity, consideration may be given to the placement of a pupil in half-day kindergarten and half-day first grade when the child is not ready for first grade work. It is understood that placement the following year would be in first grade."

"A second retention (holding back to repeat the year) may occur only after screening and recommendation of the resource team."

"Criteria to be considered as a basis for retention, promotion or acceleration should include:

- Classroom performance.
- Testing and/or interview data from special services.
- Maturation level.
- Attendance patterns.
- General status of health.
- Chronological age.
- Physical size.

"Parents shall be informed of the possible retention of their child no later than the beginning of the second semester, except in cases when the child has been enrolled in the school late in the school year, or other significant events have transpired late in the year to alter the child's progress. Information shall be collected from each certified staff member having contact with the child."

"Parents shall be notified of the retention of their child via a face-to-face conference. Written notification shall follow."

"The decision to retain a child shall not be changed prior to the beginning of the following school year as a result of summer school or tutoring, but may be reviewed as a result of these considerations during the first six weeks of the school year, with a view toward making possible adjustments."

"A recommendation for retention may originate with a certificated staff member or the child's parent."

"All retentions shall be jointly approved by the certificated staff involved and, once approved, jointly supported by the principal and other certificated staff involved."

"Each retention case shall be considered on an individual basis. If a child is having learning problems, he or she may be referred to the resource team to determine if the student is eligible for resource services."

"Full use should be made of the resource team, Learning Center, Coordinated Youth Services and Mental Health Clinic services, where these services are appropriate or applicable."

"Retention shall serve as a learning continuum. While materials may be repeated, the child will not be repeating skills already mastered."

"Whenever it may be to the best advantage of the pupil, a retained child shall be placed with a different teacher."

"Retention decisions shall be made in ample time for the pupil to adjust to the idea prior to the end of the school year."

For junior high schools (seventh and eighth grades), the following is the revised policy:

"Counseling of junior high school students who are having difficulty with academic progress shall be initiated early in the school year (October or November)."

"If notices indicating inadequate progress shall be sent to the parent or guardian. Phase adjustments may be made at this time."

"All first-semester grades shall be screened by the principal. Any student with more than one failing grade (F) shall be placed on a potential failure list, and a letter indicating grades, attendance and tardiness of the student shall be mailed to the parent."

"Each student on the potential failure list shall be provided a counseling session with each of two counselors to determine how the student may receive further help."

"The principal shall initiate a conference appointment with parents responding to the letter, and further conference referral may be made to the counselor(s) and/or the teacher(s)."

"Criteria to be considered as a basis for retention, promotion or acceleration should include:

- 1. Failure in three or more subjects (emphasis placed on language arts, mathematics, social studies).
- 2. Attendance record.
- 3. Previous failures.

"Generally, a student is retained only once during 7th and 8th grade."

"A seventh grader retained because of illness may make up deficiencies and go to eighth grade at mid-term of the retention year."

"A student retained in eighth grade may remedy deficiencies and go to ninth grade at mid-term of the retention year."

"At the beginning of the second semester, the principal shall again check semester grades and confer with other certificated personnel to have direct contact with the student, to determine whether the student shall be promoted or retained."

"The decision shall be jointly supported by all who are involved in the decision. In the case of failure, a letter shall be mailed to notify the parent."

"Students who have been retained one time and who fail again may be referred to the Coordinated Youth Alternate School."

"A second failure in a solid subject (language arts, mathematics or social studies) may result in waiving an elective in order to retake the solid subject."

Ainad Temple Shriners will sponsor a baseball game on Saturday, Sept. 23, at Busch Stadium between the Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs, with proceeds going to the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children. Ainad covers all of Southern Illinois, and has 8,400 Shrine nobles on its rolls. C. A. "Jack" Dempsey of Granite City is the potential.

One of the top temples of the 182 in the Shrine world in terms of child patient procurement, Ainad sent 238 children to the St. Louis orthopedic unit in 1977, as well as driving 48 children back and forth to the Burns Institute in Cincinnati for care and surgery.

The St. Louis unit, the largest of the 18 orthopedic hospitals the Shrine supports, is located on Lindbergh Boulevard. When opened, it was a 100-bed unit.

The children come from 20 temple areas in the Midwest which include, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Indiana and Iowa.

More than 15 parade units will perform prior to the Sept. 23 professional baseball game, which starts at 1:15 p.m.

Potestate Dempsey and his Divan of officers will be part of the pre-game ceremonies, along with members of the Hospital Board of Governors.

Many other Shrine temples have been invited to participate, including Moolah of St. Louis, Zorah of Terre Haute, Ind., Hadi of Evansville, Ind., Ansar of Springfield, Ill., and Mohammed of Peoria.

One of the features of the pre-game show will be the appearance of movie star "Ricky," a child born without arms.

"After four years of help from Shrine Hospitals, he does a terrific job at many things. As a two-year-old, he made a movie that has been widely used in explaining the work of the hospitals."

Ainad Administrator Russell Maxwell said.

Tickets for the game must be purchased from Ainad Temple in order for the hospital to get the benefit. They are $4 each and are reserved on the first and third base sides.

"Bring your check or mail it to Ainad Temple at 609 St. Louis Ave., in East St. Louis before Sept. 19, or telephone 874-1870," Maxwell said.

More than $10,000 has been obtained from past baseball games with the Cardinals' support.

"Night in Venice" Saturday

St. Mark's Catholic Church, in Venice, will sponsor its fourth annual "Night in Venice" Saturday, Aug. 19. The one-day event will begin at noon on the school grounds, 6th Street and Broadway.

Food featured for the day will include Italian beef sandwich, mozzarella, Italian sausage, tacos, hamburgers and corn-on-the-cob.

A wine and cheese stand will serve several types of wine and cheeses throughout the day.

Games and activities will be offered for children, teenagers and adults. Snow cones and soda also will be available.

Dance music for the evening will be provided by the "Tune Twisters."

Attendance prizes will be awarded during the event.

Auto leaves crash scene

A blue 1968 Pontiac which left the scene of a three-vehicle accident on Edwardsville Road south of 21st Street, is being sought by local authorities.

Witnesses said the blue car was southbound at a high rate of speed and struck the rear of the southbound car of Eula Simmons, 70, of Rural Route One, Box 418, Granite City, pushing Mrs. Simmons' auto into the car of Deborah Bloom, 27, St. Louis.

The Pontiac then fled the scene west on 20th Street.

Mrs. Simmons was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted with multiple contusions and injuries to her right shoulder and right hip.

Deborah Bloom also reported minor injuries, but did not seek emergency treatment.

Party honors Anne Hewlett

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hewlett, 2121 Cottage Ave., entertained guests on the lawn of their home on Sunday in honor of the third birthday of their daughter, Anne Marie Hewlett.

Guests attending were the honoree's brother, Mark Hewlett, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rainwater and their son, Gary.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. James Parker and children, Jimmy and Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Franko, Mrs. Judy Ripley and Richard, Miss Dorothy Von Gruenigan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halvachs and Elizabeth and Sarah, Miss Catherine Tretter, Mrs. Elizabeth Meyers and Mrs. Ann Randall.

42 attend Sherfy reunion

The 13th reunion of the Sherfy family was held at the Westerner's Lodge in Alton, and several Quad-Cityans were among those present.

The family enjoyed games and visiting with other relatives. Those awarded special prizes were Mrs. Schley Martin, Angela Sue Judd, Mrs. Mary Tolle and special honor to Mrs. Nellie Krieg, 91, most senior relative present and to Miss Lauri Castro, from Las Vegas, Nev., who traveled the farthest.

Isaac Meeden said blessing before a smorgasbord type dinner. All family members brought their favorite prepared recipes, and a large variety of desserts. Flowers centered the table.

Officers were elected to arrange the next family reunion and handle other family matters. Re-elected was LaVerna Gwillim of Alton as president for the fifth year, and Susan (Sherfy) Judd, fourth year secretary, and Larry W. Judd as treasurer for fourth year.

Following the afternoon activities, Lazenby Studios took family pictures.

Those attending this year's reunion were: Mr. and Mrs. Larry W. Judd with daughters, Angie and Amy from Venice, Mrs. Mary Velma Milton from Granite City with great-granddaughters, Lauri Castro from Las Vegas, Nev., and Janet and Jamie Haynes from Arkansas, Lois Weeks from Granite City, Mr. and Mrs. Schley H. Deaf interpreters to meet Saturday

Rosemary Lucafo, president of the Illinois Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf, will meet with prospective sign language interpreters in downstate Illinois on Saturday, Aug. 19.

Mrs. Hudson added that public law 94-142 and implementation of it by Vocational Rehabilitation Act has created a demand for more interpreters in schools, hospitals and courts, involving adults and children.

Persons with the basic skills in sign language are invited to attend the informal meeting, Mrs. Hudson added. For information those interested are advised to call 797-0205.

VACATIONISTS RETURN TO CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Woodward and children from San Juan Capistrano, Calif., have returned to their home after spending eight days visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Woodward of Granite City.

The former resident is an engineer employed by McDonnell-Douglas in Huntington Beach. While here they attended his 30th high school reunion held at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Lioness Club to install

The Lioness Club of Pontoon Beach will hold its second annual installation of officers and new members on Tuesday, Aug. 22, at Charlie's Restaurant. The first installation was held Oct. 22, 1977.

A hospitality hour at 6 p.m. will open the event to be followed by a 7 o'clock dinner. District Lioness Chairman Richard Slight of the Quincy Lions Club will conduct the installation ceremony for newly elected officers and District Lion Governor John Spurrer of Quincy will be in charge of the initiation of new members.

Officers to serve for the forthcoming year include, Charlotte Fowler, president; Glenda Duval, vice-president;

Maribeth Dake, secretary; Linda Schermer, treasurer; Donna McIntosh, Lioness Turner Tail Twister; Veronica Kelley, director; and Joyce Hastings, director.

New members are Phyllis Childress, Thelma Dean, Hazel Diffee, Reida Diffee, Nancy Goodwin, Dolores Kieffer, Patty McCar, Diane Miller, Frances "Tiny" Polley and Del Whitell.

During a monthly meeting, Dave Schermer was appointed by Lion President Larry McKee as the liaison officer for 1978-79, and office which was formerly served by Donald Patrick, now Lion zone chairman.

President Fowler announced the ensuing year committee appointments with Mrs. Schermer named hospitality chairman and Kathy Briggs, Sandy Stein and Del Whitell, as committee members.

Cindy Niepert will head the constitution and by-laws committee and will be assisted by Reida Diffee, Marion Henderson, Diane Miller and Mrs. Schermer; attendance and membership committee chairman, Kathy Briggs, with Thelma Dean, Maribeth Dake and Del Whitell, as members; publicity and public relations chairman Diane Miller, and members Hazel Diffee, Reida Diffee, Phyllis Childress, Joyce Hastings and Dolores Kieffer.

Noble Grand Betty Applegate of Delray Rebekah Lodge 786, announced the annual Odd Fellows of District 79 picnic will be held Sunday at Wilson Park, at a meeting of the organization held last week.

Members met in the Odd Fellows Hall in Madison and participated in the annual birthday celebration for all members. Mrs. Cathy Applegate was in charge of the social event, and Mrs. Thelma Stockton read a poem entitled, "A Rebekah Speaks."

Mrs. Nita Pendleton, treasurer of District 26, extended an invitation to the members to attend an ice cream social at the Odd Fellows Hall in Troy. Honors will be accorded to Willard Davis as a member of the year. Fifty members of the Odd Fellows for 65 years. The event is set for 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 19. Mrs. Applegate announced a kitchen shower will be conducted at the Aug. 23 meeting, and Pauline Eickert was named to serve as chairman.

An auction of handmade articles will be held after the picnic with the proceeds to go to the Odd Fellow and Rebekah Home in Mattoon.

Those attending were Lea Mae Salmon, Lucille Veach, Elsie Vance, Hazel Wheeler, Opal Voss, Edith Carpenter, Marie Ziegler, Betty Barnett, Rev. Charlotte Zachery, Daisy Burnett, Estella McBrien, Rose Lawrence, Mae Hendricks, Emyle Alford, Dorothy Wood, Altha Lassen, Pearl Wood, Erna Graces, Verna Wilman, Ruth Hannenbrink, Agnes Marie Laska Spickett, Becky Parrish, Eula Myers, Mable Clark from Juanita Lodge, and Grace Gerstenecker of Troy.

Women's Division to dedicate park

Members of the Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce will participate in a membership drive telephone on Channel 9 from 6 to 11 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 23, to aid membership for the St. Louis television station, according to Mrs. Billie Schuler, president.

Plans were also completed during a monthly meeting for a summer outing and picnic scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 27, to be hosted by Beverly and Janet Partney. The event will be at the 3 D Ranch in St. Charles, Mo. Observations are to be made at the Chamber office and those attending will leave the Chamber parking lot at 8:30 a.m. for the excursion.

Arrangements were also finalized for a formal dedication ceremony on Tuesday, Sept. 12, at 11 a.m. to name the mini park at Niedringhaus Avenue and Cleveland Boulevard the Jo Meyer Park.

Swann-Baker wedding

Miss Debra Baker and Arman James M. Swann were united in marriage in a civil ceremony on July 10, in Phoenix, Ariz.

The bride is a daughter of retired Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. James J. Baker of Annadale, Va. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swann, reside at 130 Briarcliff of Troy.

The former Miss Baker is a graduate of W. T. Woodson High School in Fairfax, Va., and the groom was graduated from Granite City High School. They will reside in Phoenix, Ariz., while Arman Swann is stationed at Luke Air Force Base, Ariz.

Colorful and elegant linens for dining Vibrant, warm and familiar, table linens enhance the pleasant moments of everyday living.

Your table linens are the background for every setting. The theme with texture, color, and pattern. The look can be modern, provincial, traditional, Victorian or a combination.

Dramatic accent
As the background for all your table treasures—china, glassware and favorite decorations and centerpieces, choose your linens as you select wardrobe accessories, to complement, to accent, to dramatize.

For that special occasion formal table, the classic "white" linen tablecloth is no longer the rule. Although white is classic and always in good taste, today we have adapted color throughout the home.

Now the finest decorative linens come in colors that range from cool pastels to brilliant jewel tones. In using color, pastel tends to lend dignity and a more quiet look, deep colors a dramatic effect.

For all times
Place mats of Belgian linen and polyester can set the mood for every setting and occasion. Proper and elegant for the most formal setting, embroidered and decoratively edged. Pretty and practical for breakfast to midnight snacks—in simple textures trimmed in contrasting colors.

Flexible, they adapt to many different serving arrangements. They come in all sizes to fit different tables, from the popular bridge table, to the lovely oval, oblong and round.

Remember the larger the table, the longer the overhang—5" to 10" overhang for a small table—10" to 15" for a larger table. For a more graceful appearance, buffet tables may even have a longer overhang.

Mix and match
Select napkins in a variety of solid colors, plain, embroidered, or appliqued—all to mix and match. Napkins are a decorative touch, and also subtly indicate formality or informality of the setting.

The larger the napkin, the more formal. Knowing several napkin folds can give your table settings a little added dignity for special occasions, amusing touches at other times.

In selecting your table linens do not forget maintenance. Since homemakers must schedule less and less time for housework, 100 percent linen cloths have been supplanted by a 65 percent Belgian linen-35 percent polyester blend cloth with a permanent press and soil release finish.

Smooth and fold
Best results are obtained by tumble drying in an automatic dryer. Remove immediately at end of cycle, smooth by hand and fold neatly.

NURSE CURRICULUM FUND
Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's School of Nursing is the recipient of a grant totaling $82,560 for continued support of a project entitled "Improved Curriculum in the Baccalaureate Program." The project is under the direction of Sharon Merritt, assistant professor of nursing at the university.

Soloist Bill Wagner will return to the Community Heights Assembly of God Church for the third time on Tuesday evening, Aug. 22, the Rev. Jeff Smith, pastor, announced this week.

The public is invited to hear the renowned singer at the 7:30 p.m. evening service, the minister said.

For the past year, Wagner has been guest soloist with C. M.

Ward and has appeared with Ward at district conventions and camp meetings throughout the United States.

Of his soloist, Ward commented, "Bill Wagner's warm, clear, masculine voice has ministered from a thousand stadiums, always exalting Christ."

Community Heights Church is located at Faith and Buxton avenues in Granite City.

Mrs. Davis is shower honoree

Mrs. Robert Davis, of Florissant, Mo., was guest of honor at a baby shower given this week at St. Elizabeth School cafeteria by Mrs. Prima Engeln, Mrs. Margie Tarasovich, Mrs. Margot Moore, Mrs. Helen Noeth, Mrs. Sharon Parker and Mrs. Carol Moore.

A yellow and white decor was used for the table appointments with live plants centering the tables, and later given as prizes. Tiny infant garments trimmed in yellow served as favors.

A buffet luncheon was served after the honoree opened her gifts.

Those winning prizes in the afternoon games were Beth Ann Mueller, Marie Noeth, Cheryl Haggard, Maxine Carson, Mary Ann Skowron, Norma and Darla Tison, Rebecca Tulka, Roberta Lambert, Irene Louis, Mary Lou Worthen, Gertrude Williams, Dorothy Scheibel, Barbara Barr, Katharine Sekora, Ray and Ann Noeth, Sandy Peterson, Ruth Noeth and Diane Vivod.

Others attending were Donna Mueller, Mildred Noeth, Louise Noeth, Jo Ann Terrell, Dolores Carson, Mattie Pope, Marie Dokaauer, Mary Noeth, Florence Byrne, Betty Shevik and Susan Gasparovic.

Mrs. Davis is the former Sandy Noeth, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Noeth of Granite City.

REUNION IS COMBINED WITH BIRTHDAY PARTY
A family reunion picnic and 73rd birthday celebration for Mamie Pelikan were held at Wilson Park.

Those attending included Mrs. Carolyn Hammar of Cedar Lake, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rock and daughter, Jeanne, of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Florence Kohl of Houston, Tex., Mrs. Martha and Paul Goodson of Virginia Beach, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moore of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Missourians here were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morgan, Mrs. Helen Schwartz, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Edgar and daughter, Jill, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Phinney, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuehn and Mrs. Bea Telczek.

Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Saunders and daughter, Nikki, of Glen Carbon, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dolan and son, Nathan, of Carmi, Ill., Mrs. Glenda Awall of Dupo and Henry Kuhlman of Wood River.

Attending from the Granite City area were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Franko, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pelikan and children, Rhonda, Edward and Terri, Mr. and Mrs. Ted McNell, Kim School, Kevin Lambert, Mrs. Diane Nicholas and Becky and Holly Nicholas.

Will Rogers slept better when the legislature wasn't in session; Thompson OTB stand may aid Illinoisans' rest

It took Governor James Thompson considerable time to come around to his current position on the "on target" — opposition to the ill-conceived 1978 off-track betting proposal.

His comment this week: "It is wrong to rely on people's weakness to support government. If the people of Illinois want off-track betting, they'll have to elect someone else as their governor. I will neither support an OTB bill nor sign one. The evil far outweighs the small revenue OTB would produce."

Noting that the Illinois Supreme Court in July upheld a law banning private horse race track bet messenger services, the governor added that some shops "were like a black market operation, operating on every street corner, close to schools, churches and homes. It seems wrong to me to close these evil places and then reopen them as a 'salvation' for government."

"OTB offers a false hope, like the state lottery, of a solution to rising property taxes, but raises only a comparatively small amount of money."

Thompson's more state revenue sharing with local-level governments, and said savings from Cost Control Task Force recommendations will be divided with local agencies.

The off-track betting, bingo and, to a lesser extent, the state-run lottery have achieved popularity, the idea of an endless extension of additional kinds of gambling losses much of its luster and revenue-producing potential.

The off-track betting plan that made so much progress in the Illinois legislature had major flaws, including the absurd concept of regional betting administration by unrepresentative "core cities," among them East St. Louis for Madison and St. Clair counties.

Good riddance to bad legislation.

Pardon our yawn but the 2 petition plans don't mean much

Perhaps we ought to get more excited about it—the thrilling race against time, involving rival efforts to obtain Nov. 7 advisory voting on "tax limitation."

Both petition campaigns have a deadline of 5 p.m. Monday, Aug. 21, at the office of the State Board of Elections. Each needs a minimum of 625,000 signatures of registered voters.

An offshoot of the former Daniel Walker political organization, the Coalition for Political Honesty, had collected 430,000 signatures through Monday. Its campaign has been in progress for several weeks.

Interest in it increased after California voters, Proposition 13, ordered a mandatory taxation curb in that state. The Illinois Coalition's petitions ask voters if they want local property taxes reduced by 25 percent.

The "Thompson proposition," announced July 18 with much fanfare, suffers from the same weakness as that of the Coalition proposal: It is advisory in nature, with no enforcement power.

Gov. James Thompson's proposal asks whether citizens want a ceiling on state and local taxing and spending. Aided by expenditure of $200,000-plus to encourage petition circulation, the effort had obtained 300,000 signatures by Monday of this week.

Because neither plan is binding on the General Assembly, because both are somewhat vague about how they would be applied, and because they have now become intertwined with the statewide partisan election campaigns, neither activity seems likely to accomplish much, regardless of whether the ballot deadline is met.

Snowfall plan—ready in August—for GC schools

The Granite City School District has adopted a new procedure for pupil transportation that will be used periodically during this coming winter.

The new procedure will be as follows: The superintendent of schools or his designee may declare a "snow schedule" when this plan is declared the following operations will be put into effect:

A. News media will be notified. Announcements will be on AM stations WGN, KMOX, KXOR and KSD.

B. Senior high schools opening time will be delayed until 9:30 a.m.

C. Junior high schools opening time will be delayed until 9:00 a.m.

D. Elementary schools will begin at the normally scheduled time.

E. Bus schedules will be established as outlined below:

Elementary pickups begin: 8:15-8:20 a.m.

High School pickups begin: 8:50-8:55 a.m.

Junior High School pickups begin: 9:25 to 9:30 a.m.

F. Staff members will report at the normal time.

G. Dismissal times will be as normally scheduled for all schools.

The reasons for the above schedule is to help insure that elementary pupils will not have to stand as long waiting for buses that are delayed while making runs for the junior and senior high schools, Davis said.

This will also allow parents to maintain normal procedures for getting the elementary child to school, he added. It is expected that the older pupil can adjust to change without undue difficulty. This schedule also will delay the pickup of the "rush hour" is over and make it less hazardous for the pupils and drivers transporting pupils to school, Davis noted.

If schools are to be closed entirely, the announcement also will be made on AM stations WGN, KMOX, KXOR and KSD. Such announcement will be made prior to 7 a.m.

Early dismissals of the schools will be called only when also called by the radio and will be announced by the radio stations by 12 noon.

Persons are asked not to call to inquire about whether the schools are open or if the snow schedule is in effect since during these periods district personnel and phones are needed to take the necessary steps to close or alter school schedules. The radio will be the best source of information, Davis noted.

Again, it is emphasized that schools usually will be open during inclement weather, and that the "snow schedule" will not be put into effect during every snow storm, but only when conditions make it necessary, he explained.

The Quad-City area is fortunate in that it is a very flat geographical area that permits movement during winter snowstorms. There are no large hills or steep, treacherous roads.

"Due to the extent of work of our various road and street departments, under normal snow conditions, Quad-City is able to continue to operate as routine, but perhaps at a little slower, more cautious pace," Davis said.

It is the general procedure of district 9 to keep schools open during periods when snow is prevalent. Only when it is impossible for buses to run is school cancelled and this determination is made by the school bus company very early in the morning by actual observation of road conditions by a bus official and in consultation with the school administration.

The new policy, however, regarding inclement weather, makes a substantial change in bus schedules and starting times for schools which is referred to as the "snow schedule" which will keep schools open and will maintain the required five clock hours of instruction.

Davis outlined this rationale for keeping schools open in inclement weather:

A. In a great percentage of homes, both parents work, and if school is not in session, parents have baby-sitting problems. Children are often without proper supervision which creates a very undesirable and unsafe condition. The Board of Education feels that children are better off in school than out playing in the rain, snow or ice.

B. The state law requires that schools be in session a minimum of 176 days, and if the school year is short due to emergency closings, all remaining vacation days in the calendar must be eliminated.

C. If the school year is extended, this entails additional costs for teachers' salaries.

The school district has five emergency days in the school calendar, as required by law; however, if we go beyond the five days, other measures must be taken because of costs involved and possible loss of state aid, Davis said.

"Please clip this article and keep for reference this winter," he suggested. Hopefully, we will not experience as severe weather as we had last year, but schools will operate on the normal schedule each day. Your understanding and cooperation is necessary for a smooth operation of the "snow schedule" when invoked and will be greatly appreciated, the superintendent concluded.

Democrats, Republicans challenge Rep. Lucco—but after the deadline

"Will they love me in November 1978 as they did in 1976?" State Representative Joe E. Lucco, Edwardsville, of the 56th Illinois Legislative District isn't sure, now that he has switched from being a Democrat to an independent.

Both the Democratic and Republican parties are unhappy with his technical switch, alleging after he was nosed out in the party primary election held in March. Both were involved in an effort this week to challenge his candidacy, but they acted too late. Lucco's switch was made further after he lost the Nov. 7 ballot, John A. Penning, a vice-chairman of the county GOP central committee said after conferring with party chairman Dr. Edward Ragdale Wednesday.

Dr. Ragdale and County Democratic Chairman Christ Costello are said to have sent a challenge by messenger to the State Board of Elections office in Springfield on Monday, but he arrived at 4:40 p.m., after it had closed. The board said it was open Saturday as the final day for challenging of candidates' petitions.

It rejected the late Monday afternoon attempt, even though Madison County lawyers questioned whether Saturday is a "working day" under the meaning of state law.

Penning was critical of Dr. Ragdale, saying the Republicans' candidate committee had decided Aug. 11 against challenging Lucco's petitions. Costello is said to have suggested the joint action.

Rep. Lucco this summer formed a third party ticket, all of whose members are backing him.

Three Illinois House seats are to be decided for two-year terms in 1978. They are Rep. Everett Steele of Glen Carbon and Mrs. Janet Wilson of Granite City, while Democratic nominees are Rep. Jim McPhee of Alton and former representative Sam Wolf of Granite City.

Democratic leaders have questioned whether party funds are sufficient to make major efforts on both state representative and circuit judge competition.

If Lucco were off the ballot, some assert, the party would be able to concentrate on electing William Johnson over Republican Gerald Cohn for judge.

"My chances look better now than they ever have," Rep. Lucco commented yesterday. Referring to the two party leaders, he said, "I don't know why they did it. I didn't think they would try."

Political observers say three Democrats, including Lucco, probably can be elected this fall. But Rep. Steele is convinced that he will win re-election in an alley, and the other four hopefuls will lose out.

If the challenge had been filed in time, some believe, it might have been ruled that the same person could not represent one party in the spring and another party in the fall.

2 attack Coleman; 2 located nearby

Badly beaten and kicked about the face and head, Granite City Seventh Ward Alderman Ronald L. Coleman, 44, of "Woodland Avenue, is seeking to have charges filed against two men.

A former and a present Granite City businessman were arrested at 2:15 a.m. Wednesday following the beating on the Charles' Restaurant parking lot. Both were booked on battery counts, later withdrawn pending a study of possible state charges.

Coleman was not the alderman involved in an alleged assault on the parking lot with two men inside, and Coleman identified them as his assailants. The pair told officers they had been sleeping in the car.

When questioned about blood on one of the shirts, they said he had fallen down earlier that night. An off-duty officer told of seeing Coleman leave the restaurant, followed by the two men.

A short time later, each suspect posted a cash bond and was released.

Coleman said he recognized

Two charged after accident, fight

Robert L. Riley, 29, of 2125 Illinois Ave., has been charged with discharging a firearm in the city limits, disorderly conduct and leaving the scene of an accident, and Howard W. Richter, 22, of the same address has been charged with disturbing the peace in the vicinity of West 22nd Street and Illinois Avenue Wednesday night.

The four alleged to that area on a report of a hit-and-run accident and shots being fired. They alleged finding six men fighting in an alley, some swinging boards or clubs.

They broke up the fight and put Riley and Richter in squad cars while they questioned the other four to determine what had caused the incident.

The four alleged the occupants of Riley's auto and their auto exchanged words in the street after one car blocked the other's path, and when some passengers in the one car approached Riley's auto on foot, Riley fired a pistol at them. Riley then allegedly sped from the scene, but turned too wide at the corner and struck the parked car of Richard Delaney, 2006 Illinois Ave.

Riley's auto, another shot was fired at them and Riley's car then backed up and left the scene, it was alleged.

The four witnesses said they remained at that location and a few minutes later, Riley and Richter came walking nearby. The four then jumped on them in an attempt to hold them until police arrived, officers were told.

Riley's car was located behind a house in the 2300 block of Lundy Avenue and a pistol was found hidden under a pan in the yard near the car, police said.

Wm. Page Jr. dies at 66

William H. Page Jr., 66, of 358 W. Lake Drive, Edwardsville, a retired employee of the Edwardsville Aluminum Co. of Madison, died at 2:40 a.m. today at Oliver Anderson Hospital, Maryville. He had been a patient in the hospital one day.

He was born in Sumner, Mich. Mr. Page worked as a maintenance supervisor for the Madison plant and previously worked for 21 years for the same company in Detroit, Mich. He retired in 1971.

Mr. Page was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Edwardsville. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Doris (Knippel) Page; two daughters, Mrs. David (Sue Ann) Nichols and Mrs. Sally J. Page, both of Grandfork, N.D.; two brothers, Robert L. Page, of Madison, and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Three persons were injured when the cars of Charles Smith Jr., 50, of 1232 Christie St., and Harry Thurau, 2516 Center St., collided at Nameoki Road and Jill Avenue at 3:15 p.m. Wednesday.

Thurau was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way after turning from Jill Avenue onto Nameoki Road at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Jean Stogdill, 2410 Bryan Ave., alleged Mrs. Womack and three other women followed Mrs. Stogdill and her husband through Woolworth's store, 19th Street and Edison Avenue, calling them vulgar names.

The Stogdills then went to their auto and got in, when the three other women followed them and approached and one struck Mrs. Stogdill several times on the face and left shoulder with a fist.

Another woman allegedly displayed a large knife and stated "It isn't over yet." The Stogdill drove to the police station and reported the incident.

Mrs. Womack was seen in front of the Granite City Hall and was arrested. She posted $35 bond and was released.

Francis Hartlein, 53, of Collinsville, suffered pains in the chest, neck and left shoulder, and Keith Rabe, 23, of 124 Washington Ave., Madison, was treated for pains in the back and neck and a contusion of the right arm. X-rays were taken and both were released.

Crane hits truck two men are hurt

Two employees of Wilbur Waggoner Trucking Co. were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday for injuries sustained when a truck in which they were seated was struck in the rear by a crane.

Francis Hartlein, 53, of Collinsville, suffered pains in the chest, neck and left shoulder, and Keith Rabe, 23, of 124 Washington Ave., Madison, was treated for pains in the back and neck and a contusion of the right arm. X-rays were taken and both were released.

Board race challenges heard; ruling later

Press-GARY SCHNEIDER
By GARY SCHNEIDER
The Madison County Election Board heard testimony yesterday in Edwardsville, Ill., in challenges to the county board candidates of Robert Barton (Republican) and Mrs. Helen Hawkins (People for Helen Hawkins) and the board is expected to rule tomorrow.

Gov. James Thompson's proposal asks whether citizens want a ceiling on state and local taxing and spending. Aided by expenditure of $200,000-plus to encourage petition circulation, the effort had obtained 300,000 signatures by Monday of this week.

Because neither plan is binding on the General Assembly, because both are somewhat vague about how they would be applied, and because they have now become intertwined with the statewide partisan election campaigns, neither activity seems likely to accomplish much, regardless of whether the ballot deadline is met.

Whitell's challenge against Mrs. Hawkins alleged she can not legally "jump" from the Democratic Party to another party while remaining a Democratic precinct committee member and secretary of the Nameoki Township committee's group.

Circuit Judge Elmer Calvo was appointed by Chief Judge Moses W. Harrison III to chair the meeting of the election board and preside at yesterday's meeting where the challenges were aired.

Other members of the election board, by state statute, are the county clerk, Evelyn Bowles, and the state's attorney, Nicholas C. Byrne.

Byron's position on the board was challenged by Attorney William "Chuck" Evers III, who represented Barton, since Whitell is a County Board member and votes on the appropriations for the state's treasury's office.

Evers, attempting to formalize the informal meeting, had Byron seated as a witness and Byron then testified he was not prejudiced in the case. Calvo then refused a request to remove Byron from the election board.

Calvo also rejected a motion to halt the proceedings for a contention by Evers that the board was improperly constituted, having three elected Democrats deciding allegations against a Democrat.

Republican Calvo said there were hundreds of similarly constituted boards throughout the state and any challenge to the constitutionality of the law should be taken through circuit court to the appellate court.

Calvo said the board would rule on all motions during its deliberations, rather than at the hearing. "We're not being given any of our rights to have objections ruled on," Evers stated heatedly.

Mrs. Hawkins was sworn in, at Evers' insistence, and testified that she had conducted an independent investigation which indicated Barton had moved from 3104 Mockingbird Lane, which is in District 26, to 285 E. 27th Street, in Granite City, about June 19.

Barton was sworn in and testified he moved from the home on Mockingbird Lane twice due to divorce proceedings in 1974 and 1977 and had lived for a time in his real estate office, which is in District 26.

He agreed he lived on East 27th Street for a time, but because of a court order, and he retained ownership of the home on Mockingbird Lane. He has since moved to the home on Mockingbird Lane and testified it was always considered his permanent address, although he was forced to move to other temporary addresses at times.

Evers pointed out that the law differentiates between permanent and temporary addresses and contended Barton's permanent address, as shown by his state and local addresses, was the home on Mockingbird Lane.

Attorney H. Carl Runge represented Barton and said numerous court decisions which he said show the courts historically have disallowed the "jumping" of parties by candidates "to preserve the integrity of the two-party system."

He said the 24-month rule, which kept voters from changing parties before primary elections, was invalidated by the courts, but contended the decision affects only voters, and not candidates.

Runge said he feels Mrs. Hawkins cannot hold two positions in the Democratic Party while being a candidate in another party. He also contended her running as a Democrat in the primary, losing, and then filing for the general election on another party has the effect of giving her supporters two votes for her prior to the general election, which violates the state's "one man, one vote" rule.

"What you have here is a disgruntled Democrat who will not give up her party job, because she plans to use that position to further her candidacy in another party," Runge told the board.

Mrs. Hawkins said she resigned as precinct committee member for previous candidacy and then was told by the state's attorney's office and the state board of elections she did not have to resign the committee post. "I felt for the first time and I simply won't do it again," she told the board.

She gave the board a copy of a letter she had received June 28 from the state board of elections which said she did not have to resign her Democratic posts to run on another ticket.

She also said Sam Wolf, secretary-treasurer of the Democratic Central Committee, told her she was not subject to party rules requiring her to resign.

The board took copies of all the documents and motions and agreed to reach a speedy decision on the challenges.

GC faculty-board talks continuing

Sue P. Womack, 21, of 2422 Madison Ave., was charged with battery after an incident in downtown Granite City at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Jean Stogdill, 2410 Bryan Ave., alleged Mrs. Womack and three other women followed Mrs. Stogdill and her husband through Woolworth's store, 19th Street and Edison Avenue, calling them vulgar names.

The Stogdills then went to their auto and got in, when the three other women followed them and approached and one struck Mrs. Stogdill several times on the face and left shoulder with a fist.

Another woman allegedly displayed a large knife and stated "It isn't over yet." The Stogdill drove to the police station and reported the incident.

Mrs. Womack was seen in front of the Granite City Hall and was arrested. She posted $35 bond and was released.

Francis Hartlein, 53, of Collinsville, suffered pains in the chest, neck and left shoulder, and Keith Rabe, 23, of 124 Washington Ave., Madison, was treated for pains in the back and neck and a contusion of the right arm. X-rays were taken and both were released.

News notes

The U.S. House voted 233-189 on Tuesday to keep the Equal Rights Amendment alive by extending the ratification period 39 months, from March 1979 to June 1982. Allowing states to rescind their approval was rejected, 227-196.

Opponents of extending the deadline may filibuster against it in the Senate.

National Steel Corp. Chairman George A. Silson on Tuesday withdrew the firm's complaint about alleged below-cost "dumping" of steel in the U.S. He said the complaint is valid but he prefers that the federal government make its own market.

The firm's trigger-price mechanism work effectively in curbing excessive steel imports.

$9,100 TRAILER GONE
A new red 40-foot flatbed trailer valued at $9,100 was stolen from a lot at 15th Street and Grand Avenue between 5:30 p.m. Tuesday and 2:25 p.m. Wednesday. The trailer, owned by George Wilcox, of Wilcox, Ohio, has four-foot side boards, six canvas covers and 12 tie-down chains.

SPRINGFIELD — Two out of the three Granite City teams involved in the International Soccer Expo in Springfield this week which have completed play, won their respective tournaments.

The Granite City boys' team won the Girls Division, by beating the other Granite City entry, Madison County Girls twice as well as defeating Springfield twice.

The Royals beat Madison County by score of 1-0 in both games and shut out Springfield 7-0 and 9-0 to gain the championship.

In the Madison County Girls' two games against Springfield, two shut outs were registered. In the first game the locals won 15-0 and in the second they triumphed 14-1.

The Mendoza Sporting Goods team of 12-10 old boys won its tournament. The first game against the Flyers from St. Louis was a forfeit awarded to Mendoza. Then the local team won its next three games. It beat Springfield 16-0, Gaffner's from St. Louis 4-3 and West All-stars from Cincinnati 4-1.

Mendoza's 14-year old boys lost in the championship game of its tournament to Forest Park from Cincinnati. Earlier, the team had beaten another Cincinnati entry, 3-1 and defeated the Peoria stars 3-1.

The score in the final game was 9-0. Other Granite City teams are competing this week and results of their tournaments will be in Monday's sports section.

North gridders lost many, but have juniors waiting

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Replacing several top athletes on a football team is never an easy thing to do. But for Granite City North football coach Tom Wrostek, it might not prove to be such a painful process.

Wrostek lost starting quarterback Doug Rains and all-area running back Mike Sherman to graduation from the Steelers team of a year ago. But there are several players waiting in the sidelines ready to take their places.

"It's hard to say so early in the season," said Wrostek. "But right now, I'd say our starting quarterback is going to be Tim Dudley. He got a lot of experience on the varsity last year and is a talented ball player."

DUDLEY stands six feet tall and weighs about 175, a little taller and heavier than Rains. "That should allow him to be more of a drop-back type quarterback," said Wrostek. "Doug had to roll out to pass because of his height, but Tim will be able to see over the defense a little better. He is also a little quicker."

But inexperience could be a problem for North at some of the other positions. "We'll have a running back to replace as well as split end and wide receiver," said Wrostek.

Tom Greco should be our fullback again this year," he said. "But there are several players who could take that running back position."

ANOTHER BACKFIELD Wrostek has to replace is the defensive one. "Gone are backs Robin Smith, Sherman and safety

Bruce Wright. The Steeler backfield a year ago plagued opposition quarterbacks with interceptions. Now, only Dudley and Bruce Unanue remain. And Unanue won't be available for a few weeks.

"Bruce had to have an emergency appendectomy," said Wrostek. "So he's laid up in the hospital. He'll be back, of course, but when he does, he'll be a few weeks behind in conditioning besides being weak from the operation."

Schedule on Page 29

Size shouldn't be a problem for North. In fact, Wrostek says this year's team is bigger than last year overall. "We'll have a little more overall size," he said. "We won't have any horses, but we'll have enough of the 185 to 190 pound guys to let the other teams know we're out there."

That size may be one reason Wrostek feels the team needs to work a little harder on conditioning than he had anticipated. "I don't know whether it's the heat, or the fact that most of the guys are carrying a few extra pounds, but we are going to have to work on the conditioning before we start contact."

THAT CONDITIONING is important when it comes to preventing injuries, according to Wrostek. Last campaign, the Steelers were plagued by injuries, especially to Rains and Sherman.

"Our goals will be to have a 500 season," said Wrostek. "We haven't actually set down as a team and discussed that yet, but anything after a 500 season we'll take as a bonus."

School in Granite City will start in less than a week. Does that inhibit football practice time? Yes, according to Wrostek. "The IHSA won't let us start until Aug. 16 and our school begins a week from then," he said. "That just gives us five days of two-a-day practices. Most schools don't start until a week after we do, so they're able to get in almost what amounts to two weeks more practice in on us."

This year's Steeler schedule looks a lot like last season's. The only change is the addition of Edwardsville and dropping St. Mary's.

"WE SHOULD be able to compete," said Wrostek. "Even though our record didn't show it last year, we didn't have that bad of a season."

"We lost a game in overtime, lost one by three points in the last minute and lost two others by a touchdown or less. If we had those back, we'd have had a very good year, record-wise."

North will have a large junior contingent on the roster this season. A total of only 15 seniors are on the squad. Is that good or bad?

"I don't know," said Wrostek. "We've got 26 juniors, but a lot of them had some varsity experience. Ask me in about four weeks, and I'll tell you whether it's good or bad."

THE STEELERS will run a multi-faceted offense, much like last season. The only difference is, most of the people running this year's edition of the Granite City North offense will be different from the ones who did it last campaign.

Woicik is 'surprised' at Warriors improvement after one session

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Stan Woicik is excited. After only one day of practice, Granite City South head football coach Stan Woicik is looking forward to the upcoming season. In fact, he says he saw some things in yesterday's sessions so good they "almost frightened" him.

"I'm awfully enthused," said Woicik. "I saw some surprises out there today that are almost eerie."

What Woicik saw were some players who had obviously been working hard on speed and conditioning over the off-season. "I was surprised at the way some of the players have improved over last season," he said. "Take for instance Rich James. Last season, he was a fairly good guard for us. But after just the first day, I can tell he's going to be improved. He's got a lot more speed. We (the South coaching staff) were very impressed."

Among the other surprises Woicik saw at yesterday's workouts were Mike King, a junior center, Don King, a senior tackle, Todd McFarland, a senior end, Pat Hogan, a senior running back and slot back and Mike Karmer, a senior running back.

"ALL OF THOSE guys have improved tremendously over the last season," said Woicik. "It's not to say they were bad players last year, but it says a lot for their desire and enthusiasm. They've worked pretty hard over the summer."

South will look a little different to fans from last year's squad. "We're going to go both ways this season with quite a few of our players," said Woicik. "Last year I used a platoon-type system to let as many athletes as I could play. But I'm not going to monkey around with that this time."

"We're going to find the best athletes available and go with them on offense and defense and fill in the other spots with people who are better suited for just one position."

Woicik feels this year's team has a attitude toward the season. "These guys are awfully enthused about this year," he said.

"I think it's because they want to win...no, I take that back. I KNOW it's because they want to win."

South didn't do too much of that in the last campaign, ending the season with a 2-7 record. But Woicik feels this season might be different. "With a team as enthused as this one is and with the type of talent and size we're going to have, there's a good chance that we're going to win a few ball games."

SETTING GOALS is something that Woicik and his coaching staff have done for the upcoming season. "Our first goal is to have a winning season...to win five ball games (South has nine games this fall). After that, we'll take anything we get as a bonus."

Schedule on Page 29

The entire season could be something of a learning experience for South. The team will be dotted with several juniors.

Quarterback position will most probably be filled by Jeff Parker, last season's back-up quarterback to Mike Forshee. "Jeff's going to be the leader we need," said Woicik. "He's the kind of quiet leader we've needed. He spurs on the team."

As far as having the tools to play quarterback is concerned, he definitely has them," said Woicik. "He's very quick, has good height (6-3), and is an intelligent ball player. He keeps his cool under pressure and doesn't panic."

Parker, who attended a football clinic this summer at Oklahoma, will also fill the safety position. He's one of Woicik's "both ways" players.

Farker has been chosen along with guard-linebacker Ron Luehman as co-captain of this year's South team. Another surprise Woicik got yesterday came in the form of the offensive line. "We were running some plays out of the Ridge-series (a variation of the I-10 formation) and the blocking assignments usually take some time to learn," said Woicik. "But these guys knew where to go and made the right cross-blocks and so forth. We only made a couple of goof-ups which I think is amazing for the first practice."

This season we're going to give the team a few basic plays and run them over and over," he added. "I think last season we gave them too much to remember and it sort of bogged us down."

"Those fundamentals, if executed correctly should help us win some games." SOUTH'S SCHEDULE is not going to be the usual "lay-down-and-die" type. There are some toughies on it. But that doesn't scare Woicik.

"We start out with Jefferson City," he said. "By that time they'll have already played one game. But I think our guys will be ready. They want another chance at them."

The second chance Woicik refers to is the fact that Jeff City handed the Warriors a 41-0 loss in last season's opener.

There is, of course, the game with Granite City North, the annual "battle for the Granite block symbolizing football supremacy in the city. That one will be played on Oct. 27. Nothing needs to be said about the importance the teams place on that one.

There's one game on the schedule that has Woicik a little concerned. The last one on the schedule, November 3. On the road. At Madison.

Madison vs. Granite City. Those words haven't been spoken about a football game since 1964. In those days, the Madison-Granite City game carried as much importance as the North-South games of today. But since that time, the schools have drifted apart in gridiron competition. Woicik isn't sure why, but Madison has reappeared on the schedule. And it comes at an important time, according to him.

"RIGHT AFTER the North game isn't the best time for us to be playing Madison," he said. "They'll have nothing to lose and everything to gain when they play us and we could either be too high if we beat North or too low if we lose to North."

"And besides, Madison's not going to be (Continued on Page 29)

Season tickets still on sale

GRANITE CITY — Reserved seat tickets for Granite City North and South high school football games are on sale now through Thursday, Aug. 31 in each school's main office.

Reserved seats will be on the press box side of the football field, Memorial Field at South.

Seat selections are on a first-come-first-served basis and may be made at the time of purchase by fans according to Joe Fedora, administrative assistant in charge of athletics and physical education for Granite City District 9 schools.

Reserved seat prices are $9.25 for five North home games and $8 for four South home contests.

Non-resident adult season tickets may also be purchased now and will be available through Friday, Sept. 7. North non-reserved season tickets are priced at $6.25 and South at $5.

Single-game tickets for the upcoming season may be purchased at the ticket booths at game time. They will be priced at $2 for adults and $1 for students with proper identification.

YMCA to sponsor gymnastics show

The Tri-City Area YMCA will feature a summer-end gymnastic show Friday, Aug. 18, at 3 p.m. The public is invited as class members demonstrate individual and group gymnastic routines. Instructor Jo Aerie, a Granite City junior from Northern Illinois University, will direct the show. Refreshments will be provided.

Mmgr. Mattingly tournament here

GRANITE CITY—The Mgr. Mattingly Soccer Tournament will be held here beginning this weekend at St. Elizabeth's Field.

A total of 28 teams from Granite City and Collinsville will compete in seven divisions for championship honors. Those seven divisions are Pee Wee, Junior Atom, Senior Atom, Junior Bantam, Senior Bantam, Senior Midget and Junior Midget. Games will be played beginning Saturday, Aug. 19 and continue through Sunday, Aug. 27. Each day, there will be at least one game played at night on St. Elizabeth's lighted field.

In order to gain admission to the tournament, a team must have finished in either first or second place last fall in the Granite City or Collinsville soccer programs.

For a schedule of games and more information, those interested may contact George Sykes at 876-2270 or Bob Yount at 861-2844.

Granite Firemen to sponsor tournament

The Granite City Firefighters will sponsor a 16-team double-elimination slow pitch softball tournament to be held at the Third Street diamond in Madison, on the 15th, 16th and 17th of September.

The tournament is restricted to Class A and B softball teams only. Entry fee is $65 with expense money for the first four place finishers.

Refreshments available will be: barbecued pork steaks, slush-kg-bobs, hot dogs, ice cold beer and soda.

Interested teams and contact Jerry Wallace at the West Granite Fire Station — 876-2422, 876-3488 or at home — 877-3271.

What will a 'Heard-less' Madison do?

By PETE HAYES

Press-Record Sports Editor
MADISON — What will a "Heard-less" Madison football team do this season? Not as much as one which had a Heard in its backfield.

The Heard is James, the all-state basketball player and all-area football running back. But he won't be donning the green and white of Madison's football Trojans this fall... at least not for a while.

The reason is a shoulder injury he suffered in the final game of the basketball season and which re-occurred several times during the spring and summer months until it was finally necessary to operate on it.

In the championship game of the Vandalia Class A Sectional against Lebanon Mac Watt of Lebanon crashed down on Heard's left shoulder as both players went for a loose ball.

The result was a shoulder separation for Heard. He went to the sidelines where a doctor from Lebanon who was in the stands came down and snugged the shoulder back into place. Heard was soon back into the game after a brief rest.

Heard, who caught the eye of several major colleges and universities last year as a junior, could have a marvelous in football cut short... unless he's able to bounce back quicker than expected. And according to Madison head coach Nick Jakich, Heard's just the man to do that.

"Jim's like that," said Jakich. "If there's any way at all to be back quickly, he'll find it. He's a dedicated athlete who knows what's expected of him. But most of the time, he goes far beyond that."

Heard watched from the sidelines here yesterday as the football Trojans went through their first full-scale practice session. "He'll be at practices and will try to work out with the team," said Jakich. "But we realistically can't expect him to be ready as soon as the rest of the team."

Heard isn't the only player on the Trojan team, of course. Jakich feels he has a good nucleus back from last year's team which had the first winning record (7-7) in many a moon at Madison.

Gone from last year's team are starting quarterback Joe Piechocinski, halfback Anthony King, ends Lloyd Williams and Tim Colston and halfback Ron Morris. But back to fill those spots is a good portion of the Madison track team of last spring... Earnest Davenport, Sylvester Collins, Cecil Cross and Carlyn Jackson. Also back are Eric Stanley at end, Rich Niehaus at nose guard, Eddie Burns at guard, and a host of others, which makes Jakich "cautiously optimistic."

"We've got a good shot at having another winning record," he said. "We'll know more of course, after we have a few days of practice and conditioning under our belts, but things don't look as bleak as I thought they would about a month or so ago when Jimmy was operated on."

Heard may be back for the latter part of the season. But Jakich isn't going to push him. "I'm not going to endanger his entire athletic career just so I can say I had James Heard in my backfield," he said. "I'll just give him some time and let him go about it at his own speed."

McDonald's takes Belleville tourney

DUPO — The McDonald's Cubs junior baseball team of 17-year-old boys swept a doubleheader from Duplo here Sunday to win the championship of the Belleville West Junior League.

McDonald's, which ended the season with a 16-4 record, won by scores of 7-4 and 14-5.

In the first game, McDonald's Dave Weil went all seven innings on the mound for the victory. He struck out 11 batters.

In the second inning, McDonald's scored four runs with the help of a Mark Degonia base hit which scored three runs. Mark Linhart's hit scored the title.

The team is managed by Ray Harris and coached by Russell Wich.

Terry Lindsay and Jeff Tretter combined on the mound for McDonald's in the second game. George Hubert and Mark Linhart each got three hits. Tretter had one of which was a 330-foot blast over the fence.

Dave Wich, Bill Dalton each had two hits and Rick Klibe, Mike Thomas, Randy Harris and Mike Degonia had one hit each to help McDonald's claim the title.

Light absorption— an absorbing study

Why do certain chemical compounds absorb light the way they do?

Thomas D. Bouman, professor of chemistry at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and Aage E. Hansen of the Orested Institute at the University of Copenhagen are trying to relate it to the structure of the compound.

To find out, both men have been granted $4,300 second-year funding for basic research by the Scientific Affairs Division of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The grant, awarded in Belgium, will sponsor independent work by each scientist, plus exchange visits to each university.

Although NATO is better known as a military defense alliance, it also supports scientific research between member countries and also conferences with Eastern European representatives.

Bouman said yesterday the basic problem is discovering the link between the absorption and the structure.

If they can find the basic relationship, other scientists will be able to look at the pattern of light absorption and know what the structure is, he explained.

Although Bouman will not work with the practical application of the study, he believes the information could be important to chemists faced with designing a drug molecule for a specific effect. "They would have to know how it is put together to be able to know how to design it," he explained.

In previous work, the scientists developed a new way of calculating the intensity of light absorption, considered a first step to solving the problem.

"It is in agreement with other experiments," Bouman said. "We are now using it to try to explain why molecules behave the way they do."

Preliminary results of the study have been published in recent issues of the Journal of Chemical Physics and Chemical Physics Letters by both collaborators.

Bouman previously received the 1978 North American Research Scholar Award at SIUE for the same study and was a 1975 NATO senior science fellow and a Fulbright-Hays award winner.

The NATO grant, intended to promote scientific cooperation between alliance countries, includes travel and living expenses to the University of Copenhagen for three weeks for Bouman, plus a reciprocal visit to SIUE for Hansen.

Potentially poisonous metals near this state's coal mine spoilbanks

Mud from stream beds near coal mine spoilbanks in a six-county belt across Southern Illinois contains above-normal amounts of potentially poisonous "heavy metals," such as cadmium and cobalt.

This finding is a preliminary result of a survey conducted by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale geologists, they said this week.

Geologists William Hood and Paul Robinson emphasize that — although they found more of the heavy metals in their samples of stream bed sediments than normally might be expected — there's no danger to people, animals or plants. And the amounts they found are "well below" toxic levels.

"In some areas it's above normal, but not scary quantities yet," Hood said.

Working under a two-year, $73,000 grant from the federal Environmental Protection Agency, Hood, professor of geology at SIUC, and Robinson, assistant professor, are taking samples of mud from the beds of streams in Randolph, Perry, Jackson, Williamson, Saline and Gallatin counties.

They are checking on how much of several potentially toxic minerals — the kinds often associated with coal mine spoilbanks — are contained in the samples.

When they've completed their sampling and analysis — probably some time late next year — they'll report their findings to the U.S. EPA.

Hood and Robinson have completed preliminary work on mud samples from Saline River basin streams, and are still collecting in the Big Muddy River area.

Their study indicates "statistically significant" increases in the levels of cadmium, nickel, cobalt, chromium, arsenic, antimony and zinc downstream from coal processing and storage areas. They are convinced that the amounts they found couldn't have happened by chance.

One mineral that particularly interests them is cadmium, because it's highly toxic. Hood said cadmium poisoning attacks the body's "filter organs" — the liver and kidneys — and can make bones dangerously brittle.

"In advanced stages, cadmium poisoning can make bones so brittle you can crack ribs with a hard sneeze," he said.

The researchers plan to space their samples so they get at least one in every two square miles in the counties included in the studies.

In areas where they find concentrations of the minerals they're interested in, they'll return to sample more intensively.

"We won't just know what's there, but we'll also know how it behaves over time," Hood said. Repeated sampling also will allow them to trace the minerals' "mobility" in the sediment.

They also plan to take samples in as many different water levels and rainfall conditions as possible, to see if these affect the levels of minerals in the stream beds.

So far, all of their samples have been below dangerous levels. Hood thinks that's comforting to know, but they feel a need to obtain more detailed data.

Nameoki ok's new tax levy of $381,011

Tax levies totaling $381,011 were approved Monday night for Nameoki Township by the Town Board of Trustees and are to be sent to the Madison County Clerk to prepare the tax rates for collection next summer.

Levies, which are the amounts needed to be raised by taxation to support the township's various funds, totaled $216,461 for town purposes and $164,550 for highway department funds.

Town levies included $140,611 for the town fund, including $135,661 for administration and $5,000 for contingencies; and $55,850 for general assistance including $26,150 for administration, $24,500 for home relief, and $5,200 for institutional care. Also approved was a $20,000 levy for municipal retirement.

For the road and bridge budget, the levy was set at $144,550, including $50,000 for administration, $42,500 for the maintenance of roads, $14,000 for purchasing machinery, $14,000 for repairing machinery, $4,000 for contingencies, and $20,000 for drainage. Another $20,000 for municipal retirement also is sought in the levy.

The board also approved a petition to continue a tax rate of 16.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation for road purposes.

In other business, the board heard objections from several Cloverleaf Addition residents about trash and dilapidated housing in that area.

Trustee W. Lee Adams, who presided in the absence of Supervisor Harold Davis, assured the residents a cleanup program already is under way.

He said three township departments are involved in the Cloverleaf cleanup operation. The highway department has cleaned trash, debris and junk from one alley and is planning to clean others in the near future.

The township's health officer is in the process of identifying and tagging homes unfit for habitation and will begin condemnation proceedings, if the owners refuse to repair them.

He also said the township is attempting to get permission from the Madison County Sheriff's Department Administrative Assistance Robert Hertz which verified that the Nameoki Volunteer Police are operating under authority of the sheriff's department and any complaints about their activities should be lodged to the department.

Several residents of the township objected to the board recently, alleging the police were being too strict in the enforcement of traffic laws for young drivers and making other allegations which a township spokesman later labeled "sour grapes."

Davis instructed those who had objections to go to the sheriff's office to voice them and the people compiled, but were told the township is responsible for the actions of the volunteer policemen.

That led to an exchange of letters between the township and the sheriff's department, the latest being Hertz' letter which agrees with the township's position.

The board Monday night also heard from several residents of State Park Place who said spraying for flies at Fairmount Park Race Track has caused the flies to descend on the residential area. One woman said she is unable to use her swimming pool, because the flies are so thick.

He reportedly sustained a minor injury in the mishap. He was charged with careless driving and told to appear for a hearing by Sept. 5.

Car strikes fence

Keith A. Jordan, 22, of 2132 Adams St., driving north on Adams, apparently lost control of his auto, crossed the center line, jumped the curb and struck a 20-foot section of cyclone fence at the Metro East Industrial Co., 20th and Adams, at 3 a.m. Friday.

He reportedly sustained a minor injury in the mishap. He was charged with careless driving and told to appear for a hearing by Sept. 5.

Venice to seek more safety laws for tank car movements

Venice city officials will seek legislation that will tighten safety restrictions on transportation of gases and chemicals by railroad tank cars and by truck tankers, it was decided during a regular meeting of the City Council Tuesday night.

Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt said that Venice is particularly vulnerable to the potential of disasters by tanker car explosions because of the concentration of rail yard activities there.

The council instructed City Attorney Harry Hartman to write to Gov. James Thompson and to area legislators asking them to initiate safety legislation that would offer greater protection to the area, as well as throughout the state.

In another action, Venice council members also instructed Hartman to obtain additional details concerning the type of refuse and debris being deposited in the landfill along Route 203 south of Madison after the Environmental Protection Agency queried the city concerning types of substances deposited in the landfill.

The landfill, operated by Mal Landfill, is used for dumping trash and debris collected in the city of Venice. Ebersoldt said EPA is interested in determining the types of refuse deposited in the dump.

Council members also authorized an increase in salaries of 13 manpower employees who work for the city in the Comprehensive Employment Training program. Salaries were increased by $70 per month to conform with salary increases granted other city employees when the council adopted its new budget last month.

The aldermen approved bills of $1,190 for Hardesty & Hanover, engineers for the McKinley Bridge, for work done on the bridge improvement several months ago. The $350,000 improvement involved construction of a new east approach to the bridge.

Ebersoldt said he had thanked by letter the senators and congressmen who assisted the city in acquiring federal financing for the bridge construction, and that he had received acknowledgements from Illinois Senator Charles H. Percy and Congressman Melvin Price of this congressional district.

A request for use of the Venice Senior Citizen bus for a trip to St. Louis Aug. 30 was approved. The trip will include visits to the Anheuser-Busch brewery, Heritage House and Gertrude's Farm.

The aldermen were informed that a total of 296,363 vehicles crossed McKinley Bridge during July, a daily average of 9,556 per day.

Mayor Ebersoldt appointed Alderman John Ervin of the Third Ward as the city's representative on the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission. The appointment was confirmed by council members.

Police Chief Ralph Brawley reported the Venice Police Department made a total of 41 arrests during July, 23 of them adults and 18 juveniles, for whom a total of 30 charges was filed.

ELECTION CALLED
On July 18, 1977, Rhodan Prime Minister Ian Smith dissolved Parliament and called for a general election for Aug. 31.

DeMolays attend 50th annual Golden Conclave

Twelve DeMolays and four advisers of the James Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay, attended the 50th annual Golden Conclave on the Western Illinois University campus in Macomb last week.

Dennis E. Worthen, a past master counselor of the local chapter and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Worthen, was installed as the Illinois DeMolay state board of representatives and Bryan Klaus, a past master counselor of Edwardsville chapter and a grandson of Johnny Barks of Granite City, was installed as state junior counselor.

Patrick Harper and Bobby Jones received individual trophies for second place in the state football competition. A trophy was awarded to the local chapter for its publication, "The Master Counselor's Voice."

During the four days, DeMolays participated in sports, attended business sessions, enjoyed an outdoor barbecue and a rock dance. Miss Lisa Lane of Marissa was crowned Illinois DeMolay Sweetheart from among 19 candidates who were chapter sweethearts from various state chapters.

DeMolays in attendance were: Patrick E. Gibbons, Patrick E. Harper, Charles Hilleman Jr., Rodney B. Jackson, Joseph E. Johnston, Bobby G. Jones, Daniel C. Monroe, Kirk A. Poitillo, Larry P. Reed, Shaun G. Roe, Fred R. Trebing, Geoffrey F. Wofford and Dennis E. Worthen, and advisers Robert F. Holton of Macomb, Ellis N. Hackney Jr., Martin D. Love and Charles A. Meyer.

Job's Daughters and Rainbow

Girls from throughout Illinois were present for the social events.

Members of local Bethel 43 International Order of Job's Daughters in attendance were: Jill Donley, Gina Fox, Robin McBee and Mary Lou Metcalf, together with Associate Guardian Martin Love and Mrs. Sarah Metcalf.

Mothers from Mothers Clubs throughout the state participated in the Illinois State Council of Mothers Clubs activities during the four days. All were housed in the 20-story University of Higgins Residence Hall.

CHANGE NEEDED
On July 17, 1963 Congress authorized the use of postage stamps and other stamps as currency to supply the deficiency in small change.

ORIENTATION OF NEW STUDENTS. Deborah Lexow registers students participating in the New Student Life Program at SIUE. The orientation program consists of getting new students acquainted with class registration procedures, vehicle registration, and university units providing student services on campus. Miss Lexow is working on her master's degree in counselor education.

'Newbies' learn about college life

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville student Deb Lexow should feel comfortable in her job this summer. A six-year "veteran" of the campus, she is a graduate assistant for the New Student Life Program (NSL).

Miss Lexow stands in front of groups of new students at least twice a week, volunteering the much information about the campus community. "The Bursar's Office is on the first floor of the John S. Randleman Building. Think of it as the campus bank," she says.

Besides the factual information, she volunteers personal experiences. She knows what the students are going through, because she was once new on the campus.

Miss Lexow is familiar with the NSL program. She served as NSL adviser three years while working for her undergraduate degree. "I was one of the first advisers involved in the program when it began in 1972," she proudly recalls.

An orientation program, NSL is coordinated by Jim Roster. About 1,000 students go through the program each summer.

There are two types of NSL sessions the students choose from. One-day sessions are designed to give as much information as possible in a 10-hour period. About 40 percent attend these.

The rest of the students attend two-and-a-half-day sessions. They bring sleeping gear and reside in Tower Lake Apartments Building 505. According to Miss Lexow, these students receive much more detailed information about the university.

There are 12 NSL advisers working with her. She relates that there is much preparation for the 18 summer sessions.

Interviews for the adviser positions were conducted during the winter quarter. A

In Memoriam 33

In loving memory of BRUCE W. HOWELL

Aug. 17, 1977
God knows how much I miss him.

Never shall his memory fade, Loving thought shall ever wander.

To the spot where he is laid, Sadly missed by Mother, Brother, Sons and Grandparents.

32 8 17

In loving memory of BARBARA BARGIEL who passed away

August 15, 1977
God bless and keep you, Barbara dear.

Our hearts are heavy, our eyes hold a tear, We miss you it's true, but God knows best.

May he grant your soul eternal rest. Sadly missed by Husband and Children.

33 8 17

In loving memory of BRUCE WAYNE HOWELL

Army Specialist Four
Died August 17, 1977

Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baumberger Grandparents.

33 8 17

In loving memory of FELICIA OWCA

August 14, 1972
In our home she is fondly remembered.

Sweet memories cling to her name, Those who loved her in life sincerely.

Still love her in death just the same, Daughter—Helen and Family.

33 8 17

In loving memory of ELMER R. BAUMBERGER

August 19, 1968
They say time heals sorrow—And helps us to forget.

But time so far has only proved How much we miss you yet.

God gave us strength to face it, And courage to bear the blow, But what it meant to lose you No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by Wife, Daughters Son-in-Law and Grandchildren.

33 8 17

In loving memory of CONNIE HICKS

August 15, 1969
In our hearts your memory lingers.

Always tender, fond and true, There's not a day, dear sister, We do not think of you.

Sadly missed by Brother Ron and Family.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Medicine stolen

Two young men stole prescription medicine from Margie Inman, 2015 Washington Ave., Apt. 7, Monday evening after driving her to a doctor to get the prescription and then driving her to a Ponton Beach pharmacy where she filled it.

The victim said the men were driving her home when one grabbed the bottle of pain pills and refused to give it back. At her home, an argument over the medicine ensued and Mrs. Inman said she was threatened and one man picked up a chair and threatened to hit her with it.

Both men then ran out of the house with the medicine and left in their car.

Planning is the key

White or dazzling color vogue for today's wedding

Fashion pundits all agree that the bride's color is still and forever will be star bright, dazzling white. For the entire wedding event and the bridal party: the rainbow is the one thing that cannot be beat.

Color is the most beautiful expression of deepest personal feelings and excitement. Most memorable weddings will be expressed in hues from every corner of the spectrum.

A bride and her mother are the traditional choice for selection color. It is their taste and effort that the guests enjoy, and will remember. Lucky is the man to be involved in any wedding as groom — "man of the day indeed."

His bride can choose, often with him, firmly in tow, from a fabulous choice of handsome tuxedos.

According to Bob Rudofker, "This spring we are represented by the widest range of colors ever offered the bridal market. For dazzling weddings: the choice is endless."

"Once, to select matching flowers and maid of honor gown and napkins was enough. No longer is this true. The finest special weddings have all the men, from the groom, to the ringbearer and the father of the bride, in superlative colors."

He continued, "Frankly, we see color as the ultimate self-expression and our designers have worked with that in mind, as they selected swatches."

In a recent color-oriented survey of newlyweds, wide variety was found in the consideration and use of color for the wedding.

The bridesmaids, the men in the wedding party, and the honeymoon car were all coordinated beiges and browns in Phoenix, Arizona.

The point of departure? A beautiful, rustic church in which the parents of both the bride and groom were married and which lent itself handsomely to the almost monochromatic use of beige and brown tones.

Detroit, Michigan was the scene for a pale blue wedding and elaborate reception following at one of the cities most venerable private clubs. The selection of color grew quite simply from the startling blue and oft-noted eyes of the aristocratic bride.

Color is definitely here in a big way. A medley of hues is available for the choosing, to cover every aspect of a contemporary wedding.

From an all-out gala in a cathedral or a synagogue, to the simplest at home with a justice-of-the-peace — color is an essential part. It says so much about where, why, what — who we are. It is available as never before, in everything from linens to stationery to lingerie and garters — to the tuxedo for the groomsmen.

Color is a moveable feast for the celebration of a modern wedding. Everything to make the coordination complete is available: flowers, at the top of the list, followed by clothing and costume for the entire wedding party, stationery, refreshments. These things together in a well-conceived plan, reflect the taste of the wedding principals and make a declaration and expression of innermost feelings.

How many ways can color choice be used for over-all coordination? In practically infinite variety, from clothing and flowers to the final thank-you notes for gifts, the entire wedding can be made to enhance one's choice and complete the chosen theme.

Invitations for the past decade have been increasingly liberated from the black and white format. The authorities in America's finest stationery shops agree, "express yourself." From the invitations and enclosures to the napkins at the reception, a wonderful range of color is available.

The best man's satin lapels, the bridesmaids' hats, the bride's garter all coordinated in lemon yellow, tangerine, or slate gray.

The flower girl's basket, the father of the groom's tuxedo, and the ribbons attached to a display of gifts can all be perfect russet or lime green or sandy beige.

Perfectly attuned handsome men and elegant bubbly punch, along with honeymoon lingerie and tiny bags of rice are a reality in all colors of the rainbow.

No contemporary wedding could, or should, resist the temptation to be colorful, and find the perfect expression of life's finest moment.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS WEDDING FLOWER

The orange blossom has been a bridal flower since ancient times. The goddess Juno gave Jupiter a "golden apple" on their wedding day — some say the golden apple was an orange; thus its blossom became associated with happiness in marriage.

Bridal gowns reflect brides personality

According to a leading bridal designer, Michele Piccione, it's time to re-evaluate the bride of today.

"Our changing society has brought about a new woman... a woman who believes in herself, a woman with true freedom of choice. And whether she chooses to be a traditional or contemporary bride on her special day, we must offer her a bridal outfit to suit her personal needs."

Ms. Piccione said the majority of young women today still want to wear a traditional wedding gown complete with yards of lace and a flowing veil.

But there are many women, an increasing number every day, who want a very unique gown to be married in — a gown that is a little less traditional, one that relates more to their thinking and lifestyle.

She may be a little older, or more sophisticated, perhaps career-oriented or professional active. She may want a small, informal wedding or she may want to wear an elaborate headpiece or antique veil that calls for a simple gown to offset it.

But, whatever her reasons, she wants her wedding to be a deeply personal and meaningful experience, and she wants her bridal outfit to reflect her personality.

Ms. Piccione thus designs contemporary bridal wear because she believes in this new woman and she believes that the bridal market must recognize and service her needs.

"I have always felt that the purpose of well-designed clothing is to complement the wearer — not overpower her," she said.

Surrounded by her family's activity in the bridal business, Michele Piccione was literally raised in the field. She had many years of bridal training, both practical and academic, before going to Italy to study couture design.

But she discovered her determination was to carry European taste and technique back into the American bridal market, where she believes the best of both attributes could complement each other successfully.

"The warm reception of these lines by the buyers in the bridal market," says Ms. Piccione, "has assured me that there most definitely is a bridal customer searching for a contemporary individual look.

Peruvian Gold new look in cosmetics

"Peruvian Gold," the new cosmetics look for fall, is the cosmetics industry's answer to the "running-wild color challenge" from the textile industry.

"After the romantic fling last spring into pastels and pale neutrals," says Nina Ansley, fashion coordinator for Merle Norman Cosmetics "the textile manufacturers have gone wild over color."

"We'll be seeing lots of warm, rich colors in the stores this fall — earthy browns, bronze, woody green, ochre," Ansley said. "Pastels will still be around, but they'll be in smoky tones of mauve, peach and dusty rose. Shimmering, iridescent glints of gold, copper and silver will be subtle during the day, more dramatic in the evening. Fall gold makeup is designed to bring beautiful harmony out of this exciting but chaotic array of colors," Ansley adds.

The new lip makeup are Peruvian bronze, a gold-toned brown, and Peruvian copper, a gold-toned giner, both inspired by the Incas of ancient Peru. There are coordinating nail colors in creamy bronze and copper, with a gold frost nail color to go over these and other shades of nail makeup worn with the Peruvian gold look.

Caramel beige, a new cream powder base especially created for the new fall look, was inspired by the creamy golden coats seen on the vicuna that roam the mist-shrouded Andes. The Peruvian collection includes new eye color wands for shadowing eyelids in the green and blue hues from the remote mountains and secret lakes. Featured also are a Peruvian green creamy powder shadow and eyeliner in the deep, dark greens of the forested slopes of Machu Picchu.

The blushers are in frosted shades of tawny, peach and burgundy to harmonize with either the copper or bronze makeup. A new bronze moist lip color in the Peruvian gold collection is applied over other lipsticks.

"The possibilities of playing around with these pure, gold colors that work over all other shades are myriad," comments Ansley. "We believe this is going to be a fun season with this makeup inspired by Peru, the Kingdom of the Sun, and its glowing sacred metal crafted by Inca artisans."

Gift registry useful service

To avoid collecting myriads of toasters or white elephants — chosen by well-meaning friends and relatives as wedding gifts — the wise bride-to-be will make a visit to a wedding gift registry a must.

A free service offered by virtually all department, gift and jewelry stores, the registry records the bride's preferences in tableware, kitchen items, and other furnishings for her new home.

Betsy Abbott, a registry consultant in New York City explains, "We give advice to brides on color schemes, patterns and design trends. We also help friends and relatives who are not familiar with the bride's tastes escape the time-consuming search through the store to find the 'right' gift."

In coordinating china, crystal, and silver choices, the registry is particularly valuable.

A wide variety of patterns, shapes and colors that the professional advice of the consultant is invaluable in helping brides choose styles to suit their tastes.

Choose china first

China, because of its importance on the table, is usually selected first; crystal and silver are then chosen. Color, pattern, and lifestyle are key factors today in assembling a coordinated look in table fashions that will last for years.

In home entertaining, the successful hostess is rated not only by the menu she prepares but by the tablesetting she creates.

With the dramatic use of color in linens and accessories — and with imaginative centerpieces — she can create a background for her china and crystal that truly reflects her personality.

In choosing her china and crystal, color is important, the designer advised.

In new dinnerware designs, there are rich chocolate browns, bold terra cottas, and natural blues. In crystal, gold, green, blue, and brown are popular casual colors.

Fine china patterns also range from the traditional floral sprays, etched gold bands, and oriental motifs to the contemporary white-on-white and simple platinum banded designs. And in crystal, there are graceful new flared stemware shapes, over-sized wine glasses, and contemporary decanters and table accessories.

Helpful hints

By keeping abreast of trends in tableware design, the wedding gift consultant can offer brides up-to-the-minute advice. Here are a few tips in using the registry:

—Register as soon after your engagement as possible — at least several months before the wedding. The closer you get to your wedding date, the busier you will be. Often, relatives and friends also consult the registry to buy engagement gifts.

—Mother, members of the bridal party, and close friends will help spread the name of the store where you are registered. It is best to select one store — department stores with branches usually coordinate the information within their chains. The consultant keeps up-to-date records as gifts are purchased.

—Most brides register their choices for fine china, crystal, and silver, but it is also advisable to register for casual tableware items. You are not obligated to make a purchase at the store where you register.

—Register for the number of place settings that will fit your lifestyle. You can start with as little as two and go up to ten or twelve. Buffet place settings consist of three pieces: a dinner plate, cup and saucer.

Complete place settings also include the salad and bread and butter plates, a total of five pieces which you would use for entertaining.

Congratulations!

Your next important move is to select your banking partner.

You've chosen your partner in life and have confirmed this relationship through marriage.

Your next important step is to select your financial partner—one who can help you attain your goals in life.

Soon you will be needing many more material things—home furnishings, perhaps a new home, or, if you both are working, two cars instead of only one. Later, as your family grows, there will be other needs.

Select a financial partner who can provide the widest possible range of complete financial services—checking and savings accounts, loans for any worthwhile purpose, and neighborly advice and counseling when you ask for it.

Select First Bank. We want to be your banking partner.

Engagements forecast forthcoming weddings

BETROTHED. Miss Paula K. Werths and Keith J. Lucas, whose engagement is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Werths, 2509 Hodges Ave. Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

Paula Werths bride-elect

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Werths, 2509 Hodges Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Paula K. Werths to Keith J. Lucas, a son of Stanley Lucas, 199 Esquire Drive, Arlington Heights.

Miss Werths graduated in 1976 from Granite City High School South and is presently a junior student at Eastern Illinois University at Charleston, Ill.

The prospective groom is in his senior year at Washington University, St. Louis, and is a 1975 North High School graduate.

Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

Personalize wedding gift

Ever wonder how you can personalize a bridal gift making it something the bride and groom will remember and appreciate because of the personal touch?

Here are a few suggestions:

If the gift is a piece of cookware or bakeware, you can bake your favorite recipe in it and include the recipe card for the bride.

If you have time, make a recipe card file of your favorite recipes and package it with the gift. Every new bride appreciates recipes, particularly those tried-and-tested favorites.

Include an accordion file or scrapbook with use-and-care tips, ideal for filing use-and-care information and warranties packed with wedding gifts. This will be appreciated as it may encourage the couple to save the use-and-care instructions and warranties which can be very important at some later date. It starts a good habit.

Consumers need to know what they can and can't do with various kinds of dinnerware and cookware.

These are just a few ideas for making the wedding gift something a little more special. It is just as important to choose gifts that include use-and-care instructions and are warranted. There is also an indicator that the giver of the gift cared. More and more consumers are becoming more aware of the importance of warranties.

Treat silk gently

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension Adviser,
Home Economics

Beautiful silk fabrics do not stay beautiful if you treat them the same way you do sturdy synthetics. Be gentle with silk. Whenever possible, protect silks from sunlight and perspiration which change the color and weaken the fabric. Some silks also water-spot readily.

The dye and finish used in manufacture of the silk fabric determine whether you should launder, wet-clean or dry-clean a silk garment. Garment design and construction also help determine the most appropriate cleaning method.

If you wish to launder a silk garment, you should check it for both color fastness and shrinkage.

You can do this by washing a piece of facing fabric or possibly the end of a belt if you can spare it. Launder with mild soap in warm water.

Again, gentle treatment is urged. Avoid strong soaps which weaken and yellow silk fabrics. If white silk requires bleaching, use hydrogen peroxide or sodium perborate bleaches. Never use chlorine bleach on silk.

Using a medium warm temperature, iron the garment while it is still damp.

The iron's wool setting should be satisfactory because both wool and silk are protein fibers. But irons vary. Check the temperature on an inside seam or facing to guard against using high temperatures that weaken and yellow the fiber.

Dry cleaning is the safest soil removal method, but over time this can be inconvenient and expensive, particularly for white and pastel silk garments that are worn frequently.

You also need to use care in storing silk fabrics. Because insects — particularly carpet beetles — attack these fabrics, store them in insect-proof containers.

A gentle touch and proper care will prolong the life and beauty of silk garments.

DR. MRS. GORNISH NAME SON AVNER DAVID
Dr. and Mrs. Michael Gornish of St. Louis, are announcing the birth of their second son, on July 30, at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

The new arrival has been named Avner David and he weighed eight pounds, six ounces. He has a 3-year old brother, Shlomo Zev.

Mrs. Gornish is the former Leesa Freedman, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Freedman of Granite City.

Wedding Plans

Area couples exchange rings in candlelight settings

MARRIED. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ray Word who exchanged wedding vows in an outdoor ceremony at Lake Salateeska, Baptist State Camp in Pinckneyville, Ill. The bride is the former Sandra Jean Head, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Head, 2921 Marshall Ave.

Sandra Jean Head and Donald Word are wed

Miss Sandra Jean Head and Donald Ray Word were united in marriage on July 23, in an outdoor ceremony at Lake Salateeska, Baptist State Camp in Pinckneyville, Ill. The Rev. Roy Fields, pastor of Sterling Baptist Church in Caseyville, Ill., officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Head, 2921 Marshall Ave. The groom resides at 2018 Iowa St., Granite City, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Word, Hopkinsville, Ky.

Wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Jewell Everett, organist at the First Baptist Church, Granite City, and soloists, Mrs. Ruth Ann Douglas, a sister of the bride, from Blackfoot, Idaho.

Misty Stark presented the guests with rice packets after the ceremony and Miss Patty Brokaw attended the guest book at a reception held in the camp cafeteria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a full length white Qiana A-line style gown fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline, edged with silk Venice lace. The long tapered sleeves were accented with a lace motif and terminated with bell cuffs.

Venise lace bordered the hemline of the semi-full skirt and attached wattleau train. She wore a picture hat enhanced with chiffon that formed a bow in the back and she held a teardrop bouquet of white carnations, yellow Sweetheart roses and baby's breath with greenery.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Denise Wright. She selected a formal apricot polyester dress designed with a sweetheart neckline, long tapered sleeves and A-line skirt trimmed with Venise lace.

Her bouquet was a cascade of white carnations tinted orange, yellow poms poms and baby's breath.

The groom chose Lee Leisinger as best man. Randy Dempsey and Dale Gravitt served as ushers.

Mrs. Head was attired in a long mint green gown created with a sleeveless bodice, worn with a chignon cape, and pleated skirt.

The groom's mother appeared in a long floral dress in yellow and lavender hues. Both mothers wore carnation corsages in colors to match their attire.

A graduate of South High School, the former Miss Head also graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, with a B.S. degree in elementary education.

The groom earned a B.S. degree in music education from Austin Peay State University at Clarksville, Tenn., and a master's degree in religious education from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. He is presently completing requirements for a pastor's degree in music education at SIUE and is employed as director of activities of Metro-East Baptist Association, and is director of music and education of Sterling Baptist Church of Caseyville.

Tafra Hogan becomes Mrs. Ted L. Perryman

Miss Tafra A. Hogan became the bride of Ted L. Perryman in early afternoon ceremony on Aug. 5, at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hogan, 3313 Franklin Ave. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Jess Perryman, 1119 Seminary St., Vincennes, Ind.

Arrangements of white summer flowers and palms decorated the altar and white satin bows with sprigs of lily of the valley marked the pews for the double ring service performed at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Dennis Rutledge.

Jack Jenkins presided at the organ and played "Brother Jacob's Air," "O Perfect Love," "Alleluia" and "Lord, Give Ear." Soloists included Cynthia Johnson, Jeri Johnson, Steve Coggeshall and Dan Pickett.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Hogan appeared in a Victorian style gown of candlelight organza designed with a high neckline and fitted bodice appliqued with Chantilly lace motifs, etched with pearls. The long sheer sleeves were capped with matching lace and closed at the wrists with lace covered buttons.

Lace medallions accented the skirt and train which fell softly from the natural waistline. She wore a cathedral length mantilla veil bordered with Chantilly lace and also wore her mother's cameo brooch at the neckline. She carried a cluster of white silk roses tied with long white streamers.

Miss Carla Mathias was maid of honor and Mrs. James Tucker, Mrs. George Cochran, a sister of the bride, and Mrs. William Cummins, the groom's sister served as bridesmaids.

Each attendant wore a mint green A-line gown with standing collar and full elbow length sleeves. They held three long stem silk white roses and baby's breath, festooned with mint green ribbons.

Julie Hall, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl and John Bonkamp served as ringbearer. She was dressed in long mint green frock worn with a white eyelet pinafore and carried a white basket of pink rose petals.

Michael Holsapple attended the groom as best man. Darrell Sayer, Dr. Carl Johnson, Bill Cummins, the groom's brother-in-law, Gary Bonkamp and Clement Burns completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Miss Robyn Champion presided over the guest book at a reception held at the church immediately following the service. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents, in their home.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Perryman are on a wedding trip in the Bahamas. Mrs. Hogan, mother of the bride, selected a formal length coral gown and jacket ensemble, and wore a corsage of white silk roses, for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother was attired in a long pastel floral print dress.

Her corsage was of yellow silk roses.

The bride graduated from Granite City High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is now employed as a registered nurse at St. Mary's Health Center in St. Louis.

A graduate of Lincoln High School in Vincennes, the groom also graduated from Indiana University in Bloomington, Ill., and St. Louis University Law School. He is working in a St. Louis law firm.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jess Perryman, Miss Helen Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Lopez, Charlie Phillips, Mrs. Gladys Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Perryman, Frank Perryman of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Sayer, Portsmouth, Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Julius of Decatur, Ill.

Honeymoon trips plan in advance

If you and your fiancé are planning a honeymoon abroad, you will need to do some extra planning and pre-nuptial appointment-making to be sure that you don't spend your first months of bliss trapped in a customs office for insufficient documentation.

You should apply for your passport at least two months before your departure, in order to allow extra time for processing. Because the bride is not legally a "Mrs." until the wedding, you will more than likely be traveling with separate passports, hers under her maiden name, and you will need to carry with you your certified marriage license.

When you return from your trip, your passports may be revised to show your marital status. To apply for a passport, you need either a birth certificate, naturalization certificate, or a former passport. You will also need another proof of identification carrying your photograph or description and signature (a driver's license, for example).

The passport office requires two additional photos of you taken within the last six months, 2" by 3", on a plain light background.

MR. AND MRS. TED L. PERRYMAN. They were married at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road. The bride is formerly Miss Tafra A. Hogan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hogan, 3313 Franklin Ave.

Memories in photographs

Dressed in white or flowered chintz, witnessed by many or a select few, accompanied by organ strains or the toll of a recorder — weddings can take so many different forms.

Whatever the size and style of event, it is a day for the newlyweds to feel romantic, pampered and perhaps a little bit awed. And it's a day to remember and share with others during a lifetime to come.

That's why the occasion calls for the services of a professional photographer who can capture all the moods of the many moments — from the excitement of preparation right through to the quiet farewell to parents.

To be sure you will have the type of photography you want, make your plans early. Talk to your local photographer as soon as your wedding date is set, and plan together what events you'll want recorded. He can show you many different styles of photography — from original "spinster."

superimposed mood pictures to candid close-ups — that will help you decide what you will want.

Also, make arrangements for the bridal portrait that will illustrate newspaper articles about the wedding. This can be taken in advance, or if you prefer, may be a portrait of bride and groom made at the time of the wedding.

So you can be free of any concern at the wedding, ask a relative or friend to accompany the photographer that day.

SPIN AND EMBROIDER

"HOPE CHEST" ITEMS

Back in the days of our great-grandmothers, it was customary for the entire bridal trousseau to be hand embroidered. In fact, girls started at a very early age to "spin" and embroider the linens for their "hope chests." Those who never married continued to many different styles of embroidery and spin — hence the origin of "spinster."

'Schoolroom today' is topic of Homemakers

A homemaking leader seminar on "The Schoolroom Today" will be taught on Tuesday, Aug. 22, at 9:30 a.m. in the auditorium of the Farm Bureau Building at 900 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville.

Participating in the presentation will be Harold "Gene" Briggs, regional school superintendent; Sister Mary Margaret Maher, a teacher at St. Peter and Paul School, Alton; Aldo E. Schnack Sr., principal of Trinity Lutheran School in Edwardsville; and Duane Weber, director, Region II, Special Education Services, Madison County.

The educators will discuss changes occurring in education, trends, why curriculum changes occur, and in general what is happening in education today and why.

Specific topics that will be featured include: back to basics, the open school concept, programs for exceptional children, title programs, vocational and career education, and alternative education.

The session is planned as a training meeting for approximately 60 Homemakers Extension Association lay teachers, but anyone interested in attending may do so.

The local leaders will repeat the information in one-hour presentations for their units in September and October. The meeting is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service as part of its adult education program in Madison County.

Miss Susan Davis wed in afternoon ceremony

MR. AND MRS. LARRY D. ARNOLD. Their wedding took place at the Wood River Missionary Baptist Church in Wood River. The bride is the former Miss Susan A. Davis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion A. Davis, 1421 Norwood Drive.

The Wood River Missionary Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding on Aug. 5, of Miss Susan A. Davis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion A. Davis, 1421 Norwood Drive, and Larry Dale Arnold, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Arnold, Rural Route Two, Granite City.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony at 2 p.m. was the Rev. Bobby Joe Ball. Organist Rosemary Herron accompanied vocalist Mike Candler as he sang, "Annie's Song," "We've Only Just Begun," "Wedding Song," and "Time In A Bottle."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Davis wore a organza gown designed with long bishop sleeves, set into a fitted bodice with a high neckline, accented with Chantilly lace.

Her bouffant skirt was fashioned with tiers of organza edged with wide lace, which fell softly into a chapel train. Her lace bordered fingertip veil was held in place by a Chantilly lace Juliet cap, etched with pearls, and she held a cascade of white carnations, pink roses and baby's breath, centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor Miss Patricia Davis, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids, Misses Marilee and Martha Arnold, the groom's sisters, were dressed alike.

The selected pink floral print chiffon halter style gowns worn with capelets and ripple trim pink hats. Each attendant held three pink roses festooned with sprigs of baby's breath and white ribbons.

Kimberly McNeene and Aaron Sanders, a cousin of the groom, served as flower girl and ringbearer. She was dressed in a pastel pink frock complemented with an embroidered eyelid cape and she held a white basket filled with pink and white roses.

The groom chose Ken Webb as best man, Bruce Campbell, Jim Mathis, Tom Miller and Jim Wells, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was given in the church hall after the ceremony and the rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents, in their home.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Davis appeared in a street length pink dress designed with a sleeveless bodice and a ribbon and lace edged chiffon cape.

Mrs. Arnold, the groom's mother, was attired in a blue crepe dress with long sleeves and a scoop neckline.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Arnold are residing in Troy following a wedding trip to the Ozarks. She is employed as a medical secretary and the groom works for the Arnold-Miller Excavating Co.

Presiding over the guest book was Miss Trina, and Miss Amy Gallen distributed the rice packets. They are both cousins of the bride.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Mary Gages, Mrs. Donna Huffman, Mrs. Mary Hunt, Mrs. Ginger Skaggs and Mrs. Rosalie Bronbauer.

Out of town guests were from Texas, Missouri, Indiana and Illinois.

St. Theresa reunion set

The graduating class of 1973 from St. Theresa Academy, East St. Louis, is planning a five year reunion to be held on Aug. 26, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 8400 Leblanc Road, East St. Louis.

The social gathering will be from 8 p.m. until 1 p.m., and the admission is set for $5 per person, according to the committee.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN DARMON, whose wedding was solemnized at St. John's Catholic Church in Champaign, Ill. Formerly Miss Virginia Sue Pyle, the bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Pyle of Elkhart, Ind., formerly of Granite City.

Virginia Pyle weds Michael John Darmon

Former Granite City residents, Dr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Pyle, who now reside in Elkhart, Ind., are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Virginia Sue Pyle, to Michael John Darmon, on Aug. 12, at St. John's Catholic Church, Champaign, Ill.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Mary Darmon, 4828 Delaware, Gary, Ind. Father Prendergast officiated at the 1 o'clock double ring ceremony.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Barbara Pyle of Burley, Idaho. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Lola Darmon, a sister-in-law of the groom, Michelle Darmon, the groom's sister, and Ann Safley. Tracy Pyle, a niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Completing the bridal party were Tony Zancanaro, best man, and groomsmen, Chuck and Leon Darmon, brothers of the groom, and Robert Pyle, the bride's brother.

For her wedding the former Miss Pyle wore a white polyester knit gown fashioned with an Empire bodice, featuring a Queen Anne neckline and short cap sleeves, created in lace.

The long accordion skirt was accented at the high rise waistline with lace motifs. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and yellow roses.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids selected formal length burnt orange dresses styled with Empire waists and oval necklines, traced with a lace trim. They held arrangements of yellow daisies intermingled with greenery. A basket of white daisies was carried by the flower girl who was dressed in a yellow frock.

Immediately following the service a reception was held at the Holiday Inn in Urbana, Ill. The newly married couple visited St. Louis on their wedding trip and are now residing in Urbana.

A 1972 graduate of Granite City High School, the bride also graduated in 1976 from Grimal College, and is currently attending graduate school in biochemistry at the University of Illinois.

The groom is a 1972 graduate of Andean High School, Merrillville, Ill., and a 1976 graduate of Wabash College. He also is attending graduate school studying chemistry at the UofI.

Gardenaires hold workshop

The Gardenaires Garden Club attended a workshop in the home of Mrs. William Long, Edwardsville. Members met at 10 a.m. and worked on dried flower plaques.

Luncheon was served at noon by the hostess and Mrs. Robert Hintz presided at the business meeting which followed.

Roll call was answered by 10 members naming a favorite shade tree. Horticulture chairman, Mrs. Earl Glenn, displayed a Copperleaf plant as the live specimen. The lesson was concluded with a discussion of hybridizing and different means of plant propagation. The mini-garden center at the library is featuring dried flowers — "how-to" — and arrangements, it was reported.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. A. A. Malotki on Sept. 14.

Other members present were Mesdames C. E. Eads, Roy Hormann, Richard Kerch, Charles Kohl, Mary Kristian, Alex Tarpoif and a guest, Mrs. Valeria Dykes.

DIAMONDS KNOWN AS "FLAME OF LOVE"

The diamond, as we all know, is the most common stone used for an engagement ring. Ever wonder why? Contrary to Lorelei Lee, it's not because they're a girl's best friend. It is actually a tradition that dates back to early Italy where it was believed that the diamond was a stone born from the flames of love.

MR. AND MRS. BRIAN P. CHUDD whose wedding was solemnized at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Linda Kay Baumann, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Baumann, 2444 Lydia Lane.

Linda K. Baumann bride of Brian Philip Chudd

Miss Linda Kay Baumann, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Baumann, 2444 Lydia Lane, and Brian Philip Chudd, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Chudd, 234 N. Garfield, Mundelein, Ill., were united in marriage on July 29, at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

A reception was given at the Cranston Home in Madison, after the service, and the rehearsal dinner was served at the Ramada Inn, in St. Louis.

Ferns and arrangements of gladioli and blue and white daisies adorned the altar and white daisies tied with blue streamers decorated the white carpeted aisle for the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony performed by Father Kenneth Becker.

Mass server was Tim Cook, a cousin of the bride, and commentator was Dr. Robert Hussey from Eastern Illinois University.

Organist Miss Betsy Baumgardner accompanied Nick Solomon, soloist, as he sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "One Heart, One Heart," "The Wedding Song," and the Lord's Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Baumann chose a formal bridal gown fashioned of white organza and designed with a molded bodice with a V-neckline traced with Venice lace motifs. Pearled lace motifs accented the organza capelet attached to the bodice which extended over the shoulders to create short sleeves.

The slender style skirt was bordered with a deep gathered flounce, edged in matching lace and fell softly into a chapel train.

Her lace Juliet cap headpiece held in place a walking length veil enhanced with silk Venice lace appliques. She held a cascade of white roses and baby's breath.

Attending the bride were Miss Connie Kutsosky, Miss Debbie and Teresa Chudd, sisters of the groom, and Miss Nancy Skaskiewicz, and Miss Carla Baumann, the bride's cousins.

They wore long powder blue voile Empire style gowns featuring the bodice and flounce on the hemlines in dotted swiss, complemented with fitted jackets and blue picture hats. Each attendant held a cascade of daisies with baby's breath, festooned with blue streamers.

Gary Stocker served as best man with groomsmen, David Baumann, a brother of the bride, Terry McKenna, a cousin of the groom, Mike Monahan, Scott Cook, the bride's cousin, Charles McVey, the groom's brother-in-law, Tom Dickerson and Bob Burns were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Baumann selected a blue chiffon sleeveless gown with an Empire bodice accented with a jewel beaded design and a chignon capelet.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Chudd was attired in a peach polyester knit jersey sleeveless dress fashioned with a high banded keyhole neckline and an Empire bodice complemented with a peach chiffon cape, delicately printed with a green and peach orchid floral design. Both mothers carried white orchid corsages on their purses.

The flower girl, Rachelle Skaskiewicz, a cousin of the bride, was also dressed in a blue voile frock and she carried a wicker basket of white daisies.

Corey McVey, a nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer.

Presiding over the guest book were Mrs. William Lehn and Miss Vicki Cook, an aunt and cousin of the bride. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Charles McVey, a sister of the groom, and Mrs. Don Skaskiewicz, the bride's aunt.

Out of town guests included relatives and friends from Chicago, Michigan, Mississippi, Iowa and Missouri, and John Tempo, Granite City and Mrs. Gregory Baumann, of Remus, Mich., grandfather and grandmother of the bride, also Mrs. Walter Chudd and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bednarz, all of Chicago, the groom's grandparents.

The newlyweds are residing in Mount Prospect, Ill., after a wedding trip to Tan-Tan-A Resort in Missouri. An employee of IBM Co., the bride graduated from Eastern Illinois University with a B.S. degree in math.

The groom also graduated from EIU with a B.S. degree in physical education and is working for Addressograph Multigraph Corp.

Bride's mother is wedding VIP

The mother of the bride is probably the most important person behind the scenes during any wedding. She is her daughter's right hand in all phases of preparation, planning, dreaming and consoling. It's a good idea, though, for mothers to check up on their behavior a bit before the wedding rush begins, or the right hand might turn out to be all thumbs.

Before the wedding, it is her responsibility to help her daughter compile the guest list, arrange the ceremony and the reception details, keep track of the incoming gifts and keep the groom's family informed of all plans.

The bride's mother should also be on hand to help her daughter select her wedding dress and plan her trousseau. Just remember if you're the mother of the bride that you're there to support and offer advice when requested. It's your daughter's big day that's coming up, so let her keep it as close to her dream as possible.

You'll be needing to do some preparation of your own to look your best for the wedding festivities (and pictures). Consult with the groom's mother and agree upon the style of dress you wish to wear.

Those excelling in the pinocle games and winning prizes were Mesdames Margaret Barr, Melba Morris, Darlene Lakin, Rhonda Hunter, Norma Milner and Barbara Brandt.

Mrs. Melba Morris of Florissant, Mo., was a guest replacing Mrs. Diane Signall of Granite City, who became the mother of a little girl on Aug. 8, at St. John's Mercy Hospital, St. Louis, and was unable to attend.

Others present were Mesdames Martha Ropac, Delene Diak, Jeannette Steffanoff, Sherry Black, Bea Horn, and Ginger Hayes.

Mrs. Lakin will host the September meeting.

52 children attend camp begun by late Dr. Troyer

Continuing the youth camping program started by the late Dr. Raymond E. Troyer of Granite City more than five years ago, a total of 52 Quad-City area youngsters returned this weekend from Camp Woodland Hills, near St. Clair, Mo.

The summer camp for children, most of whom live in public housing projects here, is arranged through the National Youth Development Foundation, Inc. of Bridgeton, Mo., of which Dr. Troyer was vice chairman.

In past years, Dr. Troyer single-handedly raised funds to enable the youngsters to attend the camp.

The retired Southern Illinois

University professor of psychology had started the 1978 camping trip in motion prior to suffering a fatal heart attack at Camp Manitou, Dowagiac, Mich., on June 25.

Since then, the Coordinated Youth Services staff has provided the necessary follow up and secured sufficient funds to enable this summer's camping trip to continue.

Providing donations for the 1978 camp were Dave Morgan, executive director of Granite City Housing Authority.

Edward W. Foley Sr., executive director of the Madison County Housing Authority, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, Granite City Rotary Club, Granite City Jaycees and the Granite City Lions Club.

Twenty-two youngsters from Lee Wright, Garenche, Viola Jones and Greaser homes in Madison and Venice, and 30 children from Kirkpatrick Homes, Pontoon Beach and rural Granite City attended the camp.

Escorting the campers, who were between the ages of 8 and 13, were CYS staffers Alice Wisner, Darlene Leonard, Joe Ybarra and David Lehne.

DR. BUCK BEGINS DUTIES AT SIUE

Dr. James R. Buck has officially arrived on the SIUE campus to serve as executive assistant to the president.

Dr. Buck, coming here from Black Hawk College, will assume two of the major responsibilities at SIUE—management of the Office of the President and line and staff responsibility for university relations.

PIGGY-BACK RACE including Lioness Club members and friends and children produced some grins and grunts as the women crawl hurriedly on hands and knees to the finish line. From left, are Rosemary McIntosh and daughter Amy, her sister-in-law Donna McIntosh and her son Robbie and Diane Miller, riding Jeremy Wells. The three-club picnic of the Pontoon Beach Lions, Lionesses and Leos was at Kings Lake, Mount Olive, Ill., last weekend.

Dairy Queen window broken by brick

A red brick was found on the sidewalk in front of a six foot plate glass window, which was broken, at the Dairy Queen Ice Cream Store, 666 McCarbidge Ave., it was reported last week by Richard Frazer.

He said the glass had a burglar alarm tape on it and the window apparently was broken at 11:35 on Thursday while the employees were cleaning up.

Steel trade imbalance 2nd only to the petroleum deficit

Terming a two-month dip in steel mill product imports a "positive sign," Lewis W. Foy, chairman of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says, "I hope it means the government's trigger price program is beginning to halt the dumping of steel in this country."

But Foy, who also is chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corp., the nation's second largest steel company, noted that even the lower June level of imports if continued for the remainder of the year would approach the 19.3 million tons of 1977 which precipitated the steel crisis of last year.

Latest Commerce Department data show that June steel mill product imports declined to 1,359,820 tons from May's 1.5 million tons. The six-month steel import total, however, was 10,791,585 tons, compared to approximately eight million tons in the first half of 1977. Steel import tonnage for the first half of 1978 was an all-time first half record.

Foy asserted that "every American should be acutely concerned over the United States trade deficit — a deficit which narrowed in June for general merchandise but which continued to widen in steel."

"The steel trade deficit was $4.5 billion in 1977," he pointed out. "It has reached more than $2.7 billion in the first half of this year in spite of a depreciating dollar."

"According to the Commerce Department, last year the steel trade deficit was second only to petroleum as the leading deficit item in the U.S. balance of trade."

In the first six months of this year, according to government data, the declared value of steel imports was $3.35 billion, an increase of 42.9 percent from $2.34 billion in the 1977 first half.

The value of steel mill product exports in the first six months of 1978 was $611 million. It was $545 million in the same period last year.

In June, the declared value of steel mill product imports was $498.3 million, compared to $496.3 million in May.

Sand farm field day

By RON CORNWELL
County Farming Adviser

The fall field day on the University of Illinois Sand Farm at Kibbourn in Mason County is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 31.

The program will begin at 5 p.m., with a pork barbecue served by the Mason County Pork Producers. Tour of the research field will begin at 6 p.m.

Topics to be covered on the tour include irrigation systems, sludge as a fertilizer, fertilization of pumpkins, weed control in asparagus, sweet corn, pumpkins and soybeans, varieties of melons, and sweet corn variety tolerance to MDN.

BROWNSTOWN FIELD DAY
Madison County farmers may be interested in attending the Brownstown Field Day scheduled for Friday, Sept. 8. Tours will start going out at 8:30 a.m., with each tour lasting about 2½ hours. The last wagon tour will leave at 10 a.m.

The Brownstown Research Center is located 10 miles southeast of Vandalia on Route 185.

Topics on this year's program include corn herbicides, soybean herbicides, soil fertility, wheat varieties, soybean varieties, and insects and diseases.

A student field day will be held on Thursday, Sept. 7, at the Brownstown field.

WHITE SNAKEROOT

During August and early September is the time White

Snake root can be a problem in wooded pastures in Madison County.

White Snake root is the most common plant poisonous to livestock in Madison County. Snake root thrives in shaded areas.

Cattle and other livestock usually will not eat Snake root or other woody plants unless there is little other vegetation available.

If your livestock have access to a wooded pasture, check the area for White Snake root. Cattle, sheep and horses can be affected. Snake root seems to be a greater problem with horses than either cattle or sheep.

White Snake root is an erect, branched, fibrous, rooted perennial plant that ranges from one to five feet tall.

The plant has white flowers that appear in August. Leaves of the plant have three prominent veins originating from the base.

The best control is to eliminate the brush from the pasture and return the pasture to a sunny, open area. If that is not possible, then weed killers can be used.

A heavy application of 2-4-D in the spring when this weed is six to eight inches tall will eliminate the top growth as well as much of the root system.

Occasionally, some regrowth will require treatment later in the season. Treatment in the late summer after the white blossoms appear will be less effective than early spring treatment.

Fort de Chartres activities

This weekend, the Fort de Chartres State Historic Site will present two movies and a flintlock rifle and musket shoot.

On Friday evening, two Colonial Williamsburg Foundation films will be shown free of charge. They are "Basketmaking in Colonial Williamsburg" and "Eighteenth Century Life in Colonial Williamsburg."

"Basketmaking" follows the work of Mr. and Mrs. Cody Cook of Williamsburg as they create several types of baskets. Each step in the making of a basket is shown, from the splitting of an oak log to the hand weaving of the finished product.

"Eighteenth Century Life in Colonial Williamsburg" depicts the day-to-day living conditions in a typical planter-burgess' home of the period.

The movies will begin at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

At 1 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 20, Les Coureurs de Bois du Fort de Chartres, this area's muzzle-loading gun club, will host a muzzle-loading flintlock shoot at the fort. All participants will be in 18th Century period clothing using flintlock rifles or muskets. The group will answer any questions about the clothing, the long guns, or 18th Century life in general.

BANQUET HONOREE. Christy Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis (Rita) Henderson, Granite City, receives a special welcome from Jim Hart of the St. Louis Football Cardinals who is chairman of the Multiple Sclerosis of the MS Readathon program at a banquet in Heritage House, St. Louis. Ten children, including Christy, and their parents were honored for completion of the Readathon program which raised more than $45,000 last year in the fight against multiple sclerosis. The St. Louis chapter expects to raise $100,000 in the Readathon this year.

There were 112,604 employees on the State of Illinois payrolls when the State ended its fiscal year on June 30, a slight increase over the previous year.

Final figures released Friday by Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis show that the Department of Corrections had the largest increase in staffing with 511 more employees than a year ago, and the Department of Mental Health had the sharpest decline with 1,102 fewer personnel than a year ago.

The statistics, based on payroll warrants issued to state employees, show the following:

112,604 employees in all state agencies in June, a decrease of 4,094, or 3.6 percent, as compared to May.

Exclusive of educational institutions, the June total was 77,921. This is an increase of 1,109, or 1.4 percent, from the May figure.

Changes by major groups were:

Constitutional officers and courts up 530, or 5.5 percent.

Code departments up 420, or 7 percent.

Major commissions up 65, or 1.6 percent.

Miscellaneous agencies up 94,

Payrolls for all agencies totaled $121,021,307, an increase of $3,639,877, or 3.1 percent, from May. Payroll for all agencies except educational institutions were $85,066,856, up $1,970,354, or 2.4 percent.

The number of employees in June 1978 was 2,159 more than in June 1977. Educational institutions increased by 2,240. All other agencies decreased by 81.

Total payroll costs for all state agencies increased by $5,827,441, or up 5.1 percent, from June 1977 to June 1978.

'Survival course' for area's young people

AID, Inc., of Collinsville is offering an "outward bound" experience for any young person who is interested. The outward bound event is a day-long survival course.

"The only requirement is that you wear loose-fitting clothes," a spokesman said, "that you don't mind getting dirty. The charge for the event is $2.50."

"To make a reservation, or to find out more information, call 345-5300 after 6 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, or Tuesday between 2 p.m. and 7 p.m."

"The outward bound experience will take place on Saturday, Sept. 2, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m."

Rites for father of GC residents

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 11, in South Gate, Calif., for Elbert Tipton, 61, of South Gate, father of Granite City residents.

Mr. Tipton died at 1 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 9, at a hospital in South Gate. He had been ill four years.

Born in Missouri, he resided in Granite City 25 years and moved to California 10 years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Viola Tipton; six daughters, Mrs. Wilma Fice and Mrs. Sue Clatts, both of Granite City, Mrs. Doris Price, Cudahy, Calif., Mrs. Shirley Hall, Washington Park, Mrs. Kathy Atkins, South Gate, and Mrs. Donna Chappelas of Salinas, Calif.; five sons, Kenneth, David, Dennis and Harold Tipton, all of South Gate, and Harold Tipton, Paramount, Calif.; 19 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Burial was in a cemetery in South Gate.

Jackie Smith night Friday is cancelled

A "Jackie Smith" appreciation night scheduled Friday at St. Mary's Parish Hall in Madison for the benefit of the Tommy Sparks Family Fund has been cancelled. It was announced Tuesday.

Jim Whaley, chairman of the event, said unforeseen circumstances made the cancellation necessary at this time and that a future date will be announced later.

Jackie Smith, retired player for the St. Louis Football Cardinals, was scheduled as the guest of honor at the program which was to have included a social hour, dinner and dancing.
